P S A L M S .

In the preparation of the following list of editions of the New England version of the Psalms, I am under special obligations to George H. Moore, LL.D., of the Lenox Library, J. Hammond Trumbull, LL.D., of Hartford, and the late Mr. John A. Lewis of Boston.

The |VVhole | Booke of Psalmes | Faithfully | Translated into English | Metre. | Whereunto is prefixed a discourse de-|claring not only the lawfullnes, but also | the necessity of the heavenly Ordinance | of singing Scripture Psalmes in | the Churches of | God. | Coll. III. | Let the word of God dwell plenteously in | you, in all wisdome, teaching and exhort-|ing one another in Psalmes, Himnes, and | spirituall Songs, singing to the Lord with | grace in your hearts. | James v. | If any be afflicted, let him pray, and if | any be merry let him sing psalmes. | Imprinted | 1640 | Sm. 8vo.

Collation: Title, surrounded by an ornamental type border, verso blank; "The Preface," 7 leaves, verso of last one blank; "The Psalmes In Metre," 139 leaves, ending below "Finis" with "An admonition to the Reader" in 18 lines; "Faults escaped in printing," 13 lines on one page, verso blank. Signatures *, , A-Ll in fours, making 148 leaves in all.

The first book printed in the British American colonies—preceded only by a broad-side sheet and Pierce's almanac—and the earliest specimen known to be extant of the typography of Stephen Day, the first printer at Cambridge in New England. It was called the "Bay Psalm Book" from Massachusetts Bay, and was afterwards known as the "New England Psalm Book." The work of translation from the original Hebrew was commenced in 1636, and was the joint production of "the chief divines in the country," including, perhaps, some contributions from Francis Quarles, the poet; but the chief care in its production was confided to the Rev. Thomas Welde, the Rev. John Eliot, and the Rev. Richard Mather, the latter of whom wrote the long preface, which closes with the following words: "Neither let any think, that for the meetre sake wee have taken liberty or poeticall licence to depart from the true and proper sence of Davids words in the hebrew verses, noe; but it hath benee one part of our religious care and faithfull indeavour, to keepe close to the originall text. ... wee have therefore done our indeavour to make a plaine and familiar translation of the psalmes and words of David into english metre, and have not soe much as presumed to paraphrase to give the sense of his meaning in other words; we have therefore attended heerin as our chief guide the originall, shüning all additions, except such as even the best translators of them in prose supply, avoiding all materiall detractions from words or sence. ... If therefore the verses are not always so smooth and elegant as some may desire or expect; let them consider that Gods Altar needs not our pollishings: Ex. 20. for wee have respected rather a plaine translation, then to smooth our verses with the sweetnes of any paraphrase, and soe have attended Conscience rather then Elegance, fidelity rather then poetry, in translating the hebrew words into english language, and Davids poetry into english meetre; that soe wee may sing in Sion the Lords songs of prayse according to his owne will; untill hee take us from hence, and wipe away all our teares, & bid us enter into our masters ioye to sing eternall Halleluiahs." "An admonition to the Reader," at the end of the volume, states that "The verses of these psalmes may be reduced to six kindes, the first wherof may be sung in very neere fourty common tunes; as they are collected, out of our chief musicians, by Tho. Ravenscroft."

The following portion of the 137th Psalm will serve as a specimen :

The rivers on of Babilon
there when wee did sit downe :
yea, even then wee mourned, when wee remembred Sion.

Our Harps wee did hang it amid,
upon the willow tree.

Because there they that us away
led in captivitee,

Requir'd of us a song, & thus Askt mirth : us waste who laid,
sing us among a Sions song,
unto us then they said.

The lords song sing can wee? being in strangers land Then let loose her skill my right hand, if I Ierusalem forget.

According to Thomas, the type used was Roman, of the size of small bodied English, entirely new. The punctuation is very bad, monosyllables being often divided at the ends of lines by hyphens, and polysyllables divided without them, and there are many typographical errors. For some unknown reason, the heading at the top of every left-hand page is printed "PSALM," while on every right-hand page it is spelled and spaced "P S A L M E." A few words in Hebrew letters, which appear in the preface, may have been cut for the occasion on wood or on metal, as they evidently do not belong to any regular font of Hebrew type. Nine copies of this remarkable book are known to be extant, five of which were at one time in the "New England Library" of the Rev. Thomas Prince. They are distributed as follows: (1) The Bodleian Library at Oxford, bequeathed with Bishop Tanner's books in 1735; (2) the Lenox Library, bought at the sale of the residue of Mr. Pickering's books at Sotheby's, Jan. 12th, 1855 (in lot 531); (3) the John Carter Brown Library, originally Richard Mather's copy, afterwards in the Prince Library, and sold at Dr. Shurtleff's sale in 1876, to C. Fiske Harris for $1,025; (4) Cornelius Vanderbilt of New York, from the Prince Library, and successively in the possession of Edward A. Crowninshield, Henry Stevens, and George Brinley, at whose sale, in 1879, it brought $1,200; (5) Mrs. George Livermore of Cambridge, Mass., from the Prince Library; (6) the American Antiquarian Society, at Worcester, lacking title-page and last leaf; (7 and 8) the Prince collection in the Boston Public Library, two copies, both slightly imperfect; (9) Harvard College Library, at Cambridge, Mass., lacking the first six and the last three leaves.

A Literal Reprint of the Bay Psalm Book Being the Earliest New England Version of the Psalms and the First Book Printed in America (Fifty Copies for Subscribers) Cambridge Printed for Charles B. Richardson New York 1862 8vo, pp. vii; Reprint of the Psalms, (148) leaves; List of Subscribers, pp. (2). A., B.

Edited by Dr. Nathaniel B. Shurtleff. Fifty copies printed on common paper for subscribers, fifteen copies on thick paper, five copies on India paper, and one copy on parchment.

"In the reproduction of this quaint volume every word, every letter, and indeed every point has been sedulously collated with a perfect impression of the original work struck at Cambridge in the year 1640. ... Indeed, so exact and faithful has the compositor been in following the original copy, that the bad spacing, omission of spaces, irregular justification, bad divisions, broken type, letters inverted, mixed lower-case letters with italics, and typographical errors, are strictly reproductions of the printers' errors of the olden time."—Preface.

Collation: Title, verso blank; "The Preface" in six leaves; the Psalms, pp. 1-274. Sig. A-M in twelves.

This is a mere reprint of the first edition, including the preface, and "An admonition to the Reader" on page 274. It is in smaller type, and much better printed than the edition of 1640, with some changes and corrections in the spelling and punctuation. It may have been printed at Cambridge, N. E., by Stephen Day—perhaps by Matthew Day—but some experts have supposed that it was really printed in England. Only two copies are known to be extant, one of which was sold at Mr. Brinley's sale, in 1879, for $435. See "Notes and Queries," 2nd Series, ix. 218-219; and "Historical Magazine," iv. 310; x. 18.

This is a new edition, revised and improved by the Rev. Henry Dunster, President of Harvard College, and Mr. Richard Lyon. It is the first to contain the Spiritual Songs, which were added by Mr. Lyon. The only copy I know of is in the unrivalled collection of Mr. C. H. Kalbfleisch of New York. It is in the original binding and in perfect condition. Thomas ("History of Printing") mentions a similar title, "crown 8vo, 308 pages," but puts it under the year 1650.

Collation: 7 prel. leaves, containing title, verso blank, The Preface in 5 pages, To the Godly Reader on 1 page, passages from the Old Testament versified on 1 page, and The Song of Moses, The Song of Deborah and Barak, The Song of Hannah, and Davids Elegie in 5 pages; The Book of Psalms, pp. 1-93; The Song of Songs which is Solomons, The Songs in the Prophet Isaiah, The Lamentations of Jeremiah, The Prayer of Jonah, A Prayer of Habakkuk, The Song of the blessed Virgin Mary, The Song of Zacharias, and Songs from Revelations, etc., pp. 94-106, ending on page 106 with "Finis." In double columns, with 60 lines in a full column. Sig. A-I in sixes, and K in five, not including the title-page.

Probably printed at Cambridge in England. The name of Hezekiah Usher, a prominent merchant and bookseller in Boston, appears in the imprints of several books from 1650 to 1664, and that of his son John Usher from 1669 to 1696 or later. The type used in this and the two following editions is a well shaped nonpareil letter, which does not appear in any work known to have been printed in this country at that time. Dr. J. H. Trumbull writes: "Mr. Usher went to England in the autumn of 1657, charged with matters of business for the Commissioners of the United Colonies. Not improbably, this edition of the Psalms was printed, or contracted for, when he was in London." Mr. Haven ("Ante-Revolutionary Catalogue," p. 8,) says: "It is possible that Mr. Usher ordered copies printed at Cambridge in England to be bound up with the small Bibles printed there and elsewhere for the New England market. Other copies with the same imprint, varying slightly in size, and with some changes in the spelling of words in the text are met with. ... Mr. Thomas's copy [of the following edition] was bound with a Bible printed at Cambridge, England, by Roger Daniel, 1648. The Psalms are similarly associated with Bibles printed in other places and of other dates." The only copy of this edition that I know of was sold at the Brinley sale for $90, and is now in the library of Brown University at Providence.

This edition also was probably printed in England. The copy described above is bound with a small Bible with the imprint: Printed By Roger Daniel, Printer to | The Universitie of | Cambridge | 1648. Another copy in the Lenox Library, which lacks all after page 94, but is otherwise in fine condition, was purchased at the sale of Mr. E. B. Corwin's books in New York in 1856 (No. 2445), and afterwards catalogued by Mr. Henry Stevens ("Nuggets," No. 2256) at £10 10s. The copy in the library of the American Antiquarian Society at Worcester lacks portions of pages 91-94, and all after, and has the last word in the imprint correctly spelled Boston. It contains the following manuscript note on a fly leaf: "N. B. This copy was originally bound up with a Bible printed in England, from which I took it. I suppose this was printed in 1665, and in this form to bind up with small Bibles printed in England for New England.—I. Thomas." Mr. Thomas, who supposed from the imprint that it was printed in this country, gives the following account of the book: "This was, I believe, the third edition of the New England Version of the Psalms after it had been revised and improved by president Dunster, &c., and the fifth, including all the former editions. I have a complete copy of this edition [with 100 pages], but the name of the printer, and the year in which it was printed, are not mentioned. It is calculated by being printed in a small page, with a very small type, to bind up with English editions of the pocket Bible; and, as the printing is executed by a good workman, and is the best that I have seen from the Cambridge press, I conclude, therefore, it could not be printed by Green before the arrival of Marmaduke Johnson in 1660; I have no doubt it was printed under Johnson's care; and, probably, soon after the Indian Bible came from the press in 1663. ... Although in this edition the typography far exceeds in neatness any other work then printed in the country, it is very incorrect; but this might have been more the fault of the corrector of the press, than of the printer. My belief that it was published about the year 1664, or 1665, is confirmed by its being printed for Hezekiah Usher, the only bookseller that I can find an account of at that time in New England. ... It is a curious fact, that nonpareil types were used so early in this country; I have not seen them in any other book printed either at Cambridge, or Boston, before the revolution; even brevier types had been but seldom used in the printing houses in Boston, earlier than 1760. The nonpareil used for the Psalms was new, and a very handsome faced letter."—History of Printing, second edition, i. 69.

I am indebted to the late Mr. John A. Lewis, of Boston, for the following account of this edition: "The work here described is bound with Canne's Bible, which Bible is without place or printer's name, but is dated 1682. Of Canne's Bible, Timperley (page 531) says: 'an edition was on sale in England at the commencement of the nineteenth [eighteenth?] century dated 1682, with a London title, though printed at Amsterdam.' The Psalm Book is an exceedingly fine piece of work, and was (as it appears to me) bound up originally with the Bible. I call the type nonpareil, and am tolerably certain the work was not printed at Cambridge in New-England, and doubtful if it was printed at Cambridge in Old England. It may have been printed in Holland." Loftie ("Century of Bibles," No. 374) says of Canne's Bible: "(No place or printer's name.) 1682. 12mo. With Canne's notes. Probably printed in Holland, but sometimes attributed to the Edinburgh press. Very incorrect," etc.

Sig. A-R in twelves, and S in eleven.

The "tunes" are cut on wood. At the end of this copy is bound a sort of appendix, lacking the first leaf, and containing from the middle of the ninth verse to the end of the twenty-first verse of another metrical version of the twenty-sixth chapter of Isaiah, First Meeter, pp. 3-5; Isaiah xxvi., Second Meeter Usual, pp. 6-9; The Doxology, of the Angels, In Luke ii. 14, p. 10. Concerning this appendix, I have received the following note from Dr. Moore of the Lenox Library:

"I have found notices of two editions of the Bay Psalm Book not included in your list. Cotton Mather has left the record in his own hand that on the '2d 3m [1699] There is printing a New Edition of the Psalm Book. In every former edition that excellent portion of Scripture, the 26th chapter of Isaiah was in such a metre, that few of our Churches could sing. Whereupon I this day, took a few minutes to turn it into another metre, with perhaps a smoother and sweeter version.' So 'tis published in the psalm book and tho this were but a small action, yett I felt a Great Comfort when I thought, that the praises of God would bee the more sung, throughout this Wilderness, for any of my poor Endeavours.' I have not met with this edition, but in the Lenox copy of the Boston edition of 1706, which you have described, pp. 360-369 contain an 'Appendix. Some Essays to fit that Excellent portion of Prophetick Scripture, in the Twenty-sixth Chapter of Isaiah, unto the Tunes more commonly used in our Psalmody.' Two versions are given of the chapter, one the 'First Meeter. 8 & 8,' the other 'Second Meeter, Usual.' These are followed by 'A Specimen taken out of a New Version of the Psalms of David, Composed by Nich. Brady, and Nahum Tate'—being the Psalms LXXXII. and CXXXVII. An advertisement in Clough's Almanac for 1706 states that 'There is now in Press and may speedily be published a New Edition of the New England Psalm Book: Printed with a New Fair Character, and on good fine Paper: with a New Sett of most Common Tunes more free from Errors than heretofore.' [The second edition of Boone's Military Discipline is mentioned also, and] 'These two Printed for and Sold by Benjamin Eliot at his Shop under the West End of the Town-House in Boston, and Nicholas Boone at his Shop near School House Lane.”

The Psalm Book last referred to is probably the same as the following edition with a different imprint :

The | Psalms | Hymns, | and | Spiritual Songs, | of the | Old and New-Testament : Faith-| fully Translated into | English Meeter. | For the Use, Edification and Comfort | of the Saints in Publick and Private, | especially in New-England. | ... | The Thirteenth Edition. | *Boston : Printed by B. The portions contributed by Cotton Mather in 1699 were reprinted in the later Boston editions, in some of which all the "songs" were placed after the Psalms. The London editions are in double columns, in a very small type, and generally without the "Preface." After 1762, this version was superseded by "The New-England Psalter," and Brady and Tate's "New Version of the Psalms."

Prepared by Mr. Francis Hopkinson. The type for the music notes was obtained from Daniel Crommelin of Amsterdam in Holland, and 2,000 copies of the book were printed; but it is now very rare. The prefatory note states that: "The Consistory of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church of the City of New-York, having, by Reason of the Declension of the Dutch Language, found it necessary to have Divine Service performed in their Church in English; Have adopted the following Version of the Psalms of David, which is greatly indebted to that of Dr. Brady and Mr. Tate; Some of the Psalms being transcribed from their Version, and others altered, so as to fit them to the Music used in the Dutch Churches.

"The Catechism, or Method of Instruction in the Christian Religion, as it is taught in the Schools and Churches of Holland, together with the Articles of Faith, Liturgy, &c., are translated from the Dutch; and having been carefully examined, are with the Psalms, approved of by the Consistory, and by them recommended for the Use of their Church and Schools. By Order of the Consistory, Joannes Ritzema, v.d.m. p.t. Præf. City of New York, November 9th, 1767."

Psalterium Americanum. See [Mather (C.)], Vol. xi. 46471.

Psalterium, Hebræum, Græcū, Arabicū, & Chaldeū, cū tribus latinis interpretatōibus & glossis. [3 lines in Hebrew, 3 lines in Greek, 3 lines in Arabic, and 3 lines in Chaldee. Colophon:] Impressit miro ingenio, Petrus Paulus Porrus, genuæ in ædibus Nicolai Iustini Pauli, præsidente reipub. genuensi pro Serenissimo Francorū Rege, præstanti viro Octaviano Fulgoso, anno christiane salutis, millesimo quingentesimo sexdecimo mense. VIIIIBri. [1516.] Folio, (200) leaves (A in ten, B-Z and & in eights, C in six). A.

The title is surrounded by an elaborately engraved border, and followed on verso by an epistle, "Venerando in Christo, F. Augustino Iustiniano," from "Iacobus Antiquarius" of Milan, dated "Mediolani. viii. Kalē. Aprilis. M. D. VI.," suggesting the plan of the work. The preface, addressed to Pope Leo x., in Latin, Greek, Hebrew, Arabic and Chaldee, fills five pages (Aii recto to Aiiii recto), and is dated at Genoa, "Cal. Aug.," 1516. The Psalms commence on the verso of Aiiii and recto of Av, and are arranged in eight columns as follows: 1, Hebrew; 2, a Latin translation of the same; 3, the Latin vulgate; 4, Greek; 5, Arabic; 6, the Chaldee paraphrase; 7, a Latin translation of the same; 8, the Scholia. The colophon, in six languages, is on the verso of C5 and recto of C6, and is followed by the printer's mark, underneath which is: "Petrus Paulus Porrus Mediolanensis, Taurini degens." The verso of C6 is blank.

Said to be the earliest polyglot of the Scriptures in which each language was printed in its proper characters. It was edited and published at the expense of Agostino Giustiniani, Bishop of Nebbio, who labored for ten years on the work. Two thousand copies were printed, of which fifty were on vellum. The volume has a special interest for the American scholar and collector on account of what is supposed to be the earliest printed biography of Columbus, which is given in the scholia on Psalm xix. 4, commencing on the recto of C7 and ending on the recto of D1. It begins: "Et in fines mundi verba eorum, Saltem tēporibus nostris q̄b̄ mirabili ausu Christophori columbi genuensis, alter pene orbis repertus est christianorumq; cetui aggregatus," etc. In this sketch of the life and voyages of his fellow-townsmen, Bishop Giustiniani gives an interesting account of the discovery of the new world, and states some facts not mentioned elsewhere. The text, with a translation, is printed in HARRISSE'S "Notes on Columbus," and a translation will also be found in the "Christian Examiner" for September, 1858, and in the "Historical Magazine," vi. 361-3. See also HARRISSE, "Bib. Am. Vet.," No. 88.

PTOLEMY'S GEOGRAPHY.

In the preparation of the following list of editions of Ptolemy's Geography, I am under special obligations to George H. Moore, LL.D., superintendent of the Lenox Library; Mr. G. C. Huribut, librarian of the American Geographical Society; Mr. William Kelby, of the New York Historical Society; the officers of the Astor Library; Gen. Rush C. Hawkins, Mr. Charles H. Kalbfleisch, and Mr. S. L. M. Barlow, of New York; Mr. James C. Pilling, of the Bureau of Ethnology, Washington, D. C.; Henry A. Homes, LL.D., librarian of the New York State Library; Mr. Justin Winsor, librarian of Harvard University; and Mr. John Nicholas Brown, of Providence.

PTOLEMY (C.) [Cosmographia. Translated by Jacobus Angelus of Scarparia, and edited by Angelus Vadius and Barnabas Picardus of Vicenza. Colophon:] En tibi lector Cosmographia Ptolemæi ab Hermanno leuilapide Coloniensi Vicenciæ accuratissime

impresa. Benedicto Triuisano: & Angelo Micha-|ele præsibus. |
M. CCCC. LXXV. Idi. Sept. | Sm. folio. BM., J.C.B., C., L. 66469

Collation: 143 leaves, the first of which is blank (sig. aa in ten, bb in eight, a2 in ten, b2 in seven, c-g in eights, h in ten, A-F in eights, and G in ten). Sig. aa1 is a blank leaf. The dedication, "Beatissimo Patri Alexandro | Qvinto Pont. Max. Angelvs," begins on the recto of sig. aaz, and ends on the verso. The text (with 39 lines in a full page) begins on the recto of sig. aa3 with the table of chapters, and ends on the verso of G10 with the brief epistle of the editors and the colophon.

The first edition. Hain, Hoffmann, Brunet, Graesse, and some other bibliographers, mention 143 printed leaves or 144 in all. This I believe to be an error, as the apparent omission or loss of a leaf between signatures a and b occurs in all the copies that I know of, and is not an imperfection. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $26. Priced by Leclerc, 1878, 150 francs; Henry Stevens & Son, 1885, £10 10s. The above translation of Ptolemy's Geography was made from the original Greek, and dedicated to Pope Alexander v. about the year 1409. For more than a century after it was first printed, and during the most important period of maritime discovery, the work was considered to be the highest authority on the subject of geography in general; and it was frequently augmented by supplementary maps and descriptive text, illustrating the progress of the science and the gradual discovery of the American shores. This edition, and several of the following, are included in order to make the list more complete. For the purpose of comparison they are all entitled to a place in an American library.

PTOLEMY. [Cosmographia. Translated by Jacobus Angelus, and edited, with the emendations of Georgius Gemistus, by Domitius Calderinus of Verona. Colophon:] Numero Matematico | inexplicabile ferme ter | re astrorumque opus | Claudii Ptolemaei Alex- | drini Philosophi Geograph | iam Arnoldus Buckinck e | Germania Rome tabulis ae | neis in picturis formatam | impressit. | Sempiterno ingenii artifi | cique monumento. Anno | Domini natalis. M. CCCC. | LXXVIII. VI. Idus Octobris. | Sedente Sixto. IIII. Pont. | Max. Anno eius. VIII. | Folio. BM., J.C.B., 66470

Collation: 124 leaves, one of which is blank—comprising the dedication and text in 69 leaves, followed by one blank leaf (the first gathering in eight, the second in ten, the third in eight, the fourth in ten, the fifth, sixth and seventh in eights, and the eighth in ten); and 27 maps on 54 leaves. Without signature marks or catchwords.

The prefatory dedication to Pope Sixtus iv., with the heading "Clavdii Ptolemei Alexandrini Philosophi Cosmographia," fills the verso of the first leaf, recto blank. The text in double columns, with 50 lines in a full column, begins on the recto of the second leaf, and ends on the verso of the sixty-ninth leaf with the colophon and register. The 27 double-page copperplate maps, sometimes colored, comprise: the general map of the world according to Ptolemy; Prima Evrope Tabvla (Ibernia Britannica Insula and Albion Insula Britannica); Secvnda Evrope Tabvla (Ispania Tarraconensis, Lusitania Ispania, Ispania Betica); Tertia Evrope Tabvla (Belgica Galliae, Lvgdvnensis Gallie, Aquitania Galliae, and Narbonensis Galliae); Qvarta Evrope Tabvla (Magna Germania); Qvinta Evrope Tabvla (Retia, Vindelicia, Noricum, Pannonia and Dalmatia); Sexta Evrope Tabvla (Italia); Septima Evrope Tabvla (Sardinia Insula and Sicilia Insula); Octava Evrope Tabvla (Sarmatia Evropa); Nona Evrope Tabvla (Iazyges Metanaste, Dacia, Mysia, and Tracia); Decima et vltima Evrope Tabvla (Macedonia, Epirus, Achaia, and Peloponnesus); Prima Africae Tabvla (Mauritania Tingitana, Mauritania Caesariensis); Secvnda Africae Tabvla (Africa Minor, Numidia); Tertia Africae Tabvla (Cyrenes, Marmarica, Libyae et tota Aegyptus); Qvarta Africae Tabvla (Libya Interior, Aethiopia sub Aegypto, and Aethiopia Interior); Prima Asiae Tabvla (Pontus

This remarkable edition contains the first printed atlas, and the first collection of maps engraved on copper. It may also claim the honor of containing the earliest known specimens of copperplate engraving for books, although that distinction has been often awarded to Antonio Bettini's "Monte sancto di Dio," printed at Florence in 1477, which is indeed the earliest with a date. The maps are the finest that appeared in any of the early editions: They were commenced about the year 1472 by Conrad Sweynheym, the first printer in Rome, who spent nearly three years in supervising the engraving. The work was not completed and published, however, until 1478, several years after his death. The preface gives the following account of the origin and progress of the edition: "Qua in re ne librorum inscitia tue Sanctitatis aures offenderet. Domitius Calderinus Veronensis cui huius emendationis provincia demadata fuerat eam curam suscepit afferens cum vetustissimo greco manu genisti Philosophi emendato latinis codices se collocaturum Magister vero Conradus Sueynheym Germanus a quo formandorum litterarum ars primu profecta est. Occasione hinc sumpta posteritati consulens animum primum ad hanc doctrinam capescendam applicuit. Subinde mathematicis adhibitis viris quemadmodum tabulis eneis imprimerentur edocuit. triennioque in hac cura consumpto [sic] diem obiit. In cuius uigiliarum laborumque partem non inferiori ingenio ac studio Arnoldus Buckinck e Germania uir apprime eruditus ad imperfectum opus succedens ne Domitii Conradique obitu eorum uigilie emendationesque sine testimonio perirent neque uirorum eruditorum censuram fugerent immense subtilitatis machinamenta examussim ad unum perfecit," etc. The maps, originally designed by Agathodæmon of Alexandria in the fifth century or earlier, were copied from the Greek manuscript of Ptolemy preserved at Vienna, with the addition of some names from the text, and a Latin translation of the Greek inscriptions. They are each in two plates, printed (with one exception) on leaves of separate sheets, which are placed face to face in pairs, and arranged in six gatherings of four sheets each, and one of three sheets at the end, comprising 54 leaves in all. The inscriptions were not engraved, but were made with a punch and mallet. A specimen facsimile is given in Dibdin's "Bibliotheca Spenceriana," iv. 538. They were reprinted, from the same plates, in the Roman editions of 1490 and 1507-8. The "Registrum foliorum huius libri," printed on the final page, fails to mention one of the sheets in the last gathering beginning with the word diem, which may account for the error of Laire ("Specimen Typographiae Romanae," p. 241) in stating that the volume is complete in 68 folios. From the title given by Graesse it would seem that in some copies the word picturis in the eighth line of the colophon was spelled picturis. It is one of the rarest and most valuable of all the editions. Mr. Perkins's copy sold in 1873 for £80. Priced by Quaritch, 1879, £80; Ellis, 1884, £110.

Collation: 114 leaves, two of which are blank—comprising the dedication and text in 59 leaves, preceded by a blank leaf (sig. A in ten, B-C in eights, D in four, a in ten, b in eight, c and E in sixes); the tables on one leaf, followed by a blank leaf; and 26 maps on 52 leaves.

The dedication, "Beatissimo Patri Alexan|dro Qvinto Pont. Max. An|gelvs," begins on the recto of the second leaf (marked A), and is followed on the recto of the third leaf (marked Ai) by the text in double columns, with 57 lines in a full column, which ends on the recto of sig. E6 with the colophon, register, and "Epistola & tabula Textus & figurati," verso blank. The "Tabulas Cosmographiae secundum dimensiones Ptolemei" fills the recto of the next leaf, and the list of maps entitled "Tabvlae Pictvrae sev Figvratv et Sitvs infra Scriptorvm V3 Sitvs" fills the verso, ending with "Finis." The following leaf is blank. In some copies these two leaves were placed after the maps. The first leaf of the first signature is blank, and the second, third, fourth, and fifth leaves are marked respectively A, Ai, A3, and A4; and the first two leaves of the second signature are both marked Bz. The 26 double-page copperplate maps, sometimes colored, are mostly numbered on the upper margins, and according to the printed list, which precedes them, comprise: Mappamvndi Tabvla 1. car. 2. (marked Tabvla 24); Indiae extra gangem, Sinarum, ta. 25. car. 50. (marked Tabvla 25); Taprobanae, ta. 26. car. 52. (marked Tabvla 26). Bernhart (cited by Hoffmann, "Lexicon Bibliographicum") describes a copy in which the first three of the African maps were differently arranged and numbered. The paper on which the text was printed has three different water-marks: a horseshoe, a sort of three-fingered hand with a rod bearing a cross, and what was perhaps intended for a flower. The paper of the maps is much thicker and stronger, and has the water-mark of a crown. The twenty-six maps were very rudely engraved on copper or some other soft metal, and differ considerably in style from those in the edition of 1478, but are arranged nearly in the same order, and may be classed with them among the earliest examples of the art of engraving. A specimen facsimile is given in Dibdin's "Bibliotheca Spenceriana," ii. 300. They also contain figures of ships, which do not appear on those in the 1478 edition. According to Heineken ("Idée Générale d'une Collection d'Estampes," pp. 145-6) the zigzag lines representing the water were similar to those made by silversmiths on their wares, showing that they must have been the work of some such artist. In the prefatory note to the maps, the editor refers to "mirifica imprimendi tales tabulas ratio," and characterises the discovery of the art of engraving as not less praiseworthy than that of printing.

The date of 1462 is certainly an error, as printing was not introduced in Bologna until 1471; besides, no specimens of the typography of Dominicus De Lapis are known dated earlier than 1476 nor later than 1482. According to Audiffredi ("Specimen Hist.-Crit. Edit. Ital.," pp. 13, 35) the same type, evidently new, appears in Galeottus Martius "Refutatio Obiectorum in librum de Homine," and in Benedictus de Nursia "Opus ad sanitatis cōservationem," printed by De Lapis at Bologna in 1476 and 1477 respectively; and a comparison of these two works with the Ptolemy proves that the latter must have been printed several years later, as the type used in it is somewhat worn and damaged, while a number of improvements are evident in the use of initial letters, signatures and register, and also in the presswork. Moreover, Philippus Beroaldus, the editor of the work, was not born until 1453; and probably the first book edited by him, "Lvtii Flori Gestorum Romanorum epitoma," was printed at Parma about 1473, during his residence in that city. He was certainly at Bologna in 1482, and remained there until his death in 1505. From these facts it would seem probable that the book was printed about the year 1482; and this opinion was adopted by Raidelius, Meerman, Heineken, Audiffredi, Panzer, Dibdin, Hoffmann, Hain, and others, and has been followed by most modern bibliographers. The error has been explained by supposing that the letters "xx" may have dropped out accidentally, or been misplaced in the line below. Bernhart (in Aretin, "Beyträge,") suggested the year 1480, which is also worthy of consideration. De Bure ("Bibliographie Instructive," No. 4192) and Gamba ("Osservazioni"), relying mainly on the appearance of the typography and the engraving of the maps, proposed the year 1472 as the true date. Breitkopf ("Ueber den Druck der geograph. Charten," p. 6) supposed that an "1" might have been put in by mistake instead of an "L," and that the date was intended to read M.CCCC.LXLI, i. e. 1491. The uncertainty of the date, and the fact that the maps were among the earliest printed—being the first of the kind produced at Bologna—have together rendered this volume famous; and it is now the rarest of all the editions. See Gamba, "Osservazioni su la edizione della Geografia di Tolomeo fatta in Bologna colla data del M.CCCC.LXII," Bassano, 1796; Bernhart, "Beyträge zur nähern Bestimmung des Druckjahres von der Kosmographie des Ptolemäus mit der Jahrzahl 1462, nebst Untersuchungen über die ersten in Metall gestochenen Landkarten," in Aretin's "Beyträge zur Geschichte und Litteratur," v. 497 ff., 609 ff.; Hoffmann "Lexicon Bibliographicum," III. 491-3; Dibdin, "Bibliotheca Spenceriana," II. 293-300.

PTOLEMY. [Cosmographia. Translated by Jacobus Angelus, and edited by Nicolaus Donis. Colophon:] *Clavdii Ptolomei viri Alexandrini Cosmographie | octavus et vltimus liber | explicit | Opus Doni Nicolai Germani secundum Ptolomeum | fnit. | Anno M CCCC-LXXXII. Avgvsti vero Kalendas. Collation: 133 leaves—comprising the dedication and text in 69 leaves (sig. a in ten, b-g in eights, and h in eleven); and 32 maps on 64 leaves.

The dedication, "Beatissimo Patri Pavlo Sc|cvndo Pontifici Maximo. | Donis Nicolavs Germanvs," containing a large ornamental woodcut of the letter N, representing the presentation of the book to the pope, begins on the recto of the first leaf, and is followed on the verso of the second leaf by the text in double columns, with 44 lines in a full column, which ends on the verso of the sixty-ninth leaf with "Hinc sequatur tabvlæ." The 32 double-page woodcut maps, sometimes colored, are on separate sheets, each with a page or two of descriptive text printed on the back within ornamental woodcut borders, and arranged in the following order: a map of the world according to Ptolemy; Prima Evrope Tabvla (Hibernia, and Albion Insula Britannica); Secvnda Evrope Tabvla (Hispania); a modern map of Hispania; Tercia Evrope tabula (Gallia); a modern map of Frantia; Qvarta Evrope tabula (Magna Germania); a modern map of Engronelant, norbegia, suetiaque et guttia occidentalis; Qvinta Evrope Tabula (Recia, Vindelitia, Noricvm, Pannonia Inferior, and Dalmatia); Sexta Evrope Tabvla (Italia); a modern map of Italia; Septima Evrope tabula (Sardinia and Sicilia); Octava Evrope tabula (Sarmatia Evrope); Nona Evrope Tabula (Iasyes Metanaste, Datia, Tratia, and Misia Inferior); Decima Evrope tabula (Macedonia, Epirus, Achaia, and Peloponesus); Prima Libie Tabvla (Mawritania); Secvnda Affrice tabula (Affrica Minor); Tercia Affrice tabula (Cirenaica Regio, Marmarica, Libia et tota Egipt); Qvarta et vltima affrice tabula (Libia Interior, Etiopia sub Egipto, and Etiopia Interior); Prima Asie Tabula (Asia Minor, etc.); Secvnda Asie Tabula (Sarmatica Asiatica); Tercia Asie Tabula (Colcbis, Iberia, Albania and Armenia Maior); Qvarta Asie Tabula (Siria, Mesopotamia, Babilonia, Arabia Deserta, Heremus Arabia, etc.); a modern map of the Holy Land with the tribal divisions; Qvinta Asie Tabula (Assiria, Susiana, Media, Persidis, Hircania, and Partbia); Sexta Asie Tabula (Arabia Felix); Septima Asie tabula (Scitbia intra Imavm Mon., Bactriana, Sogdiana, and Sacba Regio); Octava Asie Tabula (Scitbia extra Imavm, and Serica Regio); Nona Asie Tabula (Aria, Paropamisus, Drangiana, Aracbosia, and Gedrosia); Decima Asie Tabula (India intra Gangem); Vndecima Asie tabula (India extra Gangem, and Sina Regio); and Dvodecima et vltima Asie tabula (Taprobana Insul.). The last map fills but one page, and the following leaf contains on the recto two columns of text printed from booktype, and ends on the verso, in the second column, with the colophon. The map of the world is inscribed at the top Insculptum est per Jobannẽ. Schnitzer de Armszbeim. These maps were redrawn, corrected and improved, some time between 1464 and 1471, by Nicolaus Donis, a Benedictine monk of the convent of Reichenbach in Bavaria, who dedicated the work to Pope Paul II. He also added the five modern maps, one of which contains the first printed representation of Greenland, laid down as a peninsula of northern Europe under the name of Engronelant. South of this the same name is also given to a province or country adjoining norbegia. The copy described above is in the Lenox Library.

Bernhart (in Aretin, "Beyträge," v. 531) as cited by Hoffmann, describes in detail two varieties of this edition, in one of which the recto of the colophon leaf was printed from a woodcut block with the last map, while in the other the same page was printed from movable types. The pages of descriptive text on the backs of the maps also differed in style and arrangement, and the ornamental woodcut borders surrounding them were of a different pattern. In other respects, however, the two impressions were alike, even to the typographical error Imprssvm in the colophon. According to Panzer, Brunet and Van Praet, an index and a brief treatise, both written by Donis, were afterwards added to some copies. The index in 29 leaves was prefixed to the volume, beginning on the verso of the first leaf, recto blank, with "Nota ad inveniendum igitur regiones," and followed on the recto of the second leaf by "Registrvm Alphabeticvm|svper octo libros Ptolomei incipit feliciter," which ends on the recto of the twenty-ninth leaf, verso blank. The treatise in 17 leaves was placed after the maps, beginning on the verso of the first leaf, recto blank, with "Incipit Registrvm," and followed on the recto of the second leaf by "De locis ac mirabilibus mvn|di: et primo de tribvs orbis|partibvs," which ends on the seventeenth leaf. These 46 leaves were printed in double columns and in smaller type, with 56 or 57 lines in a full column, and do not belong to the edition of 1486, as suggested by Graesse, Hoffmann, and others, but differ considerably in typography from those in that edition. At least a dozen copies are known printed on vellum, one of which—that in the Rhediger library at Breslau—omits the name of the engraver from the top of the first map, and also the names of the place and printer in the colophon, which ends with "Kalendas. xvii." Below this a former owner had written with a pen the word Romæ, which gave rise to the erroneous belief in a Roman edition of 1482, which is discussed by Audiffredi in his "Specimen Hist.-Crit. Edit. Ital.," pp. 252-4. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $85, and a set of the maps only, printed on vellum, was priced by Mr. Quaritch in 1885 at £35. See also Hoffmann, "Lexicon Bibliographicum," III. 494-7, and Dibdin's "Bibliotheca Spenceriana," II. 303.

PTOLEMY. [Cosmographia. Translated by Jacobus Angelus, and edited by Nicolaus Donis. Colophon:] Impressum Vlme opera et expensis Iusti de Albano de Venetiis per provisorum suorum Iohannem Reger. An|no. Domini. M. CCC. LXXXVI. | XII. Kalendas. Augusti. | Folio. J.C.B. 66473

Collation: 204 leaves—comprising the index in 42 leaves (sig. A-B in eights, C in ten, and D-E in eights); the text in 74 leaves (sig. a in ten, and b-i in eights); 32 maps on 64 leaves; and the treatise "De locis" in 24 leaves (sig. A-C in eights).

The second edition of Donis's Ptolemy. The index begins on the verso of the first leaf, recto blank, with "Nota ad inueniendum igitur regiones," followed on the recto of the second leaf (sig. A2) by "Registrum Alphabeticum" in double columns, which ends on the verso of E8. The dedication, "Beatissimo Patri Pavlo Selcyndo Pontifici Maximo. | Donis Nicolaus Germanus," with the elaborate woodcut initial (as in the preceding edition), begins on the recto of sig. a1, and is followed on the next leaf by the text in double columns, with 44 lines in a full column, which ends on the verso of i8, second column, with "Hinc sequuntur Tabule." The 32 double-page woodcut maps, sometimes colored, comprise one of the world, fourteen of Europe, four of Africa, and thirteen of Asia. They are the same as those in the preceding edition, having been printed from the same blocks; but the pages of descriptive text, printed on the recto of the first leaf of each, differ in typographical arrangement from both of the two impressions of 1482, and are not surrounded by borders. The second leaf of the final map also contains one column of text, printed from a woodcut block, but the verso is blank. The treatise of Donis begins on the verso of sig. A1, recto blank, with "Incipit Registrum," followed on the recto of the next leaf (A2) by "De locis ac mirabilibus mundi. Et primo de tribus orbis partibus," which ends on the recto of C8, second column, with the colophon and the printer's device and initials "I R." Greenland (Engronelant) is shown on the eighth map. Bernhart (in Aretin, "Beyträge," v. 534) mentions a copy in which the woodcut initials in the text on the back of the second map of Europe were omitted. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $150; another, with some leaves stained, was priced by Mr. Quaritch in 1885 at £8 8s. Some copies were printed on vellum.

Collation: 174 leaves, five of which are blank—comprising the index in 34 leaves, preceded and followed by a blank leaf (sig. A-C in eights, and D-E in sixes); the text in 60 leaves, also preceded and followed by a blank leaf (sig. a in ten, b-g in eights, and h in four); 27 maps on 54 leaves; and the treatise "De locis" in 21 leaves, followed by one blank leaf (sig. a-b in eights, and c in six). Sig. A1, E6, a1, h4 and c6 are blank.

The second Roman edition. The index "Registrum Alphabeticum" begins on the recto of the second leaf (A2), and ends on the verso of E5. The text in double columns, with 53 lines in a full column, begins on the recto of sig. a2 and ends on the recto of h3, second column, with "Hinc sequuntur Tabule." The 27 double-page copperplate maps comprise one of the world, ten of Europe, four of Africa, and twelve of Asia, which are the same as those in the edition of 1478, having been printed from the same plates. The treatise of Donis begins on the verso of sig. a1, recto blank, with "Incipit Registrum," followed on the recto of the next leaf (a2) by "De locis ac mirabilibus mundi. Et primo de tribus orbibus partibus," which ends on the recto of c5 with the colophon. It is a handsomely printed edition. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $70. A new edition of the translation of Jacobus Angelus, revised and edited by Marcus Beneventanus and Joannes Cota of Verona. The dedication by the bookseller Tosinus, on the verso of the title-page, is dated "Romæ Eidibus Augusti. M.D.VII." The "Registrum Alphabeticum," which begins on the recto of sig. A2, fills sixty-seven unnumbered pages, and is followed on the verso of E5 by the text in double columns, with 52 lines in a full column, which ends on the verso of N8 with an epistle from Beneventanus to Baduarius. The planisphere begins on the recto of O1 with "Cum sit possibile O Sire," and ends with the colophon on the recto, and the privilege of Pope Julius ii. on the verso, of O7. The privilege is dated at Rome "Die. xxviii Iulii. m. d. vi." Sig. O8 is blank. The treatise of Donis begins with "Incipit Registrum" on the recto, and "De locis ac mirabilibus mundi. Et primo de tribus orbis partibus" on the verso, of sig. The twenty-seven ancient maps are the same as those in the editions of 1478 and 1490, having been printed from the same plates. The six new maps were also engraved on copper in a similar style. The "Tabvla Moderna Prvsie Livonie Norvegie et Gottie" contains a representation of Greenland as a peninsula of northern Europe under the name of Evgrovelant. This name is also given to a country adjoining Norway. Some copies also contain Ruysch's new map of the world, which is described in the note to the reissue of 1508. Mr. Murphy's copy (with the Ruysch map) sold for $115.

Collation: 210 leaves, one of which is blank—comprising the title, index and text in 107 leaves, followed by one blank leaf (sig. A-C in eights, D-E in sixes, and F-O in eights); 34 maps on 68 leaves; the treatise "De locis" in 20 leaves (sig. Aa-Bb in eights, and Cc in four); and the "orbis noua descriptio" in 14 leaves (sig. a in six, and b in eight).

The initial "I" in the first word of the title is a very large ornamental letter, while in the edition of 1507 it is an ordinary capital. The dedication by the bookseller Tosinus, on the verso of the title-page, is dated "Romæ Eidibus Augusti. m. d. viii." The "Registrvm Alphabeticvm," which begins on the recto of sig. A2, fills sixty-seven unnumbered pages, and is followed on the verso of E5 by the text in double columns, with 52 lines in a full column, which ends on the verso of N8 with an epistle from Beneventanus to Baduarius. The planisphere begins on the recto of O1, with "Cvm sit possibile O Sire," and ends with the colophon on the recto, and the privilege of Pope Julius II. on the verso, of O7. The privilege is dated at Rome "Die. xxviii Iulii. m. d. vi." Sig. O8 is blank. The 34 double-page copperplate maps, sometimes colored, comprise two of the world, fifteen of Europe, four of Africa, and thirteen of Asia. With the exception of the new map of the world, they are the same as those in the preceding edition. The treatise of Donis begins with "Incipit Registrum" on the recto, and "De locis ac mirabilibus mvn[di]. Et primo de tribus orbis[partibus]" on the verso, of sig. Aa1, and ends on the recto of Cc4, verso blank. The treatise of Beneventanus, preceded by another dedicatory epistle by Tosinus and an epistle by the author on sig. a1, begins on the recto of a2 with "Marci Bñuētani Monachi Celestine cōgregationis Mathematici orbis noua descriptio," and ends on the recto of b8 with the register, verso blank.

A reissue of the preceding edition, with a new title-page, and the addition of the "orbis noua descriptio" of Beneventanus in fourteen leaves, and Ruysch's map of the world. The treatise of Beneventanus contains accounts of the discoveries in the new world in Cap. viii., "De nauigatiōe a Lusitanis nouiter instaurata qua in Indicū nauigat pelagus," on the verso of sig. b3, and in Cap. xiiiij., "De Tellure quā tū Lusitani: tū colūbus obseruauerē quē Mūdū appellāt Nouū," on b5 verso and b7 recto. The principal feature of this edition, however, consists in the remarkable new map of the world designed on the conical projection by Johann Ruysch, a German, who had visited the American shores. It is entitled in a scroll at the top "Vniuersalior cogniti orbis tabvla, ex recentibus confecta observationibus," and contains the first printed delineation of the newly discovered lands. A large portion of the southern continent is laid down by itself as Terra sancte crucis sive Mvndvs novvs, with at least twenty-eight names along the northern and eastern shores, and the following inscription in a scroll on the western side: "Hvcvsqve navte Hispani vēvūt et hanc terram propter eivs | magnitudinem Mvndvm Novvm appellarvnt quia vero | eam totaliter non vidervnt nec vsque in tempore | hoc longivs qvā ad hvc terminū perlvsstrarvnt ideo | his iperfecta reliqvūt | pserūt cū nesciatur quo vergitvr." Another inscription in the center closes with the statement that "Avehvntvr hinc a Lvsitani ligna Brasi alias verzini et cassiæ;" and a third one below this reads: "Navtæ Lvsitani partem hanc terre hvivs | obserarvūt et vsque ad elevationem | poli antarctici . 50 . gradvum pervenervnt | nondv tamen ad eivs finem avstrinv." North of this continent are the islands Spagnaola, Antilia Insula, Moferrato, Matinina, La Dominica, Tamarauqua, etc., and west of them a portion of a larger island (Cuba) with seven names along the coast and on the western border the inscription "Hvc vsq naves Ferdinādi | Regis Hispanie pvenervūt." Due north of all these, Grvenlanta is represented as the northeastern extremity of Asia, with Sinvs Grvenlantens off the coast; and below this another Asiatic peninsula inscribed Terra Nova, with several coast names, exhibiting the results of Cabot's discoveries. There are two varieties of this map, one of which does not contain the words Plisacvs Sinvs off the eastern coast of Asia. It is sometimes found inserted in the edition of 1507, and also separately. A facsimile is given in Stevens's "Historical and Geographical Notes." Several sets of the maps were struck off on vellum. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $180.

Collation: 92 leaves—comprising the title, dedication and annotations in 4 leaves (sig. +); the text in 58 leaves (sig. A in eight, B-H in sixes, and I in eight); and 28 maps on 30 leaves.

The version is that of Jacobus Angelus, edited and remodeled by Bernardus Sylvanus of Eboli, an eminent geographer of the time. A poem with the heading "Ioannes Aurelius Augurellus" fills the verso of the title-page. The dedication, "Bernardus Sylvanus Eboliensis: ad Illustrissimum Andream Mathevum. Aqvaevivvm Adriæ Ducem," occupies the upper part of the next page, and is followed below by "Bernardi Sylvani Eboliësis ânotationes in Ptholemæi geographiam," which are continued on the next four pages. The table of contents fills the verso of the fourth leaf. The text in double columns, with 60 lines in a full column, begins on the recto of sig. A1, and ends on the recto of I8, verso blank, with the colophon and register. The title-page, initials, captions, and leading names in the text were printed in red. The 28 double-page woodcut maps comprise one of the world, ten of Europe, four of Africa, twelve of Asia, and one modern map of the world. The ancient maps are arranged in the same order as those in the preceding editions, but were largely altered and improved. The inscriptions on the maps were printed from book-type—the names of countries, seas, etc., in red, and those of towns in black. The new general map, drawn on the heart-shaped projection, is not found in all copies. It was printed on a separate sheet, and apparently added after the book had been completed. It contains the first printed delineation of any portion of the North American continent, under the names of regalis domus (i. e. Cortereal?) and terra laboratoris—the former as a fragmentary coast line and the latter as a large island. Below these are ispania insu., terra cube. and a part of the southern continent with the inscription Terra sanctae crucis. Greenland (engronelât) is put down as a part of northern Europe. Some copies of the work were printed on vellum. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $95. Priced by Leclerc, 1878, 500 francs; Quaritch, 1880, £20; Ellis, 1884, £18 18s.

Collation: 181 leaves, one of which is blank—comprising the title, dedication, etc., in 2 leaves (no sig.); the text, leaves 5–60, followed by fourteen leaves containing the index (sig. B–L in sixes, M in four, and N in six); 27 ancient maps on 53 leaves; the title to the Supplement on one leaf; 20 modern maps on 39 leaves; and the treatise "De locis" in 15 leaves, followed by one blank leaf (sig. a in six, b in four, and c in six.)

On the verso of the title-page is an epistle from Ioannes Franciscus Picus Mirandula dated "Noui quarto Calendas Septemb. Anno a partu virginis M D VVI." The dedication to the emperor by Jacobus Eszler and Georgius Ubelin, "Datū Argentine sub Annū Dñi M D XIII. Marcij. xv.," fills the recto of the next leaf, and is followed on the verso by the table of contents. The text in double columns, with 66 lines in a full column, begins on the third leaf with folio 5 (sig. B1), and ends on the recto of folio 60 (sig. L2), on the verso of which the index begins. This fills twenty-eight unnumbered pages in treble columns, and ends on the recto of sig. N6. A note "Ad Lectorem," an epistle from Lilius Gregorius Ziraldus to Philesius, and the first colophon, occupy the verso of N6. The 27 woodcut maps of the ancient series are each on two leaves, excepting the last (Taprobana), which is on a single leaf. They comprise the map "Generale Ptholemei," ten of Europe, four of Africa, and twelve of Asia. The 20 modern maps were also engraved on wood, and are each on two leaves (with one exception), comprising: Orbis Typvs Vniuersalis iuxta Hydrographorum Traditionem; Tabvla Terre Nove; Tabvla Nova Hibernie Anglie et Scotie; Tabvla Moderna et Nova Hispanie; Tabvla Moderna Gallie; Tabvla Moderna Germanie; Tabvla Moderna Sarmatie Evr. sive Hvingarie Polonie Rvssie Prvssie et Vyalachie; Tabvla Moderna Norbegie et Gottie; Tabvla Moderna et Nova Italie ac Sicilie; Tabvla Moderna Italie; Tabvla Moderna Bossine Servie Gretiae et Sclavonie; Tabvla Moderna Prime Partis Aphricae; Tabvla Moderna Secvnde Porcionis Aphrice; Tabvla Nova Asie Minoris; Tabvla Moderna Terre Sancte; Tabvla Moderna Indiae; Tabvla Nova Eremi Helvetiorvm; Tabvla Nova Particularis Provincie Rheni Syperioris; Tabvla Neoterica Crete sive Candie Insule; and Lotharingia. The last is on a single leaf, surrounded by escutcheons and handsomely printed in three colors, with the final colophon printed on the lower margin. The arrangement of the maps differs in some copies. The treatise of Donis "De locis ac mirabilibus mvndi," with the heading "Locorum ac mirabilium mvndi descriptio," begins on the recto of sig. a1, and ends on the recto of c5, the verso of which contains the "Index Capitum." The last leaf (sig. c6) is blank.

This grand and important edition was commenced by the Saint-Dié geographer Martin Waltzemüller ("Hylacomylus") about the year 1505, partly at the expense of Duke René of Lorraine, who also contributed the celebrated "Hydrographia" or Admiral's map. Mathias Ringmann ("Philesius") was also employed on the work. The modern maps were prepared by Waltzemüller, and most of them—perhaps all—engraved as early as 1507. The completion of the text, however, was delayed; and in 1508 all of the material passed into the hands of Jacobus Eszler and Georgius Ubelin, two prominent citizens of Strassburg, who edited and finally published the work in 1513, assuming the entire credit of the undertaking. Under their care, assisted by Ringmann, the version of Angelus was compared with an important Greek manuscript furnished by Mirandula, the Greek names of places were added, and the text revised and corrected throughout. The title to the Supplement contains on the verso a preface "Ad Lectorem" in 39 lines, which gives the following interesting information relative to the new map of the world ("Orbis Typvs"), and the "Tabvla Terre Nove," both of which first appeared in this edition: "Charta autē Marina, quam Hydrographiam vocant, per Admiralem quondam serenissi. Portugalie regis Ferdinandi, ceteros deniq; lustratores verissimis pagratōibus lustrata: ministerio Renati dum vixit, nunc pie mortui Ducis illustriss. Lotharingie liberalius prelographationi tradita est." The evident mistake in either the name of the country or king renders this reference uncertain, but it has been generally applied to Columbus, and also with some degree of probability to Vespuccius, whose voyages had already been translated and published by Waltzemüller. The first of the two maps includes an outline of the northeastern part of the South American continent with five names along the coast, the islands isabella and spagnolla, and another fragmentary coast line. Gronland forms the northwestern extremity of Europe. The other ("Tabvla Terre Nove") is one of the earliest printed maps devoted entirely to the new world. It represents the coast in a continuous line from C. del mar usiano in North Lat. 55° , to Rio de cananor in South Lat. 35° , with about sixty-one other names along and off the shores; and also the islands of Isabella and Spagnolla, with nearly twenty other islands and places named. On the southern continent is the inscription: "Hec terra cum adiacentib⁹ insulis inuenta est per Columbū | ianensem ex mandato Regis Castelle," and below it, Terra Incognita. The "Tabvla Moderne Norbegia et Gottie" includes Engronelandt and Engronelād. The map of Lorraine was the first printed of that Duchy, and is considered by some critics as the earliest known specimen of printing in colors. In some copies all of the maps were colored by hand. The type used in the text is said to be the same as that used in the "Cosmographiæ Introductio" of 1507. The statement made by Bernhart (in Aretin, "Beyträge," v.) that the final colophon was dated 1512, may be explained by the fact that the figure "3" is of a peculiar shape and might be easily mistaken for a "2." Copies of this edition are also in the Lenox Library, and in the Brown Library at Providence. See D'Avezac, "Martin Hylacomylus Waltzemüller," pp. 22-28, 93, 141-156. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $110. Priced by Quaritch in 1885 at £25.

Collation: 68 unnumbered leaves (sig. a-c in sixes, d in eight, e-h in sixes, i in eight, k in six, and l in four).

The license is printed on the verso of the title-page. The dedication, dated "Ex Nurenberga Anno domini Millesimoquingentesimodecimoquarto," begins on the recto of sig. a2 and ends on the verso of a3. The text of Ptolemy begins on the recto of a4 and ends on the verso of b5. The paraphrase and annotations of Joannes Werner begin on the recto of b6 and end on g4 with the date "Anno salutis humanæ. 1514. quarto Kl. Octobris." This is followed by Werner's treatise "de quatuor aliis planis terrarum orbis descriptionibus," sig. g5 to h4; another treatise by Werner, sig. h5 to i2; a treatise by Georgius Amirutzes, sig. i2 to i7; "Appendices" to the same by Werner, sig. i7 to l1; an epistle by Regiomontanus, sig. l2 and l3; and the register and colophon on the recto of l4, verso blank.

Collation: 151 leaves—comprising the title and preface, each on one leaf, and the text irregularly numbered in leaves 1-10, 13-40, 34, 42-45, 48, 47-48, 51, 50-56, and 52-54 [i. e. 57] (sig. A in eight, B-I in sixes, and K in three); and 47 maps on 92 leaves.

This edition was published under the supervision of Georgius Ubelin, one of the editors of the edition of 1513, of which it is mainly a reprint, with the omission of the index, the treatise "De locis," and the Greek names of places in the text. The title-page, verso blank, is surrounded by an elaborate woodcut border printed in a brownish tint and usually colored. The preface by Ubelin, and the table, fill both sides of the following leaf. The text in double columns, with 65 lines in a full column, begins on the recto of sig. Aij with folio 1, and ends on the recto of Kij, misnumbered folio 54. The colophon is printed on the verso of folio 54 (sig. Kij) within a border like that on the title-page. The 47 woodcut maps are each on double leaves, with the exception of the first (Lotbaringia) and twenty-eighth (Taprobana), and were evidently printed from the same blocks as those in the edition of 1513. They comprise "Lotharingia" (printed in colors), "Generale Ptholemei," ten of Europe, four of Africa, twelve of Asia, "Orbis Typvs Vniversalis iuxta Hydrographorum Traditionem," "Tabvla Terre Nove," and seventeen other modern maps, the same as those in the edition of 1513, and arranged in the same order. The maps "Orbis Typvs" and "Tabvla Terre Nove" relate to America, and are described in the note to the edition of 1513. The "Tabvla Moderna Norbegie et Gottie" includes Engronelandt. According to Bernhart (in Aretin, "Beyträge," v. 535) there were two copies in the library at Munich with the title-page printed in red ink, and one copy in black. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $90. Priced by Quaritch, 1885, £15 15s.; Ellis, 1884, £21.

A-B in sixes, C in six, D in four, and G-R in sixes); 50 maps on 98 leaves; and the "Introductorium" in 8 leaves (sig. S).

The title (verso blank) was printed in red and black within an ornamental woodcut border. The prefatory epistle from Aucuparius to Laurentius Phrisius, the editor, dated "Argentoraci ex Edibus nostris Die. x. Mensis Ianuarij. Anno Chri. M. D. xxij.," begins on the recto of sig. A2 and ends on the verso with the privilege. The index of places, "Registrvm Alphabeticū," begins on sig. A3 (folio 3), and fills 18 leaves, followed by two leaves containing the list of errata and table of contents. The text in double columns, with 55 lines in a full column, begins on sig. G1 (folio 37), and ends on the verso of R6, recto blank, with the table of maps. Book viii of the text was continued on the backs of the maps, with additions by the editor. The pages of text and the maps are surmounted by scrolls for the headings, and the map descriptions are surrounded by borders. The 50 woodcut maps are each on two leaves, with one exception, and comprise ten of Europe, four of Africa, twelve of Asia, Generale Ptho., and the following modern maps: Tabvla Ter. Novae; Tabvla Nova Hiberniae Angliae et Scotiae; Tab. Mo. Hispa.; Ta. Mode. Galie.; Tab. Mo. Germa.; Tabv. Moderna Hvngariae, Poloniae, Rvssiae, Prvssiae, et Valachiae; Tab. Nova Norvegiae et Gottiae, with a map of "Lotharingia" on the verso of its second leaf; Tabv. No. Italiae; Tab. Mo. Italiae Corsice et Sardinie; Tabvla Moder. Bossinae, Serviae, Gretiae et Sclavoniae; Tabv. Mo. I. Aphrice; Ta. Mo. II. Aphri.; Tabvla Moderna Asiae Minoris; Ta. Ter. Sancte; Tab. Moderna Indiae; Tabvla Moderna Indiae Orientalis; Ta. Svpioris Indiae et Tartariae Maioris; Ta. Here. Helve.; Tabv. Nova Provinciae Rheni; Ta. Neoterica, Crete siue Candie; Tabv. Mo. Gronlandic et Rvsie; and Orbis Typvs Vniversalis iuxta Hydrographorvm Traditionem exactissime depicta 1522. L. F. Most of the maps are accompanied by one or two pages of descriptive text, with curious woodcuts, printed on the backs. The "Introductorium Isagogae in libros Geographiae Ptolemaei," by Laurentius Phrisius, follows the maps, and comprises eight leaves (sig. S), ending on the recto of the eighth, verso blank, with the colophon.

Laurentius Fries or Phrisius, a physician and mathematician of Metz, was the editor of this edition, to which he added an index of places, annotations on the backs of the maps, and a mathematical appendix. The text, however, was the translation of Jacobus Angelus. The introductory epistle of Aucuparius refers to America in the following words: "Quorū omniū Imprimis et nō vulgari celebrādus est honore. Americ⁹ ille Vesputi⁹: Americe terre. Quā hodie Americā: Nouū mundū vel Quartā mūdi partē vocāt," etc. A note by Phrisius on the verso of folio 100 contains the first public acknowledgment of the labors of Waltzemüller ("Ilacomylus") in the preparation of the modern maps which first appeared in the edition of 1513, and which served as the basis for those in the present edition. They were reengraved, however, on a smaller scale, with the exception of the map inscribed at the top "Qvinta Asie Tabvla," which is larger than the others, and appears to be the same as that in the edition of 1513. Although various alterations and additions were made, they are considered to be inferior to the originals in execution and accuracy. Two new maps of India and a new general chart were added. The first of the modern maps, "Tabvla Ter. Novae," resembles that in the edition of 1513, of which it is mainly a copy. About fifty-seven names are laid down along the coast, which stretches in a continuous line from North Lat. 55° to South Lat. 35°. The West Indian islands include about seventeen names. Among the inscriptions are Isabella Insul. and Spagnoba [i. e. Spagnolla] in the West Indies, Parias on the northern, and Terra Nova and Terra Papagalli on the southern continent. The latter also contains the lines, "Hec terra cum adiacentib⁹ insulis inuenta est p Christoferum | Columbum ianuensem ex mandato Regis Castelle," with a curious woodcut of the cannibal natives and a certain strange animal. Another inscription relating to the discovery of the country is also given, inclosed in a square, underneath the island Spagnoba. The two pages of text on the back of this map contain a relation of the voyages and discoveries of Columbus. The "Tab. Nova Norbegiae et Gottiae" represents Engronelant as a peninsula of Europe. The same name also appears in this map on a part of the peninsula with Norway. The last map but one, entitled "Tabv. Mo. Gronlandie et Rvsie," is really a map of the world, and resembles somewhat the "Orbis Typvs" of the editions of 1513 and 1520. At the top are the words "Differt sitvs orbis Hydrographorvm ab eo quem Ptolomevs posvit." Two small parts of the American coast are depicted with the names caput. s. crucis and Terra papagalli on the southern part, while Gronlanda appears as a portion of northern Europe. The final new map of the world, "Orbis Typvs Vniversalis iuxta Hydrographorvm Traditionem exactissime depicta 1522. L. F.," was the production of Laurentius Fries, whose initials are given in the heading. It is a revision, with alterations, of that in the preceding editions, and is remarkable as the first map with the name America that appeared in Ptolemy's work. This name is inscribed on a portion of the South American continent, together with the inscriptions Batoia, Canibales, and Caput. s. cru., above which appear the islands ijsabella and Spagnola. It shows no part of North America. These fifty maps were reprinted in the editions of 1525, 1535, and 1541, all from the same blocks, with the exception of "Qvinta Asie Tabvla;" but the ornamental borders and map titles which accompany them differ considerably in the several issues, and were sometimes omitted entirely. The account of Palestine, wrongly attributed to Servetus, and which served as one of the pretexes for his execution, was first printed in this edition on the map of the Holy Land. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $55; Leclerc, 1867, 560 francs; Leclerc, 1878, 300 francs.

Collation: 228 leaves—comprising the text (with title) in leaves 1–82 (sig. A–M in sixes, N in four, and O in six); the annotations of Regiomontanus in 14 leaves (sig. P in six, and Q in eight); the "Index Ptolemaei," etc., in 34 leaves (sig. a-e in sixes, and f in four); and 50 maps on 98 leaves.

A new translation by Wilibald Pirckheimer, accompanied by the annotations of Regiomontanus, and said to have been edited by Johann Huttich. The title was printed within an ornamental woodcut border, similar to that in the edition of 1522. The dedication by Bilibaldus Pirckeymerus, dated at "Norenberge. Kalendis septembris. Anno Salutis nostre. M. D. XXIV.," begins on the verso of the title-page and ends on the verso of folio 2. The text in double columns, with 52 lines in a full column, begins on folio 3, and is surrounded by ornamental woodcut borders. The colophon is on the recto of sig. Q8, at the end of the annotations. The 50 woodcut maps were printed from the same blocks as those in the 1522 edition, with the exception of the large map "Quinta Asiae Tabula," which was reengraved on a smaller scale, uniform in size with the others. They are each on two leaves, with one exception ("Lotharingia"), and numbered in the following order: 1-10. ten of Europe; 11-14. four of Africa; 15-26. twelve of Asia; [27.] Ptolemy's map of the world; 28. Oceani occidentalis Seu Terre Noue Tabula; 29. Tabula Moderna Hiber.; 30. Tab. Mo. Hispan.; 31. Ta. Mo. Galliae; 32. Tab. Mo. Germa.; 33. Tabv. Moderna Hungariae, etc.; 34. Tab. Here. Helve.; 46. 47. Tabv. Provi. Rheni, with "Lotharingia" on the back; 48. Tabv. Neoterica Cretae sive Candiae; 49. Tabula Moder. Gronlandiae et Russiae; and 50. Orbis Typus Universalis iuxta Hydrographorum Traditionem exactissime depicta 1522. L. F. Most of the maps are without the scrolls at the tops, and nearly every one contains a page or two of descriptive text, with woodcuts, printed on the backs within ornamental borders. Maps 28, 34, 49 and 50 relate more or less to America, and are described in the note to the preceding edition. The account of the discoveries of Columbus and others is on the back of map 28. The passage relating to the sterility of Palestine, wrongly attributed to Servetus, is on the back of map 41. Leclerc ("Bibliotheca Americana," 1878, No. 474) describes a copy in which the Latin name of Strasburg in the colophon is spelled as usual Argentorati. Concerning the word Argentoragi see Schoepflin's "Vindiciae Typographicae," p. 106. Mr. Murphy's two copies sold for $30 and $32.50. Priced by Leclerc, 1878, 200 francs; Quaritch, 1880, £10 10s.

PTOLEMY. Clavdii Ptolemaei Alexandrini Geographicae Enarrationis libri octo. Ex Bilibaldi Pirckeymeri translatione, sed ad Graeca & prisca exemplaria à Michaële Villanouano iam primum recogniti. Adiecta insuper ab eodem Scholia, quibus exoleta urbium nomina ad nostri seculi morem exponuntur. Quinquaginta illae quoque veterum tum recentium tabulae adnectuntur, variorumque incolentium ritus & mores explicantur. [Vignette.] Lugduni Ex Officina Melchioris et Gasparis Trechsel Fratrum. [M. D. XXXV.] [Colophon:] Excudebant Lugduni Melchior et Gaspar Trechsel Fratres. [M. D. XXXV.] Folio. A., J. C. B., L.

Collation: 212 leaves—comprising the title and dedication in two leaves, and the text in pages 5-149, with a table on the verso of page 149, followed by one leaf containing the colophon, verso blank (sig. a-m in sixes, and n in four); 50 maps on 98 leaves; and the "Index Ptolemaei" in 35 leaves, followed by three other leaves containing "Regionum civitatum," etc., on the first, two tables on the second, and the list of errata on the third (sig. A-E in sixes and F in eight).

This edition was edited by Michael Villanovanus, better known as Servetus, whose preface fills the verso of the title-page, and who also wrote many of the modern descriptions on the backs of the maps. The dedication by Bilibaldus Pirckeymerus, dated at "Norēbergæ Kalēdis septēbris, Anno Salutis nostræ. M. D. XXIII.," begins on the recto of sig. a2 and ends on the verso. The text in double columns, with 56 lines in a full column, begins with page 5 on sig. a3, and is followed on the verso of page 149 by a table. The woodcut borders and ornaments which surround the map descriptions are supposed by some critics to be the work of Hans Holbein and Graf of Basle. The 50 woodcut maps, sometimes colored, are the same as those in the preceding edition, having been printed from the same blocks, and are arranged and numbered in the same order. The maps relating to America are as follows: No. 28. Oceani Occidentalis seu Terræ Novæ Tabvla; No. 34. Norvegia et Gottia; No. 49. Tabv. Nova Orbis, with the inscription "Differt situs orbis Hydrographorum ab eo quem Ptolomevs posvit;" and No. 50. Tabv. totivs orbis, or "Orbis Typvs Vniversalis iuxta Hydrographorum Traditionem exactissime depicta 1522. L. F." The account of Columbus and America on the back of map 28 closes with the following additional words: "Toto itaq3, quod aiunt, aberrât cælo qui hâc cōtinētem Americâ nūcupari contendunt, cum Americus multo post Colūbū eandem terrâ adierit, nec cū Hispaniis ille, sed cū Portugallensibus, ut suas merces cōmutaret, eo se cōtulit." The celebrity of this edition is largely due to its association with the trial and execution of its editor, Servetus, in 1553. Many copies of this book are said to have been burned at the same time, by the orders of Calvin. One of the charges or pretexts brought against Servetus was the alleged authorship of a statement, printed on the back of map 41 of this edition, reflecting on the climate and soil of Palestine. The passage in question, however, was not written by him, but had been copied from the same map in the editions of 1522 and 1525. It was omitted in his second edition, printed at Vienna in Dauphiné in 1541. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $90. Priced by Leclerc, 1878, 200 francs; Quaritch, 1885, £12 12s.; Ellis, 1884, £15 15s.

Collation: 222 leaves, one of which is blank—comprising the title-page, verso blank, the "Epistola nuncupatoria" of Münster in 2 leaves, and the "Errata" on the verso of one leaf, recto blank (sig. aa in four); the index in 6 leaves (sig. *); book 1 of the text, with Münster's annotations, in 17 leaves, followed by one blank leaf (sig.

a-c in sixes); books II-VIII of the text, pp. 1-155, verso blank (sig. A-N in sixes); 48 maps on 96 leaves; and the "Appendix Geographica" of Münster, pp. 157-195 (sig. Aa-Bb in sixes, and Cc in eight).

A new and important edition, revised and edited by the geographer Sebastian Münster, who designed the maps anew, and added an appendix. The text is in double columns, with 50 lines in a full column. The colophon is on page 195, the verso of which contains the printer's mark. The 48 double-page woodcut maps, sometimes colored, are accompanied by descriptions printed on the first leaf of each, within ornamental borders designed in Holbein's style, and are arranged and numbered in the following order: 1. Typvs Orbis Vniversalis; 2. Typvs orbis a Ptol. descriptvs; 3-12. ten of Europe; 13-16. four of Africa; 17-28. twelve of Asia; 29. Evropa Prima Nova Tabvla; 30. Anglia II Nova Tabvla; 31. Hispania III Nova Tabvla; 32. Gallia IIII Nova Tabvla; 33. Helvetia Prima Rheni et V Nova Tabvla; 34. Germania VI Nova Tabvla; 35. Alsatia et Brisgoia II Rheni et VII Nova Tabvla; 36. Tertia Rheni Nova Tabvla; 37. Qvarta Rheni et IX Nova Tabvla; 38. Brabantia V Rheni et X Nova Tabvla; 39. Svevia et Bavaria XI Nova Tabvla; 40. Franconia XII Nova Tabvla; 41. Schonlandia XIII Nova Tabvla; 42. Polonia et Vngaria XV Nova Tabvla; 43. Italia XIII Nova Tabvla; 44. Terra Sancta XVI Nova Tabvla; 45. Novae Insvlae, XVII Nova Tabvla; 46. Africa XVIII Nova Tabvla; 47. India extrema XIX Nova Tabvla; and 48. Lacus Constan. XX Tab. Nova. The names of places on these maps were printed from metal types, and some of the names of countries were also printed in German. The modern maps embrace the results of the new discoveries and are more correct than those in the preceding editions. The following relate to America: No. 1. "Typvs Orbis Vniversalis," representing Greenland and Islandia as one long peninsula connected with Europe, and entitled Terra noua siue de Bacalbos at the western end, beyond which is the inscription "Per hoc fretū iter patet ad Molucas." A large part of the North American continent appears on the left under the names Francisca and Terra florida, with Corterati off the coast, and the southern continent as America seu insula Brasilijs, with Hispaniola and Cuba above and Fretū Magaliani below. The western portion of Mexico is laid down under the name of Temisitlan on the right side of the map. No. 41. "Schonlandia," includes Gronlandt id est, virens terra attached to Lapland, with Terra noua siue de Bacalbos on the western extremity. No. 45. "Novae Insvlae" or Novus Orbis, is one of the earliest printed showing both American continents—the northern as Francisca and Terra florida, with Corterati, Iucatana, Cuba and Hispaniola off the coast, and the southern with the inscriptions "Parias abundat auro et margaritis," "Insula Atlātica quam uocant Brasilijs & Americam," and "Regio Gigantum" below. The recto of the first leaf of this map contains an account of America and its discovery by Columbus and others. According to Raidelius this edition was reissued with the date 1541. It was reprinted without change at Basle in 1542, and with six additional maps in 1545 and 1552. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $42.50. Priced by Quaritch, 1885, £5.

Collation: 222 leaves—comprising the title and dedication in two leaves, and the text in pages 5–149, with a table on the verso of page 149, followed by one leaf containing the first colophon, verso blank (sig. a–m in sixes, and n in four); 50 maps on 98 leaves; and the index in 45 leaves, followed by three other leaves containing “Regionum, ciuitatum,” etc., on the first, tables on the second, and the second colophon on the third, verso blank (sig. a–h in sixes).

This is the second edition of Ptolemy edited by Villanovanus (Servetus), newly revised and corrected, and printed at Vienna in Dauphiné. The preface by the editor fills the verso of the title-page, and is followed on the next page (sig. a2) by the dedication, also by Villanovanus, dated at “Viennæ pridie Cal. Martij. MDCXLI.,” with the table of contents on the verso. The text in double columns, with 57 lines in a full column, begins on sig. a3 with page 5, and ends with a table on the verso of page 149. The 50 wood-cut maps were printed from the same blocks as those in the editions of 1525 and 1535, and are arranged and numbered in the same order. Maps 28, 34, 49 and 50 relate partly or wholly to America, with the account of the discoveries of Columbus on the back of map 28. The descriptive text was omitted from several of the maps, including that relating to Palestine. Many copies of this and of the 1535 edition are said to have been burnt by the orders of Calvin at the time of the execution of Servetus. Mr. Odell’s copy sold in 1880 for $60. Priced by Leclerc, 1878, 250 francs; Quaritch, 1880, £5; Ellis, 1884, £14 14s.

The second edition of Münster’s Ptolemy, reprinted from the edition of 1540, without alteration or addition. The text is in double columns, with 50 lines in a full column. The colophon is on page 195, the verso of which contains the printer’s mark. The 48 double-page woodcut maps are the same as those in the 1540 edition, having been printed from the same blocks, but some of the inscriptions are in a different style of type. They are also numbered and arranged in the same order, and have the same names, excepting the first, which is entitled "Typvs Vniversalis." Map 45, "Novae Insvlae," represents the American lands and islands, with an account of their discovery by Columbus printed on the back. Maps 1. "Typvs Vniversalis," and 41. "Schonlandia," also contain portions of the American shores. The ornamental borders which surround the text on the backs of the maps are similar to those in the 1540 edition, but vary in the order of arrangement. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $13. Each map contains on the back a page of descriptive text, printed within ornamental borders designed in Holbein's style. Three of them relate to America: 1. "Typvs Vniversalis;" 46. "Septentrionales Regiones," including Grünland; and 54. "Novae Insvlae," which represents America, with an account of its discovery printed on the back.

Collation: 314 leaves, three of which are blank—comprising the title-page, with an inscription and woodcut figure of Ptolemy on the verso, the "Epistola nvnvporatoria" of Münster in 2 leaves, and the royal license on one leaf, recto blank (sig. * in four); "De vtilitate tabularum Geographicarum" in 3 leaves, followed by one blank leaf (sig. a in four); the indexes in 81 leaves, followed by one blank leaf (sig. b-o in sixes, and p in four); book 1 of the text, with Münster's annotations, in 17 leaves, followed by one blank leaf (sig. AA-CC in sixes); books II to VIII of the text, pp. 1-155, verso blank (sig. DD-QQ in sixes); 54 maps on 108 leaves; and the "Appendix Geographica" of Münster, pp. 157-195 (sig. A-B in sixes, and C in eight).

The fourth edition of Münster's Ptolemy, with an additional treatise and enlarged indexes. The "Epistola nvnvporatoria" is dated "Basileæ anno M. D. LII. Mense Martio." The next leaf (sig. *4), recto blank, contains on the verso the royal license, dated "a Paris ce xx. iour de Ianuier, lan de grace mille cinq cens cinquante deux, & de nostre regne le sixiesme." The text is in double columns, with 50 lines in a full column. The colophon is on the verso of map 54, and page 195 ends with "Finis." The 54 double-page woodcut maps, with the descriptive text and ornamental borders on the backs, are mostly the same as those in the edition of 1545, and are arranged and numbered in the same order, with the following exceptions: 40. "Svevia et Bavaria XII. Nova Tabvla;" 41. "Franconia XIII. Nova Tabvla;" and 42. "Pomerania XIII. Nova Tabvla" (in place of 40. "Lacus Constan. xx. Tab. Nova" in the 1545 edition). Numbers 29 and 45 were wrongly numbered 19 and 46. The names of places on many of the maps were printed in a different style of type from those in the 1545 edition, and map 1. "Typvs Vniuersalis" was slightly altered or reengraved. The modern maps are surrounded by borders. Three of them relate to America: 1. "Typvs Vniuersalis;" 46. "Septentrionales Regiones;" and 54. "Novae Insvlae." The latter contains an account of the discoveries of Columbus printed on the recto of its first leaf. The "Appendix Geographica" is sometimes lacking. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $11.

 M. D. LXXVIII. | Folio. J.C.B., H., A.G.S. 66490

Collation: 4 preliminary leaves, comprising the engraved title with a globe, verso blank, the dedication on one page, the preface in four pages, and a diagram on one page (sig. (?)² on third leaf, and (?)² on fourth leaf); 28 maps on 55 leaves, mostly with descriptive text on the backs (sig.  and A-Cc in twos, and a single leaf between N and O); and the index to the maps in 15 leaves, followed by one leaf containing the privileges, verso blank (sig. a-h in twos).

The first edition of Ptolemy's maps for Ptolemy's Geography. The dedication by Gerardus Mercator is dated at "Duysburgi mense Febr: 1578.," and the privileges at the end of the volume "Datum Viennæ Austriæ 26. Maij. 1578.," and "Datum 3. Februarij 1578. Bruxellæ." The colophon is on the verso of the last leaf of the index (sig. h1). In the Harvard College copy the privileges are on a separate leaf following the title, and the second leaf of the last signature (h2) is blank on both sides. The 28 maps were very handsomely engraved on copper, with ornamental borders, and are on double pages, with one exception. They comprise the "Vniversalis Tabvla iuxta Ptolemevm," ten of Europe, five of Africa (one of which is on a single leaf entitled "Appendix. III. Tabvlæ Afr.," verso blank), and twelve of Asia. These maps were reprinted with the text in 1584, 1605, and 1619, and are, without doubt, the finest ever prepared for the work. Priced by Quaritch, 1880, £1 15s. The copy described above, in the library of the American Geographical Society, was originally owned by Mercator, and contains in addition his heart-shaped map of the world in two hemispheres, dated 1538, uniform in size with the others. This map includes a large portion of both American continents, with the inscriptions Americæ, Baccalarum regio, Terra florida, etc.

Collation: 2 preliminary leaves, comprising the engraved title with a map, verso blank, and the dedication by Mylius and commendatory verses by Isselt in two pages (no sig.); the text, pp. 106, followed by one leaf numbered 89-90 (sig. A-I in sixes); the index to the text in 15 leaves, followed by one blank leaf (sig. K-L in sixes, and M in four); 4 leaves, comprising the title to the maps with the privileges on the verso, the dedication on one page, the "Præfatio insequens Tabularvm Ptolemæi opus" in four pages, and a diagram on one page (sig. (?)); 28 maps on 55 leaves, with descriptive text on the backs (sig. , B-E, E again, G, G again, H, I, L, L again, M-T, V, X, Y, Z, Aa-Cc in twos, and a single leaf between N and O); and the index to the maps in 15 leaves (sig. a-g in twos, and h in one).

The first edition of Ptolemy's Geography with Mercator's maps. The text is the version of Pirckheymer, edited by Arnoldus Mylius, whose dedication of the work to Abraham Ortelius is dated "Coloniae calendis Iulij, Anno D. 1583." The privileges on the verso of the title to the maps are subscribed "Datum Viennæ Austriæ 26. Maij. 1578," and "Datum 3. Februarij 1578. Bruxellæ;" and the dedication, "Duysburgi mense Febr: 1583 ... Gerardus Mercator." The colophon is on the verso of the last leaf of the final index (sig. c3). The 28 copperplate maps, sometimes colored, are the same as those printed separately in 1578, and are on double pages, with one exception. They comprise the "Vniversalis Tabvla iuxta Ptolemevm," ten of Europe, five of Africa (one of which is on a single leaf entitled "Appendix. III. Tabvlæ Afr:," verso blank), and twelve of Asia. These maps were reprinted in 1605 and 1619.

I am indebted to Mr. John Nicholas Brown, of Providence, for the following description of a copy of this edition (with the 1578 colophon) in his library, in which the maps of Mercator are preceded by four leaves of astronomical maps: "The first pair of these additional leaves bears a map of the constellations and one of the world, each in twelve lozenge-shaped gores. Below four astronomical discs. The second pair of leaves bears the one two celestial globes, the other two terrestrial globes, of the northern and southern hemispheres, surrounded by elaborate borders in the shape of parallelograms. The reverses of these leaves are blank." A similar copy is also described in F. Muller's catalogues, 1875, No. 3256, and 1877, Nos. 2628-9. Another variety of this edition, in the library of the Boston Athenæum, contains the colophon: "Coloniae Agrippinae | Typis Godefridi Kempensis. | Anno Virginei Partus, | M.D.LXXXIII.," and the following signature marks in the latter part of the volume: the 28 maps on 55 leaves (sig. A-E, E again, G-L, K again, Mz, O, N, O again, P-Y, Zz, Aa, Bb in twos, and a single leaf map between O and N); and the index to the maps in 15 leaves, followed by one blank leaf (sig. a-b in sixes, and c in four). In another copy with the 1584 colophon, in the Mercantile Library at Baltimore, the double-page map "Afr. Tab. III.," which follows sig. Mz, is marked N instead of O, and is followed by the appendix map on one leaf, and then by another sig. N., etc., as in the Boston Athenæum copy. In other respects these agree with the copy in the Lenox Library, described above. Priced by Quaritch, 1877, £3 3s. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $20.

A new edition, with new maps, and edited by Giovanni Antonio Magini of Padua. The dedication is dated "Bonon. Kal. Aprilis, 1596." The 64 copperplate maps prepared for this edition, and engraved by Girolamo Porro, are on a smaller scale, and somewhat better executed than those in the edition of 1562. With two or three exceptions, each map fills the verso of a single leaf, with its text beginning on the opposite page. Leaves 1-27 of the second part contain the 27 ancient maps, with the description of the world according to Ptolemy. Between leaves 28 and 29 is a separate sheet containing a double-page map of the world in two hemispheres, surrounded by an elaborate border and entitled "Orbis Terræ Compendiosa Descriptio ex ea, quam ex Magna Vniuersali Mercatoris Rumoldus Mercator fieri curabat, in hanc commodiorē formā a Hieronymo Porro redacta." Leaves 29-292 contain the modern description of the world, and include the following maps: Vniuersi Orbis Descriptio on l. [29]; Evropa on l. [33] recto; Britannicæ Insulæ on l. 34; Hispaniæ Regnum on l. 48; Portugalliæ Regnum on l. 56; Galliæ Regnum on l. 58; Belgivm, sev Germania Inferior on l. Leaves 279 to 291 relate to America, with the map "America" on l. 278. The map "Orbis Terræ Compendiosa Descriptio" includes America sive India nova and Terra Australis, and the following maps also show portions of the American shores: "Vniuersi Orbis Descriptio" on l. The second edition of Magini's Ptolemy, with many typographical corrections. The dedication is dated "Anno à partu Virginico c15.15. xcviij. xiii. Sept. stylo Gregoriano." The colophon, which follows "Finis" on the verso of the last leaf of the index (sig. g4), does not appear in the Harvard College copy. The 64 copperplate maps are the same as those in the preceding edition, and are arranged in the same order. The double-page map, however, differs slightly in the inscription, which is as follows: "Orbis Terrae Compendiosa Descriptio ex ea, quam ex Magna Rumoldus Mercator fieri curabat in hac cõmodiorẽ formã a Hieron: Porro redact:" Leaves 279-291 relate to America, and nine of the maps show portions of the American shores, as specified in the note to the edition of 1596. This edition was reprinted in 1608 and 1617. The same maps also appeared in the Italian editions of 1598 and 1621. Priced by Quaritch, 1880, £1.

Collation: 6 preliminary leaves, comprising the engraved title, verso blank, preface by I. Hondius on one page, Greek verses by Daniel Heinsius on one page, Latin verses by P. Bertius and Jacobus Gruterus and the catalogue of authors on one page, one blank page, the "Præfatio insequens tabularvm Ptolemæi opvs" in four pages, a diagram and Latin verses by Michael Isselt on one page, and the portrait of Mercator on one page (no sig.); 28 maps on 55 leaves, with descriptive text on the backs (sig. A-R, one sig. not marked, T, V, V2, X, another X altered to Y, Z, Zz, Aa, Bb, all in twos, and a single leaf between N and O); the index to the maps in 15 leaves, followed by one blank leaf (sig. a-b in sixes, and c in four); the Greek and Latin text in parallel columns, pp. 1-215, verso blank (sig. A-S in sixes); and the index to the text in 16 leaves (sig. T-V in sixes, and X in four).

The first edition of the Greek and Latin text together, accompanied by Mercator's maps, and edited by Petrus Montanus. The preface by Hondius is dated "Pridie Calendarum Martij Anno a nato Christo m. d. v." [for 1605?], and contains an account of the origin of this edition. The map plates were purchased from the heirs of Mercator by Hondius, who also obtained the aid and advice of Petrus Bertius and other learned men in the preparation and revision of the work. The portrait of Mercator, engraved on copper, is entitled "Gerardi Mercatoris Rvpelmvndani effigiem Annor. dvorum et sex-aginta, svi erga ipsvm studij causa depingi cvrabat Franc. Hog. c15.15. LXXIV.," with Latin verses ("In Effigiem carmen") by Bernardus Furmerius underneath. It represents him holding a globe on which are the inscriptions America and Peru. The 28 copperplate maps are on double pages, with one exception, and are the same as those in the editions of 1578 and 1584. They comprise the "Vniversalis Tabvla iuxta Ptolemvm," ten of Europe, five of Africa (one of which is on a single leaf entitled "Appendix. iii. Tabvlæ Afr.," verso blank), and twelve of Asia. These maps were reprinted again in 1619. There are variations in different copies of this edition, and the text and its index generally precede the maps. One in the library of the Massachusetts Historical Society has the imprint: "Iodocus Hondius excudit sibi et Cornelio Nicolai, in cuius offi- cina prostant. Fræcofurti. | 1605," and the following signature marks to the maps: A-V, V2, one sig. not marked, X, Z, Zz, Aa, Bb, all in twos, and a single leaf map between O and P. A copy in the John Carter Brown Library at Providence has the imprint: "Iodocus Hondius excudit sibi et Cornelio Nicolai, in cujus officina prostant, Fræcofurti, Amsterodammi. | 1605," and the following signatures to the 27 maps: A-R, Q again, T, T again, V, X, another X altered to Y, Z, Zz, Aa, Bb in twos. This copy also has the following work appended:

Abrahami Ortelii | Theatri | Orbis Terrarvm | Parergon ; | sive | Veteris Geographiæ | Tabvlæ, | Commentarijs Geographicis et Historicis illustratæ. | Editio Novissima, | tabulis aliquot aucta, et variè emendata atq; innouata, | cura et stvdio | Balthasaris Moreti. | Anverpiæ, ex Officina Plantiniana, m. dc. xxiv. | [Colophon:] Anverpiæ, | Ex Officina Plantiniana | Balthasaris Moreti. | m. dc. xxiv.," containing 4 prel. leaves (sig. *); 98 leaves, comprising 39 double-page maps (five of which are the Peutingerian tables), 5 double-page plates, and the descriptive text (sig. j-xlix); "Nomenclator Ptolemaicvs," pp. 32; and one leaf with the approbation, etc., on the recto, and the colophon on the verso. The sixth map in this work, entitled "Lumen Historiarvm per Orientem," contains at the top a small vignette map of the world on Mercator's projection which shows both Americas. A copy of this reissue, with the Ortelius, was priced in F. Muller's catalogue (1877, No. 2632) at 14 florins; and a similar copy was sold at Mr. Murphy's sale for $30: A copy of the original issue was priced by Quaritch, 1885, £4.

The third edition of Magini's Ptolemy. The dedication is dated at "Coloniæ Agrippinæ, anno à partu Virgineo c13.10. xcviij. xiiii. Sept. stylo Gregoriano." The 64 copper-plate maps are the same as those in the editions of 1596 and 1597, and in the Italian edition of 1598. In the Harvard College copy, however, two of the maps are in duplicate (i. e. "Hispaniæ Regnum" and "Neapolitanum Regnum"), and two were omitted (i. e. "Belgium, seu Germania Inferior" and "Helvetia"). The double-page map "Orbis Terræ Compendiosa Descriptio" is a reprint of that in the edition of 1597. Leaves 279 to 291 relate to America, and also nine of the maps, as described in the note to the 1596 edition. Mr. J. J. Cooke's copy sold in 1883 for $20. Reprinted again as follows:

J.C.B., H., L., P., A.G.S. 66497

Collation : 2 preliminary leaves, comprising the general title, verso blank, and the engraved title (with a globe) to the first volume, verso blank (no sig.); the dedication to Louis XIII. on one leaf, verso blank, followed by the preface in 5 leaves (sig. *, , and  in twos); the Greek and Latin text in parallel columns, pp. 1-253, verso blank, followed by the title to the maps in Greek and Latin, with verses on the back (sig. A-X in sixes, and Z in two); 28 maps on 55 leaves, mostly with descriptive text on the backs (sig. A-Bb in twos, and a single leaf between P and Q); Mercator's annotations on the maps, comprising the half title with portrait of Mercator on the verso, and pp. 3-28 (sig. Cc-Dd in sixes, and Ee in two); the "Index Locorum," etc., in 20 leaves (sig. AA-CC in sixes, and DD in two); the engraved title to the second volume, verso blank; the "Itineraria dvo Antonini Pii," pp. (2), 1-46 (sig. DD₃ in four, EE-GG in sixes, and HH in two); the "Tabvlæ Pevtingerianæ," comprising 8 segments of a map in 4 double-page plates on 8 leaves, with text on the backs (sig. II-MM in twos); the "Præfatio in fragmenta Tabvlæ itinerariæ antiquæ," pp. 1-4, "Prioris Schedæ Explicatio," pp. 5-16, and "Posterioris Schedæ Explicatio," pp. 17-20 (sig. NN in six, and OO in four), with a map entitled "Scheda Prior" on a separate leaf between pages 4 and 5, verso blank; "Abrahami Ortelii Geographiæ veteris Tabvlæ aliquot," in 35 leaves, comprising the half title, 14 double-page maps, and full descriptive text (sig. PP in one, QQ-SS in twos, TT in one, VV in two, XX in three, YY-ZZ in twos, AAA-BBB in ones, and CCC-KKK in twos); and one leaf containing "Ad Lectorem," etc., on the recto, and the colophon on the verso (sig. LLL).

An important and valuable work, containing 47 maps in all. The 28 maps in the first part are on double pages, with one exception, and were evidently printed from the same plates as those in the editions of 1578, 1584, and 1605. They comprise the "Vniversalis Tabvla iuxta Ptolemæum," ten of Europe, five of Africa (one of which is on a single leaf entitled "Appendix. III. Tabvlæ Afr." verso blank), and twelve of Asia. The Peutingerian tables in 4 double-page plates were engraved and published for the first time nearly twenty years before, and contain the imprint Antverpiæ è Typographæo nostro. Kal. Decemb. c. d. x. xviii. In some copies the map "Scheda Prior" is accompanied by another entitled "Scheda Posterior," probably taken from another work. The 14 maps of Ortelius comprise: Evropa (sig. QQ); Britannicæ Insvlæ (RR); Hispania (SS); Gallia Strabonis (VV); Belgivm (YY); Germania (ZZ); Italia (CCC); Sicilia (DDD); Dacia et Moesia (EEE); Pontvs Evxins (FFF); Thracia (GGG); Græcia (HHH); Africa Propria (III); and Palæstina (KKK). The backs of these maps and the intervening leaves contain the descriptive text. Most of them had been engraved for earlier editions of Ortelius's Atlas, and some are dated 1590, 1595, 1596, 1603, etc. In some copies the maps "Britannicæ Insvlæ," "Hispania," "Germania," "Sicilia," and "Palæstina" are slightly different, and have the descriptive text on the backs in double columns, and in larger type—perhaps taken from the 1624 edition of the "Theatri Orbis Terrarvm Parergon" of Ortelius. The portrait of Mercator is the same as in the edition of 1605. Brunet describes a copy in which the verso of the dedication leaf contained a portrait of Petrus Bertius. According to Hoffmann and Graesse, some copies have only the brief colophon "Anno MDCXVIII," and instead of the extra map "Appendix. III. Tabvlæ Afr.," contain another entitled "Petri Kaerii Germania Inferior." Other copies are without date, and instead of "Abrahami Ortelii Geographiæ veteris Tabvlæ aliquot," have appended the "Theatri Orbis Terrarvm Parergon" of the same author, dated 1624, which is described in the note to the edition of 1605, supra. Mr. Murphy's copy of the original issue sold for $35. Priced by Quaritch, 1877, £10; 1880, £5 5s.; 1885, £4 4s.

Collation: Engraved title, verso blank; the "Index Tabularum" on one leaf, ending on the verso with the colophon; and 28 maps on 55 leaves, without any descriptive text.

A new edition of Mercator's maps to Ptolemy's geography, apparently from the same copperplates that were used in the earlier editions, but with the old ornamental map-titles erased and new ones engraved in their places. They comprise the "Vniversalis Tabvla ivxta Ptolemæum," ten of Europe, five of Africa (one of which is on a single leaf entitled "Appendix Tab. iii. Africae"), and twelve of Asia. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $25. Lelewel ("Géographie du moyen âge") mentions two other editions besides this as follows: "1698. Trajecti ad Rhenum, atlas Mercatoris per Franciscum Halma et Guillelmum van de Water," and "1704. Amstelodami, le meme reproduit."

Collation: 186 leaves—comprising 2 preliminary leaves (no sig.); 120 unnumbered leaves of text, and 4 blank leaves interspersed (sig. aa in ten, bb-dd in eights, ee in six, ff-gg in eights, hh in six, ii in four, a in six, b in ten, c in eight, d-e in twelves, and f in ten); and 31 maps on 60 leaves. Sig. dd8, ii4, e12 and f8 are blank.

A translation or paraphrase of Ptolemy's geography in Italian verse (terza rima) by Francesco Berlinghieri, a Florentine. The title is on the verso of the first leaf, recto blank, and is followed by the table "In quale libro" on the recto, and a metrical dedication on the verso, of the second leaf. The prefatory verses, "Geographia di Francesco | Berlinghieri Fiorentino |allo illvstrissimo Fede|lgo dvca dvr|bino liber|primvs feliciter incipit," begin on the recto of sig. aai, and end on the verso, in the second column, with "Marsilii ficini florentini Apologus ad Fel|dericum urbini ducem in librum Cosmogra|phie Frãncisci Berlingherii florentini Nicho|lai filii adeudem," etc. The text in double columns, with 51 lines in a full column, begins on the recto of sig. aaz and ends on the verso of f10, without register or colophon. The 31 copperplate maps are on double pages, excepting the eighth and ninth of Asia (which are each on a single leaf), and comprise: the map of the world according to Ptolemy; Tabvla Prima Devropa (Ibernia Isola and Alvione Isola); Tabvla Secvnda de Evropa (Hispania Tarraconense, Hispania Lusitania, Hispania Betyca); Hispania Novella; Tabvla Teitia Devropa (Gallia); Gallia Novella (Francia); Tabvla Qvarta Devropa (Germania Magna); Tabvla Qvinta Devropa (Rbetia, Vindelicia, Norico, Panonia, Illyride); Tabvla Sexta Devropa (Italia); a modern map of Italia; Tabvla Septima de Evropa (Sardinia Isola and Sicilia Isola); Tabvla Octava de Evropa (Sarmatia de Evropa); Tabvla Nona Devropa (Iazyge Metanaste, Dacia, Mysia, Thracia); Tabvla Decima de Evropa (Macedonia, Epiro, Acbaia, Peloponeso); Tabvla Prima di Libya qvale et Aphrica (Mavritania Tingitana, Maritania Cesariense); Tabvla di Libya Secunda (*Aphrica, i. e. According to the register they should be placed as follows: the first eight maps after book II. of the text (between sig. dd and ee); the six remaining European maps after book III. (between sig. ii and a); the four African maps after book IV. (between sig. b9 and b10); the first five Asian maps after book V. (between sig. d and e); maps 5 to 9 of Asia after book VI. (between sig. e and f); and maps 10 to 12 of Asia after book VII. (sig. f). These maps, which are supposed to be the first entirely engraved on copper, have some resemblance to those in the misdated Ptolemy of 1462, but are better executed. They are inferior, however, to those in the 1478 edition, and differ from them, besides, in the peculiar delineation of the mountain chains, which are represented in the same manner as bodies of water. The inscriptions were engraved instead of punched. It is probable that the book was printed about the year 1480, as duke Frederick of Urbino, to whom it was dedicated, died in 1482. The printer, whose name appears in the following issue, printed at Florence as early as 1477 and as late as 1486. There is another variety of this edition, described by Brunet and Graesse, in which the text ends on the verso of sig. f9, and the last leaf (f10) is blank instead of leaf f8. A copy of the book was priced by Quaritch in 1885 at £42. See also the Sobolewski catalogue, No. 1625. A new title, a register, and a colophon, were added to the following reissue:

Collation: 186 leaves—comprising 2 preliminary leaves (no sig.); 121 unnumbered leaves of text, and 3 blank leaves interspersed (sig. aa in ten, bb–dd in eights, ee in six, ff–gg in eights, hh in six, ii in four, a in six, b in ten, c in eight, d–e in twelves, and f in ten); and 31 maps on 60 leaves. Sig. dd8, ii4 and e12 are blank.

The second issue of Berlinghieri's metrical version of Ptolemy's geography differs from the first in having a new title printed in red ink on the recto of the original title-leaf which contains the old title on the verso, and in the addition of a page of text at the end of the book, containing the "Registro" with the names of the place and printer in a colophon below, verso blank. These two pages were evidently printed at a later date than the rest of the volume, which in every other respect is identical with the preceding edition. The register was probably made and printed before the new title was added, as it begins "Prima Alba;" and some copies may have been issued with it in that form. The kind of type used in this leaf appears to be the same as that in the book itself; and if it was executed by the same printer, cannot be dated later than 1486. The new title in red, however, is in a different style of type, and is supposed by some critics to have been printed in the early part of the sixteenth century, when title-pages had come into general use, for the purpose of helping the sale of the remainder of the edition. It certainly has a much later appearance than the rest of the book. The two varieties of the first issue are also found in the second. In the Astor library copy the last gathering (sig. f) consists of ten leaves in five sheets. The text ends on the verso of f9, and the register and colophon are on the recto of the final leaf (f10), the verso of which is blank. The heavy impression of the type in the new title can be seen legibly on the recto of the second leaf, and that of the page containing the register and colophon (f10) also shows plainly on the recto of the other leaf of the same sheet (f1). This peculiarity does not appear elsewhere in the volume. In the other variety sig. f also consists of ten leaves in five sheets, but leaf f8 is blank, and the text ends on the verso of f. 10. This is followed by the register and colophon on the recto of the first leaf of an appended sheet, of which the second leaf is blank on both sides. A copy of this description, containing 188 leaves, including five blank leaves, was sold at Libri's sale at Paris in 1847 (No. 1022) for 461 francs. All four varieties of the book are very rare. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $180. Priced by Ellis, 1883, £42. See "Notitia libri rarissimi geographiæ Fr. Berlinghieri florentini, scripsit Chr. Th. de Murr," Norimbergæ, 1790; and the Sobolewski catalogue, Nos. 1625-6.

The first edition of Ptolemy's Geography in Italian. The translation was made by Pietro Andrea Mattioli, a learned physician of Siena, and the maps were designed and added by Jacopo Gastaldo, who also wrote the dedication, which is dated "Di Vinetia a due di Giennaio M D XLVIII." The 60 double-page copperplate maps were mostly based on those of Münster in the Latin edition of 1540, but contain many important additions. In No. 60 Greenland is connected on the west with North America and Asia, and on the east with Europe. It is a very pretty edition. Mr. Murphy’s copy sold for $20. Collation: 4 preliminary leaves, comprising the title, dedication, and preface (sig. *); the text, with the annotations of Ruscelli, pp. 1–358, followed by “Il Registro” on one leaf, verso blank (sig. A–YY in fours); 1 modern and 27 ancient maps on 56 leaves (sig. + and A1, B2, 3C–23Z, 24A1, 25B2, 26C3, 27D4 in twos); the “Espositioni” of Ruscelli in 28 leaves (sig. a–η in fours); 36 modern maps on 72 leaves (sig. 1A–v1F, viF, viiG-xK, xK, and 13N-xxxviNn in twos); the "Discorso" of Moletto, pp. 1-47, verso blank (sig. A-F in fours); and the "Tavola de' nomi" in 24 leaves, ending with the list of errata and register (sig. A-F in fours).

A new and important edition, with a new series of maps. The translation was made by Girolamo Ruscelli, whose dedication is dated "In Venetia, il di primo di Maggio. M. D. LXI." The 64 double-page copperplate maps were partly based on those of Jacopo Gastaldo in the edition of 1548, but are on a somewhat larger scale. They are accompanied by descriptive text printed on the backs. The 28 maps that follow the first part comprise: Orbis Descriptio; 1. Ptolemaei Typvs; 2-11. ten of Europe; 12-15. four of Africa; and 16-27. twelve of Asia. The 36 modern maps in the second part are arranged in the following order: 1. Anglia et Hibernia Nova; 2. Hispania Nova Tabvla; 3. Gallia Nova Tabvla; 4. Tavola Nvova di Germania; 5. Fiandra, Brabantia, et Holanda Nvova; 6. Tavola Nvova d'Italia; 7. [again] Schonladia Nvova; 8. Tavola Nvova di Sardigna et di Sicilia; 9. Polonia et Hvngaria Nvova Tavola; 10. Tavola Nvova di Prussia et di Livonia; 11. Moschovia Nvova Tavola; 12. [again] Tavola Nvova di Schiavonia; 13 [sic]. Tavola Nvova di Piemonte; 14. Tavola Nvova della Marca Trivigiana; 15. Tavola Nvova della Marca D'Ancona; 16. Toscana Nvova Tavola; 17. Grætia Nvova Tavola; 18. Mavritania Nvova Tavola; 19. Africa Minor Nvova Tavola; 20. Marmarica Nvova Tavola; 21. Egitto Nvova Tavola; 22. Africa Nvova Tavola; 23. Natolia Nvova Tavola; 24. Soria et Terra Santa Nvova Tavola; 25. Persia Nvova Tavola; 26. Arabia Felice Nvova Tavola; 27. Calecut Nvova Tavola; 28. India Tercera Nvova Tavola; 29. Tierra Nova; 30. Brasil Nvova Tavola; 31. Nveva Hispania Tabvla Nova; 32. Tierra Nveva; 33. Isola Cvba Nova; 34. Isola Spagnola Nova; 35. Septentrionalivm Partivm Nova Tabvla; and 36. Carta Marina Nvova Tavola, with the printer's mark on the verso. The apparent deficiency of two maps (Nos. xiL and xiiM), both of which are included in the register with the two extra numbers viF and xK, occurs in all the copies that I know of, and also in the edition of 1564; but a comparison with the same maps in the Latin edition of 1562, where they are arranged in regular order, shows that none are lacking. Ten of them relate either partly or wholly to America, as follows: the "Orbis Descriptio" in two hemispheres, containing America in orbis pars, with North America joined to Asia; 6. "Schonladia Nvova," representing Greenland as a part of Europe; 29. "Tierra Nova," showing the South American continent with Castilla del Oro, Peru Provincia, and El Brasil; 30. "Brasil;" 31. "Nveva Hispania;" 32. "Tierra Nveva," showing the northern continent with the names Tierra del Laborador, Tierra del Bacalaos, Tierra del Nvramberg, Lavcadia, La Florida, etc.; 34. "Cvba;" 35. "Spagnola;" 36. "Septentrionalivm Partivm," a reproduction of the Zeni map, containing Engronelant and Groneland; and the "Carta Marina," a map of the world showing both American continents—the northern as a part of Asia. The maps were reprinted in the Latin edition of 1562, and in the Italian editions of 1564, 1574 and 1599, but with some changes in the latter. The "Discorso" of Moletto is sometimes lacking. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $9. Priced by Quaritch, 1880, £2.

Collation : 4 preliminary leaves, comprising the title, sketch of Ptolemy, and preface (sig. *); the text, with the annotations of Ruscelli, pp. 1-358, followed by "Il Registro" on one leaf, verso blank (sig. A-YY in fours); 1 modern and 27 ancient maps on 56 leaves (sig. + and A1, B2, 3C-23Z, 24A1, 25B2, 26C3, 27D4 in twos); the "Espositioni" of Ruscelli in 28 leaves (sig. a-η in fours); 36 modern maps on 72 leaves (sig. 1A-viF, viF, viiG-xK, xK, and 13N-xxxviNn in twos); the "Discorso" of Moletto, pp. 1-47, verso blank (sig. A-F in fours); and the "Tavola de' nomi" in 24 leaves, ending with the list of errata and register (sig. A-F in fours).

The second edition of Ruscelli's Ptolemy is a mere reprint or reissue of the first. The 64 double-page copperplate maps, with the descriptive text on the backs, are the same as those in the preceding edition and in the Latin edition of 1562, having been printed from the same plates. The modern maps are numbered 1-vi, another vi, vii-x, another x, and 13-xxxvi, the last of which contains the printer's mark on the verso. The same irregularity in the numbering occurs in the edition of 1561, and is not an imperfection. The map entitled "Orbis Descriptio," and nine of the modern series, relate to America, i. e. No. vi. ("Schonladia") and Nos. xxix to xxxvi. They were reprinted in the following edition, and again, with some changes, in the edition of 1599. Priced by Dufossé, 1881, 18 francs.

The fourth edition of Ruscelli's Ptolemy, revised, enlarged, and edited by Giuseppe Rosaccio. It was first issued with both title-pages dated "M D XCVIII," as in the copies in the libraries of the British Museum and Collegio Romano. The 69 double-page copperplate maps were printed with the text, and all but seven were from the same plates as those in the Italian editions of 1561, 1564 and 1574, and in the Latin edition of 1562. Many of them, however, were retouched with the burin, and have small figures of ships, fishes, etc., introduced, and some new names added. The ancient maps comprise ten of Europe, four of Africa, twelve of Asia, and one of the world "Ptolemaei cognita." The modern maps in the second part are arranged in the following order: Orbis Terrae Compendiosa Descriptio; Orbis Descriptio; Evropa; Anglia et Hibernia Nova; Hispania Nova Tabvla; Gallia Nova Tabvla; Fiandra, Brabantia et Holanda Nvova; Tavola Nvova di Germania; Tavola Nvova di Schiavonia; Tavola Nvova d'Italia; Tavola Nvova della Marca Trivigiana; Tavola Nvova di Piemonte; Tavola Nvova della Marca D'Ancona; Toscana Nvova Tavola; Tavola Nvova di Sardigna et di Sicilia; Polonia et Hvngaria Nvova Tavola; Schonladia Nvova; Tavola Nvova Prvssia et di Livonia; Di Hvngaria et Transilvania Tauola nouissima; Grætia Nvova Tavola; Africa; Mavritania Nvova Tavola; Africa Minor Nvova Tavola; Marmarica Nvova Tavola; Egitto Nvova Tavola; Africa Nvova Tavola; Asia; Natolia Nvova Tavola; Soria et Terra Santa Nvova Tavola; Persia Nvova Tavola; Arabia Felice Nvova Tavola; Calecvr Nvova Tavola; India Tercera Nvova Tavola; America; Tierra Nveva; Nveva Hispania Tabvla Nova; Tierra Nova; Brasil Nvova Tavola; Isola Spagnola Nova; Isola Cvba Nova; Septentrionalivm Partivm Nova Tabvla; Carta Marina Nvova Tavola. Five of these maps are entirely new; i. e. "Evropa," "Hvngaria et Transilvania," "Africa," "Asia," and "America." Three of the general maps include America, i. e. "Orbis Terrae Compendiosa Descriptio" on leaves 1-2; "Orbis Descriptio" on leaves 9-10; and the "Carta Marina" on leaves 143-144. The "Orbis Terrae Compendiosa Descriptio" differs somewhat from that in the editions of 1596, 1597 and 1598, and is without the elaborate border. Leaves 125-140 of the second part relate to America, and include seven special maps as follows: "America," a new map of both continents on ll. 125-126; "Tierra Nveva" (North America) on ll. 127-128; "Nveva Hispania Tabvla Nova" on ll. 129-130; "Tierra Nova" (South America) on ll. 131-132; "Brasil Nvova Tavola" on ll. 133-134; "Isola Spagnola Nova" on ll. 135-136; and "Isola Cvba Nova" on ll. 137-138.

Collation : 2 preliminary leaves, comprising the title with a dedication on verso, and a second dedication, verso blank ; the text of Ptolemy, leaves 1-62 (sig. a-i in sixes, and k in eight) ; the commentary and annotations of Magini, leaves 1-21, followed by one blank leaf (sig. aa-cc in sixes, and dd in four) ; the index to Ptolemy in 14 leaves (sig. A in six, and B-C in fours) ; La Seconda Parte, leaves 1-212 (sig. A-Ll in sixes, and Mm in eight) ; and the index to the modern part in 30 leaves (sig. a-e in sixes). 63 maps printed in the text, and a map of the world between leaves 19 and 20 of the second part.

The second edition of Cernoti's translation of Magini's Ptolemy. The dedication on the verso of the title is dated "Di Padoua, alli 2. di Dicembre, M. D. xcviij.," and the second dedication, which follows on the next leaf, "Di Padoua il di 16. Febraro, M. DC. xxi." The 64 copperplate maps are the same, and are arranged in the same order, as those in the edition of 1598, which see for a description. They also appeared in the Latin editions of 1596, 1597, 1608, and 1617. The account of America fills leaves 202 verso to 211 recto. Nine of the maps also relate more or less to America. Priced by Quaritch, 1885, £3 16s.

The first edition of the Greek text of Ptolemy's Geography was printed Basiliae, 1533, 4to, pp. (8), 542, (2). + Parisiis, apud Cbr. Wechelum, 1546, 4to, pp. (8), 435-

A new Latin translation from this text was made and published by Joannes Noviomagus (Johann Bronchorst), Coloniae: excudebat Joannes Ruremundanus, Anno m. d. xl. mense Martio, 8vo, pp. (8), 388, Index, 49 leaves. The oldest manuscript of the work known to be extant—probably made about the year 1200—was published in facsimile at Paris in 1867 under the following title: "Geographie de Ptoleemee, reproduction photolithographique de manuscrit Grec du monastere de Vatopedi au Mont Athos, exécutée d'après les clichés obtenus sous la direction de M. Pierre de Sérvastanoff, précédée d'une introduction historique ... par Victor Langlois," folio, pp. 108, with 27 colored maps. According to Dibdin ("Bibliotheca Spenceriana," II. 292-3) Lord Spencer's copy of the Ptolemy of 1475 contained five additional leaves with diagrams, commencing on the verso of the first leaf, recto blank, with "Ymago Mundi Incipit." This description has been copied by several bibliographers, with occasional variations. The five leaves, however, do not belong to the book, but form a part of the works of Pierre d'Ailly which was printed a few years later. Winsor cites (from Thomassy, "Les Papes Géographes") editions of Bologna, 1480, and Florence, 1481. The first named may be the Bologna edition with the false date 1462, and the other is perhaps intended for the Italian version of Berlinghieri, printed at Florence about that time. An edition with 27 copperplate maps, said to be without indication of place or date, but printed about the year 1500, is mentioned by Graesse on the authority of the Butsch catalogue. This was probably a copy of the 1490 edition, lacking the final treatise "De locis," which contained the colophon. Of the 1490 edition, the copy described by Dibdin ("Descriptive Catalogue," 1823, pp. 105-6) contained the 32 maps of the 1486 edition, and the copy collated by Hain ("Repertorium Bibliographicum") was imperfect, lacking seven maps. The descriptions given by Harrisse of the editions of 1511, 1513, 1520, 1522, 1535, 1541, 1542, and 1545, differ more or less from those given above, and in several cases seem to have been made from imperfect copies. Harrisse also gives a title ("Bibliotheca Americana Vetusissima," No. 165) under the year 1532, of "Ptolomei Tabulæ Geographicae Cum Eandem anno rationibus egge illustratæ," which was afterwards copied in the "Supplément" to Brunet's "Manuel du Libraire," and in Winsor's "Bibliography of Ptolemy's Geography." The book thus described is nothing more than a copy of Ziegler's "Quæ intvs continentvr. Syria, ad Ptolomaici operis rationem," etc., Argentorati apud Petrum Opilionem. M. D. XXXII., in the collections of Buckingham Smith, now a part of the library of the New York Historical Society. The fly-leaf preceding the printed title-page contains in manuscript the title given by Harrisse, handsomely engrossed with pen and ink. The word Eandem should be Landaui, however, and the printed title is in its proper place in the volume as well as in Harrisse, No. 170. The edition of Basiliæ, 1555, given by Winsor on the authority of Müller ("Catalogue," 1877, No. 2626), was probably a copy of the edition of 1545, with which the description seems to agree. The 1715 edition quoted from Leleuel by Winsor, is merely a reference to a list entitled "In sequentes varias Geographiæ Claudii Ptolemæi Lectiones," pp. 611-768 of Bernard de Montfaucon's "Bibliotheca Coisliniana, olim Segueriana," Parisii, M. DCC. XV. Santarem (in the "Bulletin de la Société de Géographie," VIII. 175-6, Paris, 1837) gives a brief list of "vingt-cinq éditions de Ptolémée que nous avons consultées, depuis celle de 1511 jusqu'à celle de 1584," which includes several not mentioned elsewhere. The list, however, contains so many evident errors that it cannot be relied on as an authority in this respect. For additional information concerning Ptolemy's Geography and the maps, see G. M. Radelius, "Commentatio critico-literaria de Clavdii Ptolemæi Geographia, eivsqve codicibus tam manuscriptis quam typis expressis," Norimbergæ, 1737; A. H. L. Heeren, "Commentatio de fontibus geographicorum Ptolemæi tabularumque iis annexarum," Göttingen, 1827; D'Avezac, "Restitution de deux passages du text grec de la géographie de Ptolémée," in the "Bulletin de la Société de Géographie," Paris, 1862, IV. 293-320; Castellani, "Catalogo Ragionato delle più rare o più importanti Opere Geografiche a stampa che si conservano nella Biblioteca del Collegio Romano," Roma, 1876; and especially Justin Winsor, "A Bibliography of Ptolemy's Geography," Cambridge, 1884. The only copy known is in the Colonial State Paper Office at London. "It was immediately noticed by the legislative authorities. Four days after it was edited, they spoke of it as a pamphlet, stated that it came out contrary to law, and contained 'reflections of a very high nature.' They strictly forbade 'anything in print without license first obtained from those appointed by the government to grant the same.' Thus terminated the effort to establish a print because not duly authorized, and opposed to the prevalent politics of the Colony."—FELT'S Annals of Salem, II. 14. The "Licencia" on folio 2 is dated "en Toledo, a quatro desetiẽbre, de mill & quinientos y sesenta años," and followed on the verso of the same leaf by the "Comision para la impresion" of the viceroy D. Luis de Velasco to Vasco de Puga, the compiler and editor of the collection. The colophon is on the recto of the last leaf, verso blank. This work, generally known as the "Cedulario" of Puga, was the first printed collection of Mexican laws, and is a volume of great importance and of extreme rarity. PULTENEY. Thoughts on the Present State of Affairs with America, and the Means of Conciliation. By William Pulteney, Esq. Representative in Parliament for the Town of Shrewsbury; and Brother to Governor Johnstone, one of the Commissioners to negotiate Peace with America. To which are added, Two Appendixes, containing Letters wrote by Dr. Franklyn. Also, Extracts from the Works of Dr. Tucker, Dean of Gloucester. The Fourth Edition. Dublin: Printed for William Hallhead MDCCLXXVIII. 8vo, pp. (2), 102. 66648

"This very candid author, (William Pulteney, esq.) a member of parliament for Shrewsbury, appears to have written on purpose to prepare our minds for a plan of reconciliation, which, it is much to be apprehended, will come too late to prevent the loss of America. In the appendix to this pamphlet are some letters written by Dr. Franklin to Gov. Shirley, in 1754, in which the objections of the Americans to being taxed are so fully, ably, and clearly stated, that, as our author says, those who read them with attention, will probably think that hardly anything new has since been suggested on the subject."—Monthly Review, LVIII. 156. "This Hon. Member for Shrewsbury as late as the year 1778 herein reviewed the history of political affairs between England and her American Colonies from 1754, and he came to the conclusion that notwithstanding the obnoxious Parliamentary taxes, the Stamp Act, the Boston-port-bill, the battle of Bunker Hill, and the Declaration of Independence, that the Americans might yet be reconciled with the Mother Country, and abandon their idea of Independency. The book was very popular. To the fifth edition is added Appendix No. III, a letter from Franklin dated Passy, March 12, 1778, explaining several mistakes of the author."—H. STEVENS.

For a description of this rare and curious volume see Leclerc's "Bibliotheca Americana," 1878, No. 1238. It treats of a new kind of ink, which was evidently used in the printing of the volume, as it is illegible in many places. The date was so badly blurred that it could not be read with certainty. If printed in Guatemala, it must be one of the earliest specimens of typography executed in that province.

The first edition of Purchas's well known "Pilgrimage," or accounts of the religions of the world. It is an entirely different work from his larger collection of "Pilgrimes," of which the fourth edition of this forms a fifth or supplementary volume. The distinction between the two works is explained by the author himself in the dedication prefixed to the fourth edition of the "Pilgrimage" in the following words: "It hath pleased his Majestie to enquire further into the different scope of my Pilgrimage, & my then presented Pilgrims, which here also for the Reader's sake I think fit to answer; that These Brethren holding much resemblance in name, nature and feature, yet differ both in the obiect, and subiect: This being mine owne in matter (though borrowed) and in forme of words and method. Whereas my Pilgrims are the Authors themselves, acting their owne parts in their owne words, onely furnished by me with such necessaries as that stage further required, and ordered according to my rules," etc. The following parts relate to America: "Relations of the Discoveries, Regions, and Religions, of the New World. Of New France, Virginia, Florida; New Spaine, with other Regions of America Mexicana, and of their Religions. The Eighth Booke," pp. 601-689; "Relations of the Discoveries, Regions, and Religions, of the New World. Of Cvmana, Gviana, Brasil, Chica, Chilli, Perv, And other regions of America Pervviana, and of their Religions. The Ninth Booke," pp. 691-752.

Collation: 18 preliminary leaves, comprising the engraved title or frontispiece, the printed title, verso blank, the dedication "To the Most High and Excellent Prince, Charles, Prince of Wales," on one leaf, "To the Reader" and "A Note touching the Dutch" in three leaves, "The Contents" in eleven leaves, and a list of "Maps and Peeces cut in Brasse or VVood in the former ten Bookes" on one leaf, verso blank; "The First Booke" of the text, pp. 1-186, followed by a blank leaf with the watermark of a crown (as in the Lenox copy); "An Alphabetical Table" to the first book in 4 leaves; "The Second Booke," pp. 1-107; "The Third Booke," pp. 109-220, 223-226, 225-332 (in some copies, 109-219, 222-227, 226-332); "The Fourth Booke," pp. 333-468, 479-602; "The Fifth Booke," pp. 603-642, 645-748; and "An Alphabetical Table" in 12 leaves, ending with the colophon, verso blank. 13 maps printed in the text, and a separate map between pp. 578 and 579. Sig. ¶ in six (marked ¶3 on second leaf), a in six, A-Q in sixes, R in four (one of which is blank), S in four, Aa-Pppp in sixes, Qqqq in two, and a-c in fours.

The engraved frontispiece is surrounded by an elaborate border, containing at the top five vignettes, on each side fifteen medallion portraits, making thirty in all, and at the bottom a map of the world in two hemispheres, between which is a portrait of Samuel Purchas. The 14 copperplate maps are as follows: Peregrinatio Israelitarū in Deserto on p. 24 of book 1; Peregrinatio Pauli on p. 57 of book 1; Designatio Orbis Christiani on p. 65 of book 1; Aeneae Troiani Navigatio on p. 71 of book 1; Romani Imperii Imago on p. 74 of book 1; Alexandri Magni Exeditio on p. 85 of book 1; Designatio Orbis Christiani on p. 115 of book 1; Iapan I on p. 413; a double-page map entitled "A Description of East India Conteyning th' Empire of the Great Mogoll" between pp. 578 and 579 (with those page numbers engraved on the map); Insulae Indiae orientalis on p. 700; Ceilan insula on p. 712; Persicum Regnum on p. 724; India Orientalis on p. 732; and Africæ Descriptio on p. 748. There are also some tables of alphabets on pp. 180-186 of book 1. The small map of the world on Mercator's projection usually found on p. 65 of book 1, and entitled "Designatio Orbis Christiani" with the heading "Hondius his Map of the Christian World," is not the map which belongs there, but a duplicate of that on page 115 of the same book. Some copies, however, including that in the Grenville collection, have this leaf canceled and its place supplied by another leaf containing the right map, which is in two hemispheres and entitled "Typus Orbis Terrarum," with the heading "Hondius his Map of the World" and this inscription below: "Domini est terra & plenitudo ejus, orbis terrarum, & universi qui habitant in eo. Psalmo 24." This agrees with the list of "Maps and Peeeces" in volume 1., which refers to "Map of the World p. 65," and "Christian World p. 115." The same map (Typus Orbis Terrarum) also appears on page 39 of the "Pilgrimage" of 1626.

A copy of this volume in Harvard College Library contains an earlier impression of the engraved frontispiece, dated 1624 instead of 1625. A copy with a 1624 frontispiece is also noted in the sale catalogue of the Sunderland library, sold in 1882, No. 10376. There are other variations in different copies of this volume, caused by the cancelation and reprinting of several leaves in order to modify some aspersions on the Dutch. Concerning this matter the author has "A Note touching the Dutch," following the preface, in which he says that "The necessitie of a Historie is, as of a sworne Witnesse, to say the truth, all the truth (in just discretion) and nothing but the truth. This I have indeoured in the whole Worke. But, veritas odium parit. Some perhaps will blame me for relating some Truths, specially the Dutch Zelots, in that I haue related such abuses of some of that Nation in the East Indies and Greenland to the English there, as if I sought like an vnseasonable and vncharitable Tale-bearer to raise discord betwixt Neighboures. I answer that no Nation is in this World so pure, but hath both officious members, and some bad members also as Diseases thereof; ... I question not, but that the English haue also such, and such wee haue occasionally noted, Fugitiues, Apostataes, Theeues, Murtherers, &c. which yet are not Nationall faults, but personall, ... If the Dutch haue such also, in the History of both I must mention both, and yet protest before God ... that I am not guiltie to my selfe of hatred to that Nation, yea in these Discourses I haue honoured it with and before others, following them round about the World to that purpose. And for this cause I haue omitted some odious Greenland Relations, haue altered and reprinted some more offensiuue generall speeches disgorged by the passionate loosers, with Titles on the tops of pages, intended to Offenders, but in such vnwarie termes as might by ill willers be extended to the whole Nation: yea, I had purposed to omit many things printed alreadie, rather leauing a χαομα, then causing a Chaos, but that since the sore hath broken out by that terrible Tragedie at Amboyna," etc.

Some alterations were made in signature Tt of book III, which is paged irregularly 217, 218, 219, 220, 223, 224, 225, 226, 225, 226, 227, 228, in the Lenox and Harvard copies. The last marginal note on page 217, which in the earlier impressions reads "Eshins stones of Cathay" (as in the Lenox copy), was corrected to read "Eshim stones of Cathay" (as in the Astor copy). In making the correction, however, the signature mark "Tt," which belongs at the bottom of this page, was omitted—evidently by accident, as the following leaf bears the mark "Tt2." Two alterations were also made in the pagination of this signature: page 220 was numbered 222, and the second page 225 numbered 227, thus reading pp. 217, 218, 219, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 226, 227, 228, as in the Astor copy. Pages 703-706 (sig. Mmm14 and Mmm5) were entirely reprinted. In the first issue the head-line on page 704 reads "Hollanders lying deuices, to disgrace the English." In the reprint it was altered to "Amboyna taken by the Dutch. Ingratitude. Boasting." In the first issue the forty-eighth and forty-ninth lines on page 704 read: "ches of our Nation, and all other Christian Princes (a iust consideration for all Nations to thinke|what this insolent frothy Nation will doe, if they attaine to the possession of the East Indies);" but in the reprint this sentence ends with the words "ches of our Nation, &c."—the remainder of the original sentence being omitted. Two marginal notes on the same page were also omitted in the reprint: the first, "Peeuishnesse|of the Dutch.|Their bragges |and lies;" the second in fourteen lines beginning with "Vnderstand," etc., and referring to the word " Nation" in the sentence quoted above. In the first issue, the first paragraph of Chap. xv. on p. 706 begins with the words "Forasmuch as Banda," etc.; but in the reprint it reads "Considering that Banda." Other changes were also made in the text on the same page. Some copies with these reprinted leaves contain also printed slips with the words "English Voyages to the East Indies," pasted over each of the following objectionable head-lines: "The Hollanders Triumph over the English," on p. 320; "The Hollanders spightfulnessse to the English," on p. 359; "Abuses offered by the Hollanders to the English," on p. 409; "Dutch transportations and abuses: English ships and Factories," on p. 533; "The Hollanders brauado's against the English," on p. 609; "Heathens more kind then Hollanders, to the English," on p. 614; "Hollanders brags to the English. Description of Polarooone," on p. 616; "Dutch iniuries offered to the English," on p. 634; "Infidels more pitifull, then the Dutch Christians," on p. 662; "The Deuill a Lyer and Murderer. Dutch force and fraud," on p. 667; "Dutch crueltie. Their lying deuices," on p. 669; "Ludgate or Newgate prisoners more happy then we," on p. 673; "English loue and aide to the Dutch, ill requited," on p. 686; "The Hollanders will doe no right, nor take no wrong," on p. 717.

For many of the details in the above description of this volume, and also for memoranda on the varieties in the text, I am indebted to Dr. Moore of the Lenox Library; those relating to pages 704 and 706 are from Mr. Lenox's manuscript notes in his copy of the earlier issue of the volume. The Astor copy also contains the original pp. 703-706; and there is a copy with the alterations and reprinted leaves in the library of the New York Historical Society. The engraved frontispiece is often lacking, or its place supplied by Pickering's facsimile. The following is the second part:

The gaps in the pagination of the different volumes are not repeated in the signatures, which run in regular order without a break. The paper in some of the volumes is very thin and poor, and much care is required in the selection of a good set. The four volumes of the "Pilgrimes" in the Grenville collection at the British Museum are described as being quite uncut, measuring exactly fourteen inches in height, and the fifth volume ("Pilgrimage," 1626) as containing many rough leaves, though considerably shorter than the others, thus proving clearly that it was printed on paper of a smaller size than the four other volumes. The five volumes of the set in the Lenox Library are of about equal height, measuring $13\frac{3}{8}$ inches on the leaf. Mr. Murphy's set sold for \$265. Priced by Quaritch, 1885, from £80 to £100.

This work is referred to repeatedly in [Oglethorpe's] "New and Accurate Account of the Provinces of South Carolina and Georgia," London, 1732, where the title is given in a foot note to the following passage in the preface: "About two years ago, captain Purry, a Swiss gentleman, wrote an authentic account of that country in French, which was printed at Neufchattel in Switzerland: and to shew that he believed himself when he gave a beautiful description of South Carolina, he has gone to settle there with six hundred of his countrymen." Also reprinted in Carroll's "Historical Collections of South Carolina," II. 121-140, with "Proposals by Mr. Peter Purry, of Neufchatel, for encouragement of such Swiss Protestants as should agree to accompany him to Carolina, to settle a new colony." Mr. Rich ("Bibliotheca Americana Nova," I. 46), in a note referring to the French treatise from which the translation in the "Gentleman's Magazine" was made, remarks that "This could have hardly been printed before 1732, which induces a belief that Capt. Purry published another tract on the subject, in 1730, or thereabouts."

C.H.K., P. 66741

The preface, which is signed "Caleb Pusey," contains the following account of the book : "Reader, The substance of this book was wrote near two years ago, but being backward in my self to appear in print, as also the press being long expected here before it came, and when come taken up with other important matters intervening, occasioned the delay of its publication till now. As for the Errors of the press, which are many, especially in the former part of the book ... I must desire thee (Reader) upon occasion to take the trouble of turning to the Errata, where I hope thou wilt find the most material collected. The chief occasion of there being so many errors, was, the Printer being a man of another nation and language, as also not bred to that employment, consequently something unexpert both in language and calling, and the corrector's not being so frequently at hand as the case required, all which I desire thou wouldst favourably consider." On page 6 is a reference to Leeds's "Almanack for the year 1695." Pages 108-114 contain "John Woods Vindication of himself from the abuses put upon him by Daniel Leeds." Brinley's copy, lacking the seven pages of errata, sold for $170.

L: is justly rebuked | for falsely citeing him. | ... | Printed at Philadelphia by Joseph Reyners. 1706. | Sm. 4to, pp. (4), 28, 4.

The "Postscript," in four pages, is entitled "A | Small Broom to sweep away the falsehoods which Daniel | Leeds has Thrown into the way of | Thos. Chalkley." Title from Hildeburn's "Issues of the Press in Pennsylvania," No. 107, from a copy in the library of the Meeting for Sufferings, at Philadelphia.

PYNCHON (J. C.) Reply to Chas. Stearns in regard to the Springfield Aqueduct Co. By Joseph C. Pynchon. Springfield. 1849. 8vo. 66866

PYNCHON (W.) The|Covenant of Nature|made with Adam|Described,|and|Cleared from sundry great mistakes. |And thereby Proving,|I. That the kind of Death that was threatned in that Covenant, in Gen. 2. 17. ought |not to be understood in any other kind of Death but of a double spiritual death,|1. By depriving Adam of Gods concreated Image: And|2. By corruption of nature that followed thereupon. |II. Proving that the said Covenant was totally extinguished and made utterly null, |as soon as Adam had but tasted of the forbidden fruit, and received the said|threatned punishment. |III. Expounding Gal. 3. 10. and proving that the curse therein threatned must not|be understood of the curse of the said Covenant of Nature, but of that curse that|is threatned in the Covenant of Grace to the fallen posterity of Adam, for their|not doing of Moses Law by Faith in Christ, which was given to them for the Cove-|nant of Grace and [sic] Reconciliation only. |IV. Expounding Gen. 3. 15. of a double warlike Combate; |1. Between the Devil and the now converted and believing woman with all her|believing Seed. |2. Between the Devils potent Seed, and the one single Seed of the Woman,| [Christ.] [sic] |V. Expounding Dan. 9. 24, 25, 26, 27. for the fuller Explanation of the time and man-|ner of confirming the Covenant of Grace and Reconciliation. |VI. Explaining the true Nature of Gods Forgiveness, and how it makes believing|sinners to be perfectly righteous in Gods sight, from Ch. 15. to Ch. 23. |VII. Expounding every word in Isa. 53. 5. in Ch. 24. |VIII. Expounding Rom. 8. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. 6, 6, 8. in Ch. 25. |By William Pynchon. |... |London, Printed for the Author, and are to be sold at the Bishops-head|in St. Pauls Church-yard. 1662. |4to. A continuation or supplement to "The Meritorious Price of Man's Redemption," 1655, No. 66871, infra. In the preface "To the Judicious Reader," dated "From my Study in Wraysbury, Feb. 10. 1661," and signed "William Pinchon," he says: "Any one that hath but read Mr. Nortons Book of Christs Sufferings, (in Answer to my Book of the meritorious price of mans Redemption) may soon see that I have a necessary Calling to vindicate those blessed Truths from his charge of Heresie which he, in his said Answer hath cast upon it. I printed a Reply to him in the beginning of An. 1655. but then through some necessary hast in setting out that Reply, I did not so fully reply to some Particulars as I desired: and from that time till now I have waited to see what further Answer he was able to give to my said Reply (of the Meritorious Price of mans Redemption,) for the better proving of his said charges."

Written in the form of a dialogue between "Trades-man" and "A Divine." The caption on page 1 begins with the words: "The Meritorious Price of Mans Redemption," etc. It was published on or about June 2, 1650, according to a manuscript memorandum on a copy in the Thomason collection in the British Museum, and on the arrival of some copies in New England, the General Court of Massachusetts ordered (October 15, 1650) that "the sajd booke now brought ouer be burnt by the executioner, or such other as the magistrates shall appointe, (the party being willing to do it,) in the market place in Boston, on the morrow immediatly after the lecture." On October 16th it was resolved by the Court that "Wee doe heereby condemne the sajd bookes to be burned in the market place at Boston by the marshall, which was done accordingly." It was also ordered "that the declaration published yesterday, concerning the booke subscribed by the name of William Pynchon, in New England, Gent^r, shall be signed by the Secretary, and sent into England, to be printed there," and "that Mr John Norton, of Ipswich, be intreated to answer Mr Pynchons booke." The author was also summoned to appear before the next General Court. See Massachusetts Records, Vol. II., pp. 215-216, 239, 248; Vol. IV., part 1., pp. 29, 30, 48, 49, 56, 72. Roger Williams regarded the treatment of the author and his work as a discovery of "what liberty conscience hath in this land." It is a volume of extreme rarity. In the copy described above, now in the library of Mr. S. L. M. Barlow, of New York, pages 35, 46, 47, 134, and 135, were misnumbered 53, 47, 46, 136, and 137; and in Mr. Brinley's copy, which sold for $205, the same misnumberings occur, with several variations, besides, as follows: page 56 was not numbered, and pages 154, 155, and 158, were misnumbered 148, 149, and 152. In every other respect the two copies seem to be alike, page for page. For Mr. Norton's reply see Vol. XIII., No. 55882. The following is Pynchon's reply to Norton's book:

PYNCHON. The Meritorious Price | of | Mans Redemption, |
 or | Christs Satisfaction discussed and explained. | 1 By shewing
 how the Sufferings and the Sacrifice of Christ, did satisfie Gods | Justice, pacifie his Wrath, and procure his Reconciliation for mans Redemp-|tion, from Satans Head-plot. | 2 By vindicating
 the Sufferings and the Sacrifice of Christ, from that most dan-| gerous Scripture-less Tenent, that is held forth by Mr. Norton of New England | in his Book of Christs Sufferings, affirming that he suffered the Essential Tor-|ments of Hell, and the second death from Gods immediate vindicative wrath. | 3 By shewing that the Righteousness and Obedience of Christ in relation to his | Office of Mediatorship, is a distinct sort of obedience, from his moral obedience, | in Chapter the third and elsewhere. | 4 By shewing that the Righteousness of God (so called in Rom. 3.
 21, 22, 26 | in Rom. 10. 3, in 2 Cor. 5. 21. and in Phil. 3. 9.)
 is to be understood of God the | Fathers performance of his Covenant with Christ; namely, that upon Christs | performance of his Covenant (by combating with Satan, and at last by making | his death a sacrifice) he would be reconciled to beleiving sinners, and not im-|pute their sins to them. And therefore 1. This Righteousness of God must | needs be the formal cause of a sinners justification. And 2. It must needs be | a distinct sort of Righteousness from the Righteousness of Christ, contrary to | Mr.
 Nortons Tenent. This is evidenced is Chap. 14. and elsewhere. |

5 By explaining Gods Declaration of the combate between the Devil and the seed | of the woman in Gen. 3. 15. from whence (as from the foundation-principle)|this present Reply doth explain all the after prophecies of Christs Sufferings.|6 By clearing several other Scriptures of the greatest note in these Controversies, | from Mr. Nortons corrupt Expositions, and by expounding them in their right|sense ; Both according to the Context, and according to sundry eminent Or-|thodox Writers. | By William Pynchon Esq; late of New England. | London, Printed by R. I. for Thom. Newberry, and are to be sold at his Shop in | Cornhil, over against the Conduit near the Royal Exchange, 1655. | 4to. J.C.B., H. 66871

Collation : 26 preliminary leaves ; pp. 1-93, 95, 94, 96, 99-114, 113-230, 223, 232, 233, 226, 227, 236, 237, 230, 223, 240, 233-439, (1). Sig. A in four, b-f in fours, g in two, and B-Lll in fours.

This is not a new or second edition of the preceding work, as has been often stated, and as the title might seem to imply. That was written in the form of a dialogue, while this relates almost entirely to Mr. Norton's "Discussion of that Great Point in Divinity," printed in 1653, to which it is a lengthy reply. For the same book, with a different title, see "A Farther Discussion," No. 66868, supra.

PYNCHON. I The Time when the | First Sabbath | was Ordained. | 1 Negatively, Not in the Time of Adams Innocency, | as many say it was. | 2 Affirmatively, It was Ordained after the Time of | Adams Fall and Re-creation. | II The Manner how the First Sabbath was Ordained. | 1 By blessing the Seventh Day with many Spiritual Or-|dinances, both for publick and private use. | 2 By Sanctifying that Day for the Exercise of the said Or-|dinances. | 3 By Sanctifying the outward Rest of that Day, to be a Ty-|pical Sign both of Gods Resting, and of mans Resting | in the Seed of the Woman, that was promised to break | the Devils Head-plot, namely, by his Propitiatory Sacrifice. | And hence it follows, | 1 That as the Sabbath was Ordained to be a typical Sign, | so it must be abolished, as soon as Christ had performed | his said Propitiatory Sacrifice. | 2 As it was Ordained to be the Sanctified time, for the | Exercise of the said blessed Ordinances ; so the next day of | the week, into which it was changed, must continue with-|out intermission to the end of the world. | Part II. III A Treatise of Holy Time, concerning the true limits | of the Lords Day, when it begins, and when it ends, is | hereunto annexed. | By William Pynchon Esq. | Published by Authority. | London, Printed by R. I. and are to be sold by T. N. at the three Lions | in Cornhil, near the Royal Exchange 1654. | 4to, pp. (16), 143 ; Part II., (16), 120. Sig. A, a-x, B-Q, all in fours. B., H.

I am indebted to the Rev. Henry M. Dexter, of New Bedford, Mass., for the above title, taken from a copy in his possession. The volume begins with "A Defence of Evangelical Churches, In a Soft Answer to what may Offend the Churches of New England, in an Hard Attempt against them, under the Title of, The Doctrine of Instituted Churches. And A Short Account of the Discourse about, A Claim to the Lord's Table, here Published and Commended, as a Treatise worthy of Great Acceptance in the Churches," which fills pp. 1-59, and is signed by Increase and Cotton Mather. In this the authors state that it was written by request as a preface to this first American edition of Quick's treatise. An "Advertisement" fills pp. 61-62; "An Attestation," signed by John Higginson and seven others, pp. 63-64; "The Preface," by John Quick, pp. 65-70; and "The Young Man's Claim," pp. 71-92. QUIROS (P. F. de). Señor | El Capitan Pedro Fernandez de Quiros, con este son ocho los memo-|riales que a V. M. he presentado, en razon de la poblacion q̄ se deue hazer en | las tierras que V. M. mandò que descubriessse en la parte Austral incognita, ... [At end:] Señor grande obra es este pues el Demonio le haze tan mortal guerra, y no es bien que pue|da tanto siendo V. M. el defensor della. | [n. p. 1610?] Folio, 2 leaves. BM. 67353

The first page contains fifty lines of text, not counting the heading "Señor" nor the catchword "y mu-;" the second page contains fifty-five lines, with catchword "La;" the third page contains fifty-four lines, with catchword "çoñosas;" and the fourth page contains thirty-nine lines. The preliminary paragraph in fourteen lines is followed by eight other paragraphs, numbered 1 to 8 in small Arabic numerals. The two leaves are also numbered. This memorial in Spanish, addressed to the king of Spain, gives an account of the discovery of the southern continent or "Terra Australis Incognita" by Don Pedro Fernandez de Quiros. The only copy of this edition known to be extant is in the Grenville Library, British Museum. For the title and description I am indebted to Mr. Henry N. Stevens of London. According to Purchas it was first printed at Seville in 1610; and it is said on doubtful authority, to have been suppressed by order of king Philip III. Another edition in Spanish, printed at Pamplona in 1610, 4 leaves in quarto, and of equal rarity with the above, was in a London bookseller's catalogue in 1873, but is now in the public library at Melbourne, Australia.

QUIROS. Exemplar | Libelli supplicis, Potentissimo | Hispaniarum Regi exhibiti, à Capitaneo | Petro Fernandez de Quir: | Super | Detectione quintæ Orbis terrarum partis, cui | Australiæ Incognitæ | nomen est. | Item, | Relatio super Freto per M. Hudsonum Anglum | quæsito, ac in parte detecto suprâ Provincias Terræ | Novæ, novæque Hispaniæ, Chinam & Cathaiam | versus ducturo: | Vna | Cum Freti ipsius, quatenus iam detectum est, | Tabvla Navtica. | Nec non | Isaaci Massæ Harlemensis | Samoiediæ atque Tingoëssæ, regionum ad Orientem ultra | Fretum Weygats in Tartaria sitarum, nuperque Imperio | Molcovitico [sic] adquisitarum descriptio, | Et | Tractus eiusdem Tabula Russica. | Latine versa ab R. Vitellio. | Amsterodami | Ex officina Hesselij Gerardi. Anno 1612. | 4to, 24 leaves. 3 Maps. BM., J.C.B., 67355

Contents: Title, on verso a woodcut of a ship and eight lines in Latin verse beginning "Huc quicumq̄ novas," 1 leaf; "In tractatus sequentes Prolegomena ad Lectorem," signed "Hesselius Gerardus Assumensis Philogeographus," 3 leaves (recto of A2 to verso of A4); "Relatio Memorialis, sive libelli supplicis Majestati Sua oblato per Capitaneum Petrum Ferdinandez de Quir," ending with woodcut of reindeer drawing a sled and two lines beginning "Samoiedarum," 6 leaves (recto of B1 to verso of C2); "Apographum Descriptionis regionum Siberiæ, Samoiediæ, atque Tingoësiæ," 4 leaves (recto of C3 to verso of D2); "Itinerum atq̄ Flvviorm Ortum & Aquilonem versus è Moscovia in Siberiam ... descriptio," 7 leaves (recto of D3 to recto of F1, verso blank); 1 blank leaf; another title, "Descriptio ac delineatio Geographica Detectionis Freti ... Recens investigati ab M. Henrico Hudsono Anglo," with same imprint as first title, and on verso the same woodcut and lines beginning "Huc quicumq̄," 1 leaf; "Relatio Super detectione novi ad Caurum transitus," giving an account of Henry Hudson's discoveries, 2 leaves, verso of last one blank (no sig.). The maps, verso blank, comprise the "Tabvla Navtica," the "Caerte van't Noorderste Russen," etc., and a map of the world in two hemispheres.

The above is the first edition of this work, according to Asher, "Henry Hudson the Navigator," pp. 267-8. There is another variety, probably issued afterwards, and sometimes with 23 instead of 24 leaves (sig. A in six, B-E in fours, and F in one), in which the two leaves concerning Hudson's discoveries, "Relatio Super detectione novi ad Caurum transitus," were taken from the end of the volume and placed between the "Prolegomena" and Quir's "Relatio" (i. e. between sig. A and B), and the accompanying title "Descriptio ac delineatio Geographica" prefixed to the volume instead of the other title, which was either omitted or (as in the Huth copy) placed at the beginning of Quir's "Relatio," in front of sig. B. For the full title of this reissue see Vol. VIII., No. 33490. In other respects the two are alike. A copy in the Lenox Library is arranged in a still different manner, as follows: Title, "Descriptio ac delineatio Geographica," 1 leaf; "Relatio Super detectione novi ad Caurum transitus," 2 leaves; 1 blank leaf; 3 Maps; title, "Exemplar Libelli supplicis," 1 leaf; "In tractatus sequentes Prolegomena," 3 leaves (sig. A2, etc.); "Relatio Memorialis," 6 leaves; "Apographum," 4 leaves; "Itinerum," 7 leaves, followed by 1 blank leaf. Perfect copies are very rare. Mr. Murphy's copy, with 2 Maps, sold for $100. For another edition of this collection in Latin, and for the same in Dutch see Vol. VIII., Nos. 33489, 33491. The relation of Quiros was also included in the tenth part of De Bry's small voyages, in Latin and in German; in the twelfth part of the German collection of Hulsius; in the "Journale vande Nassausche Vloot," and in several other works. See Tiele, pp. 179-190.

This relation contains an account of the murder of Jean de Breuef and Gabriel Lalemant by the Hurons, and ends with an epistle from I. M. Chaumonot, dated "De l'Isle de S. Ioseph, ce 1. Iuin 1649." Priced by Maisonneuve, 1878, 200 francs. Another edition as follows:

The volume also contains "The Proceedings against Sir Walter Raleigh, Kt., at the King's Bench Bar in Westminster, the 28th of October, 1618," with an account of his execution, his letter to the king, and occasional references to the unfortunate expedition to Guiana. Reprinted in Somers's "Collection," vol. II.

Collation: Title, containing vignette of an Amazon and two headless men with faces below their shoulders, copperplate slightly cracked; the preface by Hulsius, "L. H. Benevolo Lectori," in 2 leaves; text, pp. 1-12; "Tabvla locorum," with colophon, 1 leaf, verso blank. Sig. A-B in fours, and C in two. Folded map and 6 plates.

This Latin translation of Raleigh's account of his voyage to Guiana was probably printed subsequently to the German version of the same year (No. 67562, infra), which forms the fifth part of the series of voyages published by Hulsius. Page 2 is misnumbered 6 in the Lenox copy. The map and plates are the same as those in the German version. The map represents the northern part only of South America, with the date 1599. The plates, which are arranged in the following order, contain on the upper corners the page numbers opposite, which they belong: Map of "Mare del Nort," "Terra di Paria," etc., p. 4; Plate of "Simi Vulpá," "Armadillo," etc., p. 5; Plate of the town of "Manoa odel Dorado," p. 7; Plate of a group of natives seated and carousing, p. 11; Plate of Amazons shooting at two men suspended to a tree, p. 14; Plate of two headless men, p. 15. Improved title of our No. 33659, Vol. VIII. Perfect copies are very rare. Another Latin translation, made by Gotthart Arthus from the Dutch version printed at Amsterdam in 1598, was included in the eighth part of De Bry's collection of voyages, 1599 and 1625.

RALEIGH. By the King. A Proclamation declaring His Maiesties pleasure concerning Sir Walter Rawleigh, and those who adventured with him. London. 1618. Folio, 1 page. BM.

Dated at Greenwich, June 9, 1618. It was reprinted in the "Western Antiquary,"

III. 196-197. Another proclamation relating to Raleigh, dated at Westminster, June 11, 1618, was reprinted in Rymer's "Fœdera," XVI., 92. See also Cayley's "Life of Sir Walter Raleigh," II. 410-411.

RALEIGH. A | Declaration | of the Demea-|nor and Cariage
of | Sir Walter Raleigh, | Knight, aswell in his Voyage, as | in, and sithence his Returne ; | And of the true motiues and induce-| ments which occasioned His Maiestie | to Proceed in doing Iustice vpon him, | as hath bene done. | London, | Printed by Bonham Norton | and Iohn Bill, Printers to the | Kings most Excellent Maiestie. |
M. DC. XVIII. | Sm. 4to, pp. (4), 68. Sig. A-H in fours, and 1 in two, besides the two preliminary leaves. L. 67548

The first leaf contains only the letter A within a typographical ornament, printed on the lower margin of the recto. On the verso of the title is a woodcut of the Royal Arms. The King's commission to Sir Walter Raleigh for the voyage to South America in 1617, fills pp. 9-24; the account of his actions during that expedition and until his return, pp. 25-43; and the last division, beginning "Vpon Saturday the 25. Iuly," etc., pp. 45-68. Pages 8 and 44 are blank, and there is no colophon. The "Declaration" is an attempt to justify the execution of Sir Walter Raleigh in 1618, nominally under the sentence imposed on him in 1603. Dr. Brushfield, in his bibliography of Raleigh in the "Western Antiquary," v. 219, says: "A copy of the letter from Sir Robert Naunton to the Marquis of Buckingham ... shows the date of publication to have been November 27th, 1618; and relates particulars of the great haste of the Government to publish both it and Sir Lewis Stukeley's petition. ... According to Edwards (i., 654-5, 715), Lord Bacon suggested it, 'penned it and published it;' and he attempts to exonerate the king, not only from all knowledge of it, but from any blame attaching to it. Apart from the extreme improbability of this, we have the following distinct statement of Lord Bacon, in a letter to Buckingham, under date November 22nd, 1618:—'We have put the Declaration touching Raleigh to the press, with bis Majesty's additions, which were very material, and fit to proceed from his Majesty.'"

There are two varieties of this edition in the Lenox Library. In the copy described above pages 66 and 67 are misnumbered 62 and 63, and the last line (including catchword) on page 65 is "Maiesties Iustice, and the rest, evidently proued." In the other copy pages 65, 66, 67, and 68, are misnumbered 61, 62, 63, and 64, and the line "Maiesties Iustice," etc., is transposed to the top of the next page (misnumbered 62). Mr. C. H. Kalbfleisch has a copy in which pages 65 and 68 are misnumbered 61 and 64, and in which the above-mentioned line of text comes at the bottom of page 65 (misnumbered 61). In other respects the three copies appear to agree page for page and line for line. Another variety as follows:

RALEIGH. A | Declaration | of the Demea-|nor and Cariage
of | Sir Walter Raleigh, | Knight, aswell in his Voyage, as | in, and
sithence his Returne ; | And of the true motiues and induce-| ments which occasioned His Maiestie | to Proceed in doing Iustice vpon him, | as hath bene done. | London, | Printed by Bonham Norton | and
Iohn Bill, deputie Printers for | the Kings most Excellent Maiestie. |
M. DC. XVIII. | Sm. 4to, pp. (4), 68. Sig. A-H in fours, and 1 in two, besides the two preliminary leaves. L. 67549

This copy varies slightly in the imprint. It contains the leaf with the letter A preceding the title, and has all the pages correctly numbered. The last line (including catchword) on page 65 reads "Maiesties Iustice, and the rest, evidently proued." The last two leaves have evidently been reprinted, but in other respects it is the same as the preceding edition. Entirely reprinted as follows :

RALEIGH. A | Declaration | of the Demea- | nor and Cariage of
| Sir Walter Raleigh, | Knight, aswell in his Voyage, as | in, and sithence his Returne ; | And of the true motiues and induce- | ments which occasioned His Maiestie | to Proceed in doing Iustice vpon
him, | as hath bene done. | London, | Printed by Bonham Norton | and Iohn Bill, Printers to the | Kings most Excellent Maiestie. | M. DC.-
xviii. | [Colophon :] | Imprinted at London by | Bonham Norton and
Iohn | Bill, Printers to the Kings | most Excellent Maiestie. | Anno 1618. | Sm. 4to, pp. (4), 63. Sig. A-H in fours, besides the two preliminary leaves. L. 67550

The first leaf contains only the letter A, as in the other editions. A woodcut of the Royal Arms is on the verso of the title, and the colophon on page 63, the verso of which is blank. This edition is an entire reprint, but agrees nearly line for line with the others as far as page 43. Pages 45-63, however, were printed in smaller type, and contain the same matter as pp. 45-68 of the other editions. With the Lenox copy of this edition of the "Declaration" is bound the following petition, which also accompanies some copies of the other editions :

To the Kings | most Excellent Maiestie. | The humble petition and infor- | mation of Sir
Lewis Stucley, Knight, Vice- | admirall of Deuon, touching his owne beha- | uiour in the charge committed vnto him, for | the bringing vp of Sir Walter Raleigh, | and the scandalous aspersions cast vpon him | for the same. | [Colophon :] | Imprinted at London by | Bonham Norton and Iohn | Bill, Printers to the Kings | most Excellent Maiestie. | Anno 1618. | Sm.
4to, 1 blank leaf, pp. 1-17, colophon (1). Sig. A-B in fours, and C in two.

Dr. Brushfield says that "in a letter from Sir R. Naunton to the Marquis of Buckingham, dated November 27th, 1618, ... Stucley's petition is stated to have been published on the previous day." The "Declaration" was reprinted in Cayley's life of Raleigh, and in Spedding's edition of Lord Bacon's works, vol. vi., pp. 384-413; and both it and the petition were reprinted in the "Harleian Miscellany," and in Somers's "Collection." For a Dutch translation of the two tracts see No. 67592, infra.

Imprinted at London by Robert Robinson. | 1596. | Sm. 4to. L.

Collation: Title, verso blank; dedicatory epistle to Charles Howard and Sir Robert Cecyll in 4 leaves; To the Reader in 3 leaves; text, pp. 112. Sig. A, ¶, B-P, all in fours. On page 102 begins "An Abstract taken out of certaine Spanyardes Letters concerning Guiana and the Countries lying vpon the great riuier of Orenoque: with certaine reportes also touching the same." This consists of "Letters taken at Sea by Captaine George Popham. 1594.," which fill pp. 105-112.

Three different editions of this book were printed in the same year, in all of which there are many variations in the spelling and typography, although their contents apparently agree page for page and nearly line for line. The following are a few of the peculiarities of the edition described above: pages 13, 43, 74, 78, 82, 83, 86 and 87, are respectively misnumbered 31, 41, 76, 74, 92, 93, 96 and 97; page 102 is not numbered, and the vignette at the top is different from that in the next following edition (No. 67552), but is like that in No. 67554; the third line of the first page of the dedication begins with the word "singular," and the sixth line with "miralls;" the heading of the dedication is printed "The Epistle Dedicatory" twice, and "The Epistle Dedicatry" once; the fourth line from the bottom of the eighth page of the dedication begins with "died phrasæ, forme, nor fashion;" the eighth line of page 3 begins with "ing the riuér Carone;" the seventh line of page 5 is "from the saide coast;" the sixth line of page 9 is "cared for in a sort farre more differing;" the twelfth line of page 60 begins "vpon it, there;" the last words on page 73 are "Wee there-;" and the last line of text on page 104 is "ment of the indifferent reader." Another edition as follows:

RALEIGH. The| Discoverie| of the Large,| Rich and Bevvtfvl|
| Empire of Gviana, with| a relation of the Great and Golden City
| of Manoa (which the spaniards call El | Dorado) And the prou-
|inces of Emeria,| Arromaia, Amapaia and other Coun-|tries, with
| their riuers, ad-|ioyning| Performed in the year 1595. by Sir| W.
| Raleigh Knight, Captaine of her| Maiesties Guard, Lo. Warden|
| of the Stanneries, and her High-| nesse Lieutenant generall| of the | Countie of | Cornewall. | [Ornamental vignette.] | Imprinted at
London by Robert Robinson | 1596. | Sm. 4to, pp. (16), 112. Sig.
A, ¶, B-P, all in fours L. 67552

This edition differs from one or both of the others in the following and in many other respects: pages 21, 82, 83, 86, 87, 92, 93 and 99, are respectively misnumbered 12, 92, 93, 96, 97, 98, 90 and 93; page 102 is not numbered, and the vignette at the top is different from that used in both of the other editions; the third line of the first page of the dedication begins with the word "singular," and the sixth line with "miralls;" the heading of the dedication is printed "The Epistle Dedicatory" three times; the fourth line from the bottom of the eighth page of the dedication begins with "studied prase, frome, nor fashion;" the eighth line of page 3 begins "the riuér Carone;" the seventh line of page 5 is "me from the said coast;" the sixth line of page 9 is "red for in a sort farre more differing;" the twelfth line of page 60 begins "on it, there;" the last words on page 73 are "We there;" and the last line of text on page 104 is "of the indifferent reader." A copy in Harvard College Library agrees with the above description in every respect, except that page 26 is misnumbered 18. This is the edition followed in the reprint published by the Hakluyt Society. Some copies have the following title:

RALEIGH. The| Discoverie| of the Large,| Rich and Bevvtfvl|
| Empire of Gviana, with| a relation of the Great and Golden Citie
| of Manoa (which the spaniards call El | Dorado) And the prou-
|inces of Emeria,| Arromaia, Amapaia and other Coun-|tries, with
| their riuers, ad-|ioyning| Performed in the year 1595. by Sir| W.
| Raleigh Knight, Captaine of her| Maiesties Guard, Lo. Warden|
| of the Stanneries, and her High-| nesse Lieutenant generall| of the

London by Robert Robinson | 1596. | Sm. 4to, pp. (16), 112. Sig. A, ¶, B-P, all in fours. C.H.K. 67553

The only variation in this copy is in the spelling of the last word in the sixth line of the title. The book itself agrees throughout with the preceding edition, No. 67552. A third edition as follows :

RALEIGH. The | Discoverie | of the Large, | Rich, and Bevtifvl |
| Empyre of Gviana, with | a relation of the great and Golden Citie |
| of Manoa (which the Spanyards call El | Dorado) And of the | Prouinces of Emeria, | Arromaia, Amapaia, and other Coun- | tries, with their riuers, ad- | ioyning. | Performed in the yeare 1595. by
Sir | W. Raleigh Knight, Captaine of her | Maiesties Guard, Lo.
Warden | of the Stanneries, and her High- | nesse Lieutenant gen-
erall | of the Countie of | Cornwall. | [Ornamental vignette.] |
Imprinted at London by Robert Robinson. | 1596. | Sm. 4to, pp. (16),
112. Sig. A, ¶, B-P, all in fours. C.H.K., L., N. 67554

The following peculiarities will serve to distinguish this edition : pages 82, 83, 86 and 87, are respectively misnumbered 92, 93, 96 and 97 ; page 102 is numbered, and the ornamental vignette at the top is different from that in No. 67552, but is like that in No. 67551 ; the third line of the first page of the dedication begins with the word "singuler," and the sixth line with "mirals ;" the heading of the dedication is printed "The Epistle Dedicatorie" three times ; the fourth line from the bottom of the eighth page of the dedication begins with "died phrase, forme, nor fashion ;" the eighth line of page 3 begins "sing the riuier Carone ;" the seventh line of page 5 is "from the said coast ;" the sixth line of page 9 is "cared for in a sort farre differing ;" the twelfth line of page 60 begins "it, there ;" the last words on page 73 are "Wee therefore ;" and the last line of text on page 104 is "ment of the indifferent reader."

The following remarks on two of the editions, by John Payne Collier in his "Bibliographical Account of Early English Literature" (American edition), III. 268-71, will apply to all three editions : "That there were two distinct impressions of the above work there can be no doubt, although the important circumstance has been passed over without notice by all Raleigh's biographers, and has only recently been touched upon, when 'some trifling typographical differences' were alluded to, but not pointed out. The fact is, that Raleigh's 'Discovery of Guiana' was reprinted in 1596, from the first page to the last, and the typographical differences are to be reckoned by thousands, many of them upon each page, and some of considerable interest. The title-pages of the two editions, to a cursory observer, look like the same ; but we have both before us while we write, and we find that there are at least a dozen variations in the fore-fronts only : on the third page of the Dedication nearly forty changes were made, and they extend even to the manner in which the initials of the author were appended in both instances. In the whole there are about 200 differences of typography in those eight leaves. Of course we cannot go minutely over the whole work, but in the last sentence of the body of it we detect a proportionate number of changes, not indeed altering the sense, but proving that every line in the book was recomposed. The fact is important, because it shows that the interest taken in the subject was so great, directly after Raleigh's return, that whatever number of copies was struck off in the first instance (and we may well believe it to have been large) it was insufficient to satisfy public curiosity. The names, especially of the Spaniards and Peruvians, are differently spelt in the two impressions ; words are now and then omitted which are absolutely necessary to the sense, and the tense of verbs in not a few cases amended. In both editions Robinson, the printer, may be said to have done his work well, considering the haste, and the nature and imperfection of his materials in the first instance. The second impression shows that comparatively few typographical errors were committed in it; and we find that on the 2d May following Robinson was employed to print and publish copies of Sir W. Raleigh's patent for granting licenses for the sale of wines. The date is important, since it proves how soon after Raleigh's return from Guiana he obtained this valuable concession." Copies were priced by a London bookseller in 1880 at £20, and in 1885 at £50. The work was reprinted in Hakluyt's collection of voyages, 1599, Vol. III.; in Raleigh's "Works" (1751, 1829), and in the 1820 edition of his "History of the World;" in Cayley's "Life of Sir Walter Raleigh;" in the Hakluyt Society's volume for 1848; and in E. J. Payne's "Voyages of the Elizabethan Seaman" (London, 1880). For a Latin translation see No. 67546, supra, and for the German and Dutch versions see Nos. 67556, 67558, 67562-66 and 67595-97, infra. A French translation was included in Coreal's "Voyages." The Lenox copy, however, is bound at the end of a copy of the second volume of that work dated 1646.

At the end of volume vi. is an appendix (not in other editions), containing "The Discovery of ... Guiana," pp. 1-110; "Considerations on the Voyage to Guiana," pp. 111-133; "Orders to the Commanders of the Fleet," pp. 135-146; and "An Apology for the last Voyage to Guiana," pp. 147-176. The following is a list of the other editions:

The History of the World|At London Printed for Walter Burre.[1614] [Colophon:] London | Printed by William Stansby for Walter Burre, and are | to be sold at his Shop in Pauls Church-|yard at the signe of the Crane. [1614.] Folio, verses entitled "The Minde of the Front" on 1 leaf, recto blank; engraved title, 1 leaf; the preface in 20 leaves; the contents in 20 leaves; the first part of the history, pp. 1-492, 491-651, followed by 1 blank leaf; the second part of the history, pp. 1-776; "To the Reader" on 1 leaf; "A Chronological Table" in 13 leaves; alphabetical tables in 16 leaves; Errata on 1 leaf, with vignette and colophon on verso, followed by 1 blank leaf. The first edition, published without the name of the author. It was entered for license in the registers of the Company of Stationers, for Walter Burre, three years before, under date of April 15, 1611, as "The history of the world written by Sir Walter Rawlcighe." It has been stated that King James desired to have the work suppressed. The verses on the first leaf are by Ben Jonson. The elaborately designed title or frontispiece, engraved by Elstracke, was prefixed to all the subsequent editions to 1687, but in those of 1617-1634 without alteration of the original imprint and date. According to the British Museum catalogue there is another variety of this edition in that collection, in which the "errata" of the first issue have been corrected. The long printed title containing a synopsis of the contents and the name and portrait of the author, but without imprint or date, was probably first issued with one of the two editions published in 1617, and was used as late as the edition of 1652.

Dr. T. N. Brushfield (in the "Western Antiquary," v. 244) describes an edition with a colophon dated 1617, which seems to agree in every other respect with the collation and colophon of the edition of 1621, including the printed title with portrait.

At London Printed for Walter Burre. |1614| [Colophon:] London. Printed for H. Lownes, G. Latbum, and R. Young. Anno Domini 1628. Folio. According to Dr. T. N. Brushfield ("Western Antiquary," v. 244) this edition is identical in title, leaves and paging, with the preceding edition.

BA. According to Dr. Brushfield the copy at the British Museum has the engraved title dated 1665. A copy in the Boston Public Library varies slightly in the imprint of the printed title: London, | Printed for Robert White, John Place, and George Darwes; and are to be sold by Thomas Rookes at the Lamb and Ink-bottle at the East-end of [St. Pauls^{ch}] | MDCLXVI., and also in a portion of the pagination: pp. 747-752, 755-948, etc.

B., L., N. There are probably two varieties of the printed title to this edition. Dr. Brushfield gives the imprint of the printed title of 1677 in the British Museum copy and then adds: "My copy has a second title, with this addition:— 'Whereunto is added in this Edition, the Life and Tryal of the Author.'" He also states that some copies of the earlier editions have inserted a reprint of this "Life" in 36 pages in double columns (see No. 67568, infra), and mentions copies of the 1614 and 1634 editions in his possession as instances of this kind.

Folded map and 6 plates. In the Lenox Library.

This German translation of Raleigh's account of his voyage to Guiana forms the fifth part of the series of voyages published by Hulsius. The map represents the northern part only of South America, with the following inscription at the top: "Nova et exacta delineatio Americæ partis avstralis. que est: Brasilia, Caribana, Gviana regnum Nouum Castilia del Oro, Nicaragua, Insulæ Antillas et Perv. Et sub Tropico Capricorni, Chile, Rio della Plata, Patagonv̄, & Fretv̄ Magellanicv̄. Noribergæ. per Levinum Hulsium. Anno. 1599." The same map also accompanies the fourth part of Hulsius's collection, which comprises the voyage of Ulrich Schmidel. The plates have engraved on the upper corners the page numbers opposite which they belong, and are arranged as follows: Map of "Mare del Nort," "Terra di Paria," etc., p. 4; Plate of "Simi Vulpa," "Armadillo," etc., p. 5; Plate of the town of "Manoa od el Dorado," and "Lacvs salsvs Parime," p. 7; Plate of two Amazons on the left, with men and women seated and carousing, p. 11; Plate of Amazons shooting at two men, suspended by their legs to a tree, p. 14; Plate of two headless men, with bows and arrows, p. 15. Reprinted as follows:

Collation: Title, containing the same vignette as in preceding edition, copperplate cracked; the preface, "Zum Günstigen Leser S.," without Hulsius's name, in 3 pages (recto of Aij to recto of A3); the text, pp. 1-17 (verso of A3 to verso of Cij); "Tabel der Orthern" and colophon, 1 page (recto of C4), verso blank. Folded map and 6 plates.

The second edition. The map and plates are the same as in the first edition, and the latter contain the same page numbers in the upper corners. The map represents the northern part only of South America, and is dated 1599. There is another copy of this edition in the Lenox Library which corresponds with the above as far as page 11, but contains a number of variations in signature C (pp. 12-17 and table), showing that this part was reprinted. The variations are apparent on page 13, which contains three more lines of text; and page 17 has but seven lines, instead of thirteen lines as in the other impression. Both varieties of this edition are among the rarest of the series. Reprinted again as follows:

RALEIGH. Die Fünffte | Kurtze Wunderbare Beschreibung, |
Desz Goldreichen König-|reichs Guianæ in America oder neuen
Welt, | vnter der linea Æquinoctiali gelegen: So neulich Anno

Collation: Title, containing the same vignette as in the preceding editions, copperplate badly cracked; preface "Zum Günstigen Leser" in 3 pages (recto of Aij to recto of A3); the text, pp. 1-17 (verso of A3 to verso of Cij); "Tabel der Orthern" and colophon, 1 page (recto of C4), verso blank. Folded map and 6 plates.

The third edition, and the first to contain at the top of the title an indication of its number in the series. The map of the northern part of South America with the date 1599, and the 6 plates, are all the same as in the first and second editions, with the exception that some of the plates have different page numbers as follows: 4, 5, 6, 11, 12, 15. Page 17 contains twenty-one lines of text. Another edition as follows:

RALEIGH. Die Fünffte | Kurtze Wunderbare Beschreibung, |
Desz Goldreichen König-|reichs Guianæ in America oder neuen
Welt, | vnter der linea Æquinoctiali gelegen: So neulich Anno |
1594. 1595. vnd 1596. von dem Wolgeborenen Herrn, Herrn

Folded map and 6 plates.

The fourth edition. The map of the northern part of South America dated 1599, and the six plates, are like those in the preceding editions, with the exception that the plates have the numbers partly changed : 4, 5, 6, 10, 12, 15. Page 17 contains twenty-two lines of text. The Lenox copy also contains a map of the southern part of South America, marked "No. 2.," and dated "Per Leuin : Hulsium. A^o. 1602," pasted to the other map, with which it was evidently made to conform in every respect. There are two other copies of this edition in the Lenox Library with variations. In one of them the vignette on the title has been reëngraved, and may be distinguished from the cracked one formerly used by the absence of trees in the background. At the bottom is the mark of the engraver "T-I f." The plates in this copy are numbered 4, 5, 6, 10, 12, 16. In the other copy the vignette on the title is entirely different, representing a vessel at anchor and men on shore, with grotesque figures at the sides. This vignette also appears on the title of the nineteenth part of Hulsius's collection (Braun's voyage to Congo). Reprinted again as follows :

The fifth edition. Page 17 contains twenty-three lines of text. In the copy described above the title and text are in facsimile, but the map and plates are genuine. Perfect copies are in the Grenville collection at the British Museum, and in the Hamburg Library. For another German version see the eighth part of De Bry's collection of voyages, 1599 and 1624. See "Contributions to a Catalogue of the Lenox Library, No. 1," pp. 8-10.

RALEIGH. The | Life | Of the Valiant & Learned | Sir Walter Raleigh, | Knight. | With his | Tryal | at | Winchester. | London, | Printed by J. D. for Benj. Shirley, and Richard | Tonson under the Dial of St. Dunstans Church | in Fleetstreet, and under Grays-Inn

Gate next | Grays-Inn Lane, 1677. | 8vo, Imprimatur 1 leaf, title 1 leaf, pp. 5-243, (1). Sig. A-P in eights, and Q in two. L.

The authorship is attributed by Wood ("Athenæ Oxonienses") to John Shirley, A.M., who was born in 1648 and died in 1679. It was evidently first printed in folio form (pp. 1-44, 51-54) in the edition of Raleigh's "History of the World" published in 1677, as several errors which appear in it there are corrected in this octavo edition, which also contains some additional matter.

Another edition of the preceding work, in double columns. It was probably printed for insertion in the earlier editions of the "History of the World." Title furnished by Mr. Charles R. Hildeburn, of Philadelphia. Another edition as follows:

Wood records orders of 1636, 1651 and 1656." He also states that it was reprinted "as a separate work in 1754 (Glasgow, 12mo, pp. 90), with a title commencing 'Instrctions of a Father to his Son.'" The "Registers of the Stationers' Company," by Arber, under date of April 13, 1632, as cited by Dr. Brushfield, record the license of a book which was probably "one of the two editions issued in 1632." This may refer to an edition of Raleigh's "Instrctions" published during his imprisonment. According to Dr. Brushfield, the first portion of the work was reprinted "as the first article in Instructions for Youtb, Gentlemen and Noblemen, published in 1722 (pp. 7-42); and reissued in 1728, with a new title-page, as Walsingham's Manual or Prudential Maxims for Statesmen and Courtiers." The third edition of the first volume. It contains a new preface by "Tommaso Giunti alli lettori," giving an account of Ramusio, but in other respects appears to be an exact reprint of the edition of 1554, without additions. The three double-page copperplate maps were copied, with some variations, from those engraved on wood in the edition of 1554, omitting the eleven lines of text on the back of the map of Africa. Some copies of this volume may have been issued without them, as they are often lacking. The New York Historical Society copy does not contain them, but they are loosely inserted in the Lenox copy, which is in the original binding and in fine condition. They are in the copies at the Boston Athenæum and Boston Public Library, but are lacking in the Harvard College copy, which contains the three woodcut maps of the edition of 1554 inserted in their place. Reprinted again as follows :

The first edition of the second volume. The publication was delayed until after the issue of the third volume in 1556, because a part of the materials for it were not ready at that time; but the death of Ramusio in July, 1557, and the destruction of a portion of the copy, with the accompanying maps or engravings, at the burning of the printing office of the Giunti in November of the same year, left the volume in the unfinished state in which it was finally printed. The preface contains an apology for this delay.

Ramusio's collection of voyages is one of the earliest and most important. It was edited with great care, and includes several relations not printed elsewhere. The third volume relates almost entirely to America. It was the intention of Ramusio to publish a fourth volume, but the plan was interrupted by his death in 1557. The preface to the third edition of the first volume (1563), and the introduction to the account of Peru in the third volume, both contain references to this proposed continuation. The most complete editions of the several volumes are: vol. i., 1554, and the reprints of 1563, 1588, 1606, and 1613; vol. ii., 1583, and the reprint of 1606; and vol. iii., 1606. Some bibliographers have mentioned editions of vol. ii. dated 1564 and 1613, and of vol. iii. dated 1613; but I have found no proof of their existence.

RAMUSIO. Il Viaggio di Giovan Leone e le navigazioni di Alvise da ca de mosto, di pietro di cintra, di annone, di un piloto portoghese e di vasco di gama; quali si leggono nella raccolta di Giovambattista Ramusio. Venezia, co' tipi di Luigi Plet. M DCCC XXXVII. Sm. folio, pp. (14), 13-257. Portrait of Ramusio and Map of Africa. A. 67743

No more published. A new edition of Ramusio's collection of voyages was commenced at Venice in 1835, but its publication was discontinued before the completion of the first volume, which was issued with the above title. The signatures are marked "Ram. vol. i."

Randall and Charles Whitney. Published by Order of the House of Representatives. [n. p. 1795?] 8vo, pp. 32. 67796

"Just after the conclusion of Wayne's treaty, a speculation in Michigan of the most gigantic kind was undertaken by certain astute Yankees, named Robert Randall, Charles Whitney, Israel Jones, Ebenezer Allen, &c., who, in connection with various persons in and about Detroit proposed to buy of the Indians eighteen or twenty million acres, lying on lakes Erie, Huron, and Michigan, the pre-emption right of which they hoped to obtain from the United States, by giving members of Congress an interest in the investment. Some of the members who were approached, however, revealed the plan, and Randall, the principal conspirator having been reprimanded, the whole speculation disappeared."—PERKINS'S Annals of the West, p. 459. The “Relation” begins as follows: “In the year 1683, I embarked aboard the Rose Friggot (Captain William Phipps Commander) with my Brother Mr Edward Randolph who was sent to New-England with the Quo Warranto against the Charter of the Colony of the Massachusetts Bay. About the 12 of September we departed from the Downs, and in 5 weeks arrived in the Port of Boston, which is the Principal Town of all New-England. Upon our arrival a Court was called to consult how they should proceed, and it was carried in the general, that they should defend their Charter at Law, and resolved they were to defend it; which was all the answer that my Brother could get from them. So he resolv’d to Embarque upon the first ship bound for England, which was a small Pink called the Adventure, John Balston Master, belonging to New-England. The 12 of December we imbarqued,” etc.

A large part of the work is said to have been written by Diderot, and others. The sentiments and criticisms contained in it prevented its publication in France; therefore the Abbé Raynal, according to Quéraud, caused three copies to be first printed at Paris by Stoupe, one of which he left in the care of the printer, the second he reserved for himself, and the third he sent to Geneva to be reprinted as above. The book was condemned by the French parliament and church dignitaries, and Raynal was obliged to leave France. Other editions as follows:

The second and third treatises (pp. 24-41 of the first part) consist of an account of Henry Hudson's voyages, and Quir's relation of the discovery of the southern continent, both reprinted from one of the collections published by Hessel Gerritsz at Amsterdam in the same year (see Vol. VIII., Nos. 33489-91; XVI. 67355). The second part (pp. 1-480) is a reprint of the first Latin edition of Benzoni, 1578, with which it agrees nearly page for page. One of the maps represents the Pobvs Arcticus and neigh-oring lands, and the other shows the northern passage by water from Europe to China.

The woodcut on the title-page is repeated on the recto of the fourth leaf, the verso of which is blank. It contains a figure resembling an Indian with a bow and arrow. On the verso of the title-page is a rude woodcut map of the eastern hemisphere, surmounted by the following inscription printed from metal type: Disc spered nach Ptholomeus beschreybung des erdreychs wirdt | euch lernen vnd vnderweysen die gelegenheyt der landen bey wel-|cher linien vnd grads Auch ist die nach gesetzt figur, in jr halten alle|nach geschribne ding von newen Inseln vnd landen die man yetz|in kurtz gefunden hat, das dan den Philosophi lange zeyt verborgen | ist gewesen. Man findt auch darin verzeychnet Nurnberg, Lisz-|bona vñ kallakuth mit pückten vñ einzalig buchstaben in der figur. | This allusion to the new lands and island lately discovered may have reference also to the discoveries of Columbus and Vespuccius; but there is no notice of America in the text itself, which begins on the recto of the second leaf and ends on the verso of the third leaf. This map is one of the earliest printed on which the whole African continent is shown. The probable date of publication has been inferred by the mention on the verso of the second leaf, of the loss of two large ships in 1505, and the announcement that a fleet of twenty ships would sail in April, 1506. A copy of this edition was sold at the Sobolewski sale in 1873 for 44 Thalers. See also Ternaux's "Bibliothèque Asiatique et Africaine," No. 75.

This edition contains the same woodcut on the title and fourth leaf, and the same map on the verso of the title as are in the other edition, but with a xylographic inscription to the map, according to Libri. For an extended note on the rarity and importance of this tract, see the catalogue of the reserved portion of the Libri collection (1862), No. 2. The copy there described sold for £10 10s.

REED (J.) Joseph Reed Defendant, } Argument for the De-Ad. John Reed. } fendant in Error.
[Philadelphia. 1768?] 4to, pp. 28. 68567

Relates to a dispute about a tract of land called "Tenicum." The appeal is signed "Joseph Reed. Propria Persona."

[REED (Joseph).] Remarks | on a | Late Publication | in the | Independent Gazetteer; | with a | Short Address | to the | People of | Pennsylvania, | on the many | Libels and Slanders | which have | lately appeared 'against the Author. | Philadelphia: | Printed by Francis Bailey, in Market-Street. | M,DCC,LXXXIII. | 8vo, pp. 72.

The occasion of the dispute was the assertion, by Gen. Cadwalader, that in December, 1776, before the battle of Trenton, General Reed was so much depressed by the sad state of American affairs as to meditate withdrawing from the service. This assertion General Reed denies in the above "Remarks;" and it has since been proved by Gen. W. S. Stryker that the disaffected person referred to was a New Jersey officer of the same name (see 68571, infra). It is a very rare piece. Menzies's copy sold for $20. According to Hildeburn's "Issues of the Press in Pennsylvania," a second edition was advertised in the "Pennsylvania Gazette" for February 25, 1783. For a reply see [Cadwalader (John)], Vol. III., No. 9836. Both were reprinted as follows:

The writer can see no cause for our revolution. Its origin he "attributes entirely to the acts of a few self-interested and designing men." ... "It is a singular fact in history," he continues, "that numbers of people should meet without laboring under any oppression but such as was merely speculative at most, and by the breathings of sedition and design, be inspired by a rage not to be paralleled, so as to submit to a total subversion of all their ancient laws and customs, and to throw off every trace of humanity." "Such bigoted advocates for the measures of administration will do us no service, nor the rebels any harm."—Monthly Review, LVII. 167. Reflections on the Present State of the American War. ... London: T. Payne. MDCCLXXVI. 8vo, pp. (2), 30. BA. 68708

Our No. 30149, Vol. VIII, describes this as by the Rev. J. Hampson, which is correct, but the work was anonymous. With proper determination the writer thinks that the Americans "can no more stand against the strength of this country (Great Britain) than light chaff against the impetuous whirlwind." ... "Let them then," he adds, "lay down their arms. Let them abandon their leaders of the revolt to the just vengeance of an insulted empire, and a veil may be indulgently cast over the delinquency of the rest."—Page 29. Regvla beatis-|simi patris nostri Augu|stini episcopi, & docto|ris ecclesiae, quam in|Africa apud Hip|ponē ciuitatē|aedidit & ppalauit. [Mexico: Juan Pablos. 1556.] 4to, 12 leaves.

Title within a woodcut border, with a woodcut of Saint Augustin on the verso. An "Epistolium typographi ad lectorem" begins on the verso of leaf 12 with "Ioannes Pavlvvs Biissensis Religioso lectori felicitatem exoptat aeternam," and ends with "Bene vale ex nra calchographica officina Nonis Augusti. Anno. D. 556. Finis totius operis ad summa Dei honorem et gloriam." Two other works evidently printed by the same printer in the same year are usually found bound with this. The first one begins on leaf 2 with "Incipit Prologus super Cōstitutiones fratrum haeremitarum, sancti patris nri Augustini Hiponensis episcopi et doctoris ecclesie," and contains 84 numbered leaves (signatures a-k in eights, and l in four). The second is entitled "Ordinarivm |sacri ordinis heremitarū|sancti Augustini episco|pi & regularis obser|uatie, nūc denuō|correctū, sic q̄|nō secūdum |morē an|tiquū|ce-|remonie fiant, sed se-|cūdū choros altos. |Mexici. anno. |dn̄i. 1556. |idibus |julij.," with this title printed in red within a woodcut border, and containing 40 numbered leaves (signatures A-D in eights). A set of the three works, lacking the title-page of the Constitutions and several other leaves, was described in Leclerc's "Bibliotheca Americana" for 1867, No. 1533, under the name of Franc. Alonso de la Vera Cruz; and again in the "Bibliotheca Americana" for 1878, No. 1295, where it was priced at 1,500 francs. In the Ramirez sale in 1880 a copy of the "Ordinarivm" was sold separately (No. 614) for £76; and the "Regula" and Constitutions together for £18. 10s., the latter lacking the title-page. Another edition of the "Regula" is said to have been printed in 1587. See Icazbalceta, "Bibliografía Mexicana del Siglo xvi," No. 26, pp. 66-67.

The compiler's principal authority was "an account of all the affairs in Orange-County ... written by one who speaks thus of himself: 'I have been so well acquainted with the whole affair, that I think no Man in the Province could give a better (that is a more authentick) relation of the matter'" —Husband himself, doubtless.—J. Collation: 302 unnumbered leaves, the last one blank. Signatures i in six (preceded by eight preliminary leaves), 2-4 and a-q in eights, r in six, A-B in eights, C in four, D-K in eights, L-M in sixes, aa-dd in eights, ee in four, and ff in six, including the blank leaf. Map and 2 diagram plates.

This is the first edition, as is expressly stated in the colophon. The verso of the woodcut title-page is blank. On the recto of the third leaf is another large woodcut, and on the verso a poem in twenty-two lines with the heading, "Suo Gregorio Reisch generosi Comitis | de Zolrn alumno : Adam Vuenherus | Temarensis. Salutem P. D." On the recto of leaf ff5 is an epigram by Paulus Volzcius addressed to "Georgium Reisch." Below this is the colophon, and on the verso the large woodcut device and monogram of the printer.

The woodcut map of the world has no outside border, but is surrounded by twelve heads with inscriptions, representing and naming the different winds. The engraved part measures 16½ by 11 inches. It shows Europe, Asia and Africa—the latter with the eastern coast line continued along the bottom and side of the map until it joins with Asia. On the lower part is the inscription which has been supposed to refer to the discovery of America: "Hic non terra sed mare est : in quo mire magnitudinis Insule, sed Ptolemeo fuerūt incognite." There is no allusion, however, to this matter in the book. West of Africa are the Insule fortunatę. The work is a sort of hand-book or encyclopædia of natural and moral philosophy, presented in dialogue form and illustrated with a large number of woodcuts. The twelve books in which it is divided relate to grammar, logic, rhetoric, artificial memory, correspondence, arithmetic, music, geometry, astronomy, cosmography, astrology, natural philosophy, chemistry, alchemy, botany, optics, mental philosophy, theology, and moral philosophy. The numerous editions which were published attest its popularity as a text-book during the early part of the sixteenth century. The map is often lacking. Denis, Panzer, Hain and some other bibliographers mention a supposed edition of Heidelberg, 1496—a mistake which originated from an imperfect description of the edition published at Strassburg by Schott in 1504. See D'Avezac, "Martin Hylacomylus, Waltzemüller," pp. 94-99. Mr. Murphy's copy sold for $26.

Map and a plate containing 2 diagrams.

An unauthorized reprint of the first edition, with the addition of a synopsis of Hebrew grammar in twenty leaves (on signatures Fix to Fxxviii). The large woodcut on the title was copied from the first edition, with slight variations. The woodcut map of the world was also reengraved from the one in the first edition. It is surrounded, however, by a black line border, and contains only four heads representing the four principal winds. In the first edition the seas and oceans are separated from the land by mere outlines, but in this one the water is distinguished by wavy lines. The inscriptions are the same in both. See D'Avezac, "Martin Hylacomylus, Waltzemüller," pp. 103-104; the Odell catalogue, No. 2159; Leclerc's "Bibliotheca Americana," 1878, No. 510.

Collation: 330 unnumbered leaves, the last one blank. Signatures a-c in sixes (preceded by six preliminary leaves), d-pp in eights, qq in six, rr in eight, ss in four, and tt in eight, including the blank leaf. Map and 2 diagram plates.

This is called the second edition, revised and enlarged by the author. The colophon closes with a caution referring evidently to the unauthorized edition printed in the same year by Grüninger. On the verso of the woodcut title are the twenty-two lines of verse with the heading, "Suo Gregorio Reisch generosi Comitis de|Zolrn alumno: Adam Vuernhetus Tema|rensis. Salutem. P. D.," and below, "Ex Heydelberga. iij. Kl. Ianuarias. m. cccc. lxxxvi." Leaf tt7 contains the large woodcut device and monogram of the printer. The woodcut map of the world is evidently from the same block as the one in Schott's first edition, with the twelve wind heads. The date on the verso of the title and the overlooking of the colophon in its obscure position, have led some bibliographers to the erroneous supposition that this edition was printed at Heidelberg in 1496. See D'Avezac, "Martin Hylacomylus, Waltzemüller," pp. 99-103.

The third authorized edition, revised by the author. On the verso of the title is a poem in forty-two lines, with the heading "Philesius vogesigena de laudibus & fructu Margarite philosophice," written by Mathias Ringmann, at that time professor of cosmography at Basle. The colophon is on the recto of leaf R7. The map is a reprint of the one in Schott's second edition, with the twelve wind heads. See D'Arvezac, "Martin Hylacomylus, Waltzemüller," pp. 99, 104-106.

Collation: 322 unnumbered leaves, including two blanks. The six preliminary leaves, of which the first and sixth are blank, are followed by signatures A-E in sixes, F in four, Gh in eight, I in six, K in four, L in six, M in eight, N-O in sixes, P in four, Q-S in sixes, T and V in eights, X in six, y and AA in eights, bb-cc in sixes, Grüniger's second edition, with improvements and additions. Among the latter was a treatise on architecture and perspective by Martinus Ilacomilus (Waltzemüller). The commendatory epigrams published in Schott's third edition, Basilicæ, 1508, were also reprinted entire, with the exception of the verses by Philesius, which were reduced from forty-two to thirty-eight lines by the omission of four lines in praise of Schott's edition. The map is a reprint of the one in Grüniger's first edition, with the four wind heads and plain border. Priced by a London bookseller, 1880, £4. See D'Avezac, "Martin Hylacomylus, Waltzemüller," pp. 106-110; and the Odell catalogue, No. 2160. According to D'Avezac, Humboldt ("Examen Critique," iv. 112, and "Cosmos," i. 444) mentions editions of Strasbourg, 1509 and 1513, which probably do not exist.

Grüniger's third edition. The title is within an ornamental woodcut border. The colophon is on the recto of signature k8, verso blank. The map of the world is the same as the one in Grüniger's earlier editions, containing the four wind heads, and surrounded by a plain border. Some copies are accompanied by an "Appendix," for a description of which see the note to the following edition.

Collation: 324 unnumbered leaves—comprising the first part in 260 leaves (signatures A in four, B–Z and a–k in eights), with a map and a plate containing 2 diagrams; and the Appendix in 64 leaves (signatures AB and CD in sixes, E–F in fours, G–H in sixes, I in four, K–N in sixes, and O in four), with a diagram entitled “Spera in plano.” Following sig. O is a folded sheet marked P, measuring about 11 by 21 inches and equivalent to six leaves, with five pages of text printed on the recto and a large woodcut map on the verso.

Grüninger's fourth edition, accompanied by an Appendix. The title is surrounded by the same border as in the edition of 1512. The colophon is on the recto of sig. k8, verso blank. The map of the world in the first part is like the one in Grüninger's other editions, with the four wind heads and the plain border. The new map of the world on signature P at the end of the volume is entitled: “Typvs vniuersalis terre iuxta modernorvm distinctionem et extensionem per regna et provincias.” On this portions of both American continents are shown, the northern one inscribed Zoana Mela, and the southern Paria seu Prisilia, Caput s. crucis, Baceia and Antropophagoꝝ maximū gen⁹ hic est. Two of the West India islands bear the name isabella. The five pages of text on the other side of the map begin with the heading “Noua terre descriptio | Noua terre succincta descriptio.” This important map is generally lacking. The only perfect copy I have seen of this edition is in the unrivalled collection of Mr. C. H. Kalbfleisch, of New York. The appendix was probably also issued separately for binding with the earlier editions.

The fourth authorized edition. The map is like the one in Schott's first edition, with the twelve wind heads. I am indebted to Mr. Geo. L. Burr for the above collation of a copy of this edition in the library of Andrew D. White, ex-president of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y. See the Odell catalogue, No. 2161. La Lande ("Bibliographie Astronomique") mentions an edition, Strasburg, 1520; and Niceron refers to one edited by Oronce Finé and published in 1523.

Collation: 40 preliminary leaves, and pp. 1-1498, followed by 4 unnumbered leaves, of which the third contains the colophon on the recto (verso blank), and the fourth the printer's mark on the verso (recto blank). Signatures a-e, A-Z, aa-zz, Aa-Zz, AA-ZZ, all in eights, and Aaa in twelve. 2 maps and a plate containing 2 diagrams.

The preface by Oronce Finé is dated "Parisijs ex regali collegio Nauarræ. 1523," which would seem to imply that there was an edition of that date. The text is preceded by an index in 36 leaves. The map of the world in the first part is like the one in the first edition, with the twelve wind heads. The "Appendices" fill pp. 1099-1498, and include: "Declaratio Specvli Orbis.compositi à Gualtero Lud. Canonico Deodatensi," pp. 1421-1424; "Nova Terræ descriptio ſecvndvm Neotericorum obſeruantiam," pp. 1433-1434, followed by a folded map, rudely engraved on wood, with the inscription in type at the top, "Typvs vniversalis terrae, iuxta modernorum distinctionem et extensionem per regna et provincias." This map contains a portion of America with the inscription Paria seu prisilla. On the lower margin is a list of names, also printed from type. This map appears to be an imitation on a small scale of the important map with the same heading in the edition of 1515. Pages 1440-1463 contain "Joannis Honter Coronensis Rvdimentorum Cosmographiae." La Lande ("Bibliographie Astronomique") mentions an edition of the "Margarita Philosophica" dated 1565.

The map "Typus Universalis Terrae" is probably the same as the one in the edition of 1535. Priced by a London bookseller, 1881, £6 10s.

THE JESUIT RELATIONS.

Relation de ce qui s'est passé en la Nouvelle France, etc.

Under this title were published most of the annual reports on the history and progress of the Jesuit missions in Canada, which were sent to the Provincial of the Order in France from 1632 to 1672. Many of the titles will be found in this Dictionary under the names of their respective authors or editors, and therefore will be but briefly referred to in the following chronological list of the entire series. For convenience of reference a number and date is prefixed to each title.

1. 1632.—Brieve Relation du Voyage de la Nouvelle France. Paris, 1632. See Le Jeune (P.), Vol. x., No. 39946, and for collation read : pp. 68, privilege (1). See also the "Mercure François," Vol. xviii., p. 56.

ii. 1633.—Relation de ce qui s'est passé en la Nouvelle France en ... 1633. Paris, 1634. See Le Jeune (P.), Vol. x., Nos. 39947, 39948. These two editions may also be distinguished apart by the errors in pagination. In No. 39947 (with vignette of a cupid on page 3), pp. 69, 122, 125-173, 174, 175-176, 193 and 211, are respectively misnumbered 66, 121, 225-273, 374, 275-276, 293 and 111, and page 94 is not paged. In No. 39948 (with vignette of a ram's head on page 3), pp. 67, 91, 128-176, and 192, are respectively misnumbered 97, 61, 228-276, and 191. There is a copy of the former in the John Carter Brown collection, and a copy of the latter in the Lenox Library. For an abridgment see the "Mercuré François," xix. 771-802.

iii. 1634.—Relation de ce qui s'est passé en la Nouvelle France, en ... 1634. Paris, 1635. See Le Jeune (P.), Vol. x., No. 39949, for title. There are two editions of this Relation. The first edition contains: Title, 1 leaf; privilege, 1 leaf; pp. 1-342. Signatures A-X in eights, and Y in six, beginning with page 1 and including three blank leaves at the end, one of which is usually pasted to the cover. Pages 132, 229, 321-322, and 335, are respectively misnumbered 312, 129, 323-324, and 33. The second edition contains: Title, 1 leaf; Table des chapitres, 1 leaf; pp. 1-342; Extrait du Priuilege du Roy, 1 leaf, verso blank. Signatures A-X in eights, and Y in six, beginning with page 1 and including two blank leaves at the end, which are usually pasted to the cover. Pages 220, 221, 281, 304, 310, and 321-336, are respectively misnumbered 200, 121, 283, 204, 210, and 323-338. These two editions, which agree line for line in the title, and nearly so in the text, may also be distinguished apart by the variations in the ending of the bottom lines of the following mentioned pages, those of the former being given first, and those of the latter in parentheses: p. 27, Sauuage, celuy de (Sauuage, celuy); p. 65, bebinbam, (bebinbā); p. 75, deriere le (derriere le); p. 81, d'autres, ie (me sentois ri-); p. 83, ce que c'e- (seulement qu'ils); p. 85, point par la (sort par la); p. 87, s'ils auoient (son ame); p. 89, haissoit (la froidure); p. 91, soufflant (mes allumet-); p. 93, cét Ours, (les femmes); p. 98, France d'vne (chapitre par vn); p. 104, s'occupans en (les peaux, &); p. 106, traitez com- (traitez comme); p. 109, que nous (m'ont repro-); p. 110, nous nous som- (verité nous); p. 136, trouuoit, les (enfants quand); p. 168, hor- (hors-); p. 170, de lôg, (de long); p. 207, chantoïët (chantoient); p. 279, croyons par- (croyôs par-); p. 326 [misnumbered 328 in the second edition], Hiroquois (sont point); p. 330 [misnumbered 332 in the second edition], point chercher (point charger); p. 341, langue Huron- (& ainsi). The two paragraphs beginning "Le premier de Iuillet," and "Le 24. du mesme mois" on pp. 326-327 of the first edition, were transposed in proper order in the second edition; and the top line on p. 342 of the former was placed at the bottom of p. 341 of the latter. There is a copy of the first edition in the Lenox Library which agrees with the copy described above, with the exception that pp. 66-67, 70-71 and 132 are misnumbered 67-68, 60-61 and 332. The variations in these two editions were first correctly noted by the late Dr. E. B. O'Callaghan. For another edition, printed at Avignon in 1636, see under 1635, infra.

iv. 1635.—Relation de ce qui e'est passé en la Nouvelle France en ... 1635. Paris, 1636. See Le Jeune (P.), Vol. x., No. 39950. Pages 1-112 contain the Relation signed by Paul Le Jeune and eighteen others, and dated August 28, 1635; pp. 113-206, "Relation de ce qui s'est passé aux Hurons, en ... 1635, ... par le P. Brebeuf;" pp. 207-219, "Relation de quelques particularitez, du lieu et des habitans de l'Isle du Cap Breton ... par le P. Julien Perrault;" pp. 220-246, "Divers sentimens et aduis des Pères qui sont en la Nouvelle-France." It was reprinted, together with the Relation of 1634, as follows:

[Relation] | de [ce qui s'est passé] | en [la Nouvelle France] | en [l'année 1634 et 1635.] | Enuoyée a[u R. Pere Provincial de] | la Compagnie [de Iesus en la] | Prouince de F[rance.] | Par le Pere le Ieyne de la m[esme] | Compagnie, Superieur de la | Residence de Kebec. | En Avignon, | De l'Imprimerie de Jacques Bramereau, | Imprimeur de sa Saincteté, de la Ville, & | Vniuersité. Avec permission des Superieurs | M. DC. xxxvi. | 8vo, pp. (10), 416. Sig. a in five, and A-Cc in eights. L. The imperfections in the title-page of this copy, which is believed to be the only one known, are supplied by con-lecture and enclosed in brackets. One of the preliminary leaves is also imperfect, and the two final leaves (pp. 413-416) are almost entirely lacking. Pages 1-269 contain the Relation of 1634, and pp. 271-416 the Relation of 1635 with its attendant pieces. Corrected title of No. 39951, Vol. x.

v. 1636.—Relation de ce qui s'est passé en la Nouvelle France en ... 1636. Paris, 1637. See Le Jeune (P.), Vol. x., No. 39952, and instead of pp. 172, read 272. For the other edition, which was printed in smaller type, instead of pp. (6), 199, (1), read pp. (4), 199, Relation ... des Hurons, 164. There is a complete copy of this in the British Museum.

vi. 1637.—Relation de ce qui s'est passé en la Nouvelle France en ... 1637. Rouen, 1638. See Le Jeune (P.), Vol. x., No. 39953. The two varieties there described vary only in the title-pages. Both contain a woodcut plate of fireworks between pages 18 and 19 of the first part, which also omits pages 193-196 in the pagination. "In the Bib. du Roi at Paris there was a copy having folio 1 of the first part double. The title to Chap. 1. was mil six cens trente sept—in the other trente six—the latter no doubt a mistake and intended to be cancelled."—Contributions to a Catalogue of the Lenox Library, No. II., p. 5.

vii. 1638.—Relation de ce qui s'est passé en la Nouvelle France en ... 1638. Paris, 1638. See Le Jeune (P.), Vol. x., Nos. 39954, 39955, for two different editions. For collation of No. 39954, read: Title, 1 leaf; table, 1 leaf; text, pp. 1-78; half title, 1 leaf; text of Huron Relation, pp. 1-67 [misnumbered 76], with privilege and permission on verso (signed "Bstienne Einet"). No. 39955 varies also in the eighth line of the title-page, which ends with "Iesvs" instead of "en." For collation read: title, 1 leaf; table, 1 leaf; text, pp. 1-78; half title, 1 leaf; text of Huron Relation, pp. 1-67, with privilege and permission on verso (signed "Estienne Binet"). Both agree in signatures: A-D in eights (beginning with page 1), E-F in fours, A-D in eights, and E in two. The following variations in the ending of the bottom lines will also serve to distinguish them apart, those of No. 39955 being enclosed in parentheses: p. 3, Baptême, (Baptisme,); p. 67, sont assez (nous l'auons); p. 68, Baptisme il (vn grand a-); p. 69, tellemêt (tellement); p. 37 of the second part, saint Baptisme, (S. Baptisme,); p. 39, tres-fidele (tres-fidelle); p. 61, Chrestienne, sans (Chrestienne, sans).

The large map of Lake Superior between pp. 110 and 111, is the same as the one in the preceding Relation for 1671. In some copies, however, it is said to exhibit a number of variations in the positions of the different missions, proving that it had been partly reengraved.

With the volume for 1672 the publication of the Relations was discontinued, privilege to print having perhaps been refused by the French Government. However, they continued for a number of years to be sent to the Provincial of the Order in France. Some of them were printed for the first time in the series of Relations printed for Mr. Lenox and for Dr. Shea, as described below, and in the "Relations Inédites de la Nouvelle-France (1672-1679)," Paris, 1861.

Relation de ce qui s'est passé de plus remarquable aux Missions des Pères de la Compagnie de Iesus, en la Nouvelle France, es années 1676 & 1677. Imprimée pour la première fois, selon la Copie du ms. original restant à l'Université-Laval Quebec. [Albany: Printed by Weed, Parsons & Co. 1854.] 12mo, pp. (2), 165, (1). Sixty copies were printed for Mr. James Lenox. For other Relations printed for him in 1854 and 1855, see Dreuilletes (G.), Vol. v., No. 20928, and Marquette (J.), Vol. xi., No. 44665; and for reprints of the Relations for 1655 and 1659 see Vol. x., Nos. 39991, 38683.

In the following brief list of Dr. Shea's "Cramoisy" series, 1857-1866, which comprises several of these additional Jesuit Relations, the titles are numbered merely for convenience of reference. They were not designated in that manner when they were printed, which will account for the different order in which they are sometimes arranged.

The earliest and one of the rarest of the Jesuit Relations of New France. A copy with the title-page in facsimile was priced by Leclerc in 1878 at 1,000 francs, and one was offered for sale with other Relations in Ellis's catalogue of American books for 1884, No. 254. There is also a copy in the Bibliothèque Nationale at Paris. It was reprinted in the "Relations des Jésuites," Quebec, 1858. It 1871, Mr. E. B. O'Callaghan had an edition of twenty-five copies reprinted at Albany, almost in facsimile, from a copy of the original edition in the library of Hon. Rufus King of Jamaica, N. Y. An edition of Lyon, 1612, has been mentioned by some bibliographers, but its existence is disproved by the fact that the Relation covers the years 1611, 1612, 1613 and 1614, in which latter year the author returned to France. These chronicles, published yearly at the Eastern and Michaelis Mass, by J. Franck, Theod. Meurer and M. Flotta ausz Engelland nach Virginia; 1609, Virginia, ein Landschafft Americae, wird von Engelländern wohnbar gemacht; 1613, Holländer von Engelländern vergewaltigt bei den Grönlandschen Insuln; 1614, Castell della Mina von Holländern erobert, etc., etc. Title and note from F. A complete and careful reprint, in double columns, of forty-three Relations. The two leaves containing the prefatory part of Biard's Relation are sometimes lacking, having been printed after the first volume was issued. The Relations for 1649 and 1650 were reprinted from copies with the additional letters, but those for 1665, 1666, 1667 and 1668 were made from copies without them, and the map of Lake Superior which belongs to the Relations of 1671 and 1672 is lacking.

"This is the most extraordinary and valuable collection of material, relating to the history and life of the Indians ever made. It is composed of the narratives of a class of men who, two centuries before what we boastingly term civilization, had prostrated the forests and exterminated their free occupants,—explored the vast territories covered by them, recorded the peculiarities of their natives, and in many instances bestowed the blessings of Christianity upon them. These Relations, for many years looked upon through the haze of sectarian distrust, were lightly esteemed by the students of American history, but the more their character and statements were investigated, the more important and valuable they appeared. They have become the sources from which we must draw almost all the historic material of New York and Canada, during the first century and a half of their exploration by Europeans. From the manuscript Relations sent to the head of the Order, small editions were printed in twelvemo by the Cramoisy Press. Copies of these have become exceedingly rare. It is not known that a perfect series exists in any library, although several collectors have closely approached completeness. The library of the Canadian government at Quebec had nearly the number forming the series, when its collection was destroyed in the great conflagration of 1854. It was to perpetuate these monuments of the early history of Canada, that Parliament ordered their publication in this form."—FIELD.

Sheet 1, pp. 57-64, is lacking in many copies. "This volume surpasses all others for valuable historical, geographical and bibliographical information respecting Nova Scotia or Acadia and part of Canada. The two maps on the same scale show clearly what is claimed by both parties, French and English. They cover the whole territory south of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, east of Lake Champlain, and north of Massachusetts, and include all the disputed tracts and grants of the English and French governments. The French map shows the English limits claimed in 1750 and 1751; limits of Acadia and Port Royal by the Treaty of Utrecht; limits of Nova Scotia as granted to Sir Wm. Alexander, 1621; Cromwell's grant to La Tour, Crown and Temple in 1656; the country restored to France by the Treaty of Breda; the government of Denys in 1654, Charnesay's in 1638, and La Tour's in 1638. The English map delineates Nova Scotia as claimed by the English by the Treaty of Utrecht, 1713; as granted to Sir Wm. Alexander, 1621; according to Champlain, 1603-1629; with the country west to the Penobscot; Acadia as granted by Louis XIII. and XIV., 1632-1710; enlarged to the Kennebeck by further grant to Stirling, 1635; Acadia proper according to the tripartite division named by Charlevoix; Charnesay's and La Tour's governments in 1638; Cromwell's grant to La Tour, Crown, and Temple in 1656; Acadia claimed by France at the Treaty of Breda, 1667; Norembega, between the Penobscot and Kennebeck; and the Etchemin's coast according to Champlain and Denys. The text well illustrates and explains these two maps."—H. STEVENS. See "Monthly Review," xiv. 265.
